Judge Sam White, democratic presidential elector, who is here today as his party's representative at the fair, has just returned from an extended trip through the east and to his old home in Georgia. While away he paid close attention to the political pulse and he is filled with hope for the success of Bryan.

"While in Ohio, Illinois and down in New York," said he, "I talked with many men of all parties and tried to get unbiased views. I found that public sentiment is turning strong towards Bryan and that there is a general lack of enthusiasm among republicans."

EPISCOPALS HOLD CONVOCATION

MINISTER OF EIGHTY SUMMERS DELIVERS SERMON

First Convocation of Eastern Oregon Missionary District Opened in This City Last Evening—Interesting Papers Mark Opening Session—Feature of Today's Meetings Were Addresses by Pioneer Missionary and Bishop.

The first convocation of the eastern Oregon missionary district of the Episcopal church is being held today in the Church of the Redeemer by the Right Rev. R. L. Paddock presiding as ex-officio president.

There was an evening service last night at which two very interesting papers were read. One was by the Rev. Mr. Barry of Baker City upon the "Past History of Eastern Oregon" with particular reference to the beginning of the church work in this field.

The other paper was by Rev. Chas. Quinney, rector of the Church of the Redeemer on "Tithing." Both papers were very able and most interesting to those who heard them.

The services today were a brief morning service and communion at 10 o'clock with a sermon by the Rev. R. D. Nevius, who was a pioneer missionary in eastern Oregon and is now over 81 years old. Despite his advanced age he is remarkably strong and vigorous and his sermon was delivered with a strong, clear voice, made beautiful and sublime but not impaired by the weight of years.

Bishop Paddock introduced Dr. Nevius in a very tender and complimentary manner, which must have been very gratifying to him as it was also to many of the people present who knew him.

The aged speaker took the 180th psalm for his text, reading the whole psalm for his text, reading the whole passage and giving it a special meaning for the occasion. From first to last the sermon was filled with the deepest meaning and he was given the most careful attention at all times.

Bishop Paddock delivered an address at 2 o'clock this afternoon and at 3 o'clock the woman's auxiliary

NEGROES WANT DOLLS WITH NEGRO FEATURES

At the meeting of the Colored National Baptist association, composed of colored leaders from all parts of the world, recently held at Lexington, Kentucky, the following resolution was passed:

"Whereas, our publishing board at Nashville, Tenn., under the management of Dr. R. H. Boyd, is prepared to supply a long-felt need in a factory for negro dolls; and

"Whereas, our people for nearly a half century, because of the uncomely and deformed features of negro dolls, have spent thousands of dollars on white dolls for Christmas, etc., therefore be it

"Resolved, That we do here and now give our indorsement and hearty approval of the negro doll factory, and not only urge the patronage of the people of our churches at Baptists, but of the race at large throughout the United States."
