INDIANS MIX IN RAGE OF DEATH

MITCHELL LLOYD MAY DIE FROM RIDING ACCIDENT

Well Known Umatilla Indian Is Thrown From Horse on Slippery Pavement and Friend Following on Run Is Unable to Avoid Mixup in Which Both Were Injured - Outcome Yet Unknown.

Mitchell Lloyd, a well known Umatilla Indian, is near death as the result of an accident witnessed by scores of people returning to their homes from the dance Saturday night just at midnight. Lucian Williams, was also severely injured, one leg being badly crushed and broken in three places. The two Indians had just mounted their horses at the old Knowlton stable on Cottonwood street and according to an all too frequent Indian custom were going out of town on the run. In trying to make the turn after striking the pavement on Court street, the feet flew out from under the horse Lloyd was riding, causing horse and rider to go down in a heap. So close behind was Williams that his horse could neither stop or turn to one side so fell over the fallen animal, precipitating his rider into the whirling mass of horses and Indians. For a time it was supposed that both Indians had been killed outright, but Williams regained consciousness soon after being taken to the hospital and is now resting easy. Lloyd, on the other hand, is suffering from a contusion of the brain and possible basal fracture of the skull. He is still unconscious today, though he was able to swallow for the first time this morning and when spoken to seems to know that he has been addressed. Up to last night it was supposed he would never regain consciousness, but his physician, Dr. E. A. Parker now has hopes of the ultimate recovery. Williams took part in the bronco busting contest Saturday afternoon and will be remembered by those present, after making a pretty ride while his mount bucked across the ball park. Will Try Alaska Wheat. J. M. Hayes has secured two small samples of the Alaska wheat, which will be tried on the farms of Dan Gerking and Frank Berlin, near Athena. Though agricultural experts have pronounced this wheat a failure so far as it can be used in the manufacture of flour, there are a large number of farmers who believe a profitable use will yet be found for it. Election Notices. Deputy County Clerk Brown is now busily engaged in preparing the notices for the presidential election, which will soon be posted by the sheriff and his deputies in every precinct in the county. The large number of notices for each precinct makes the task a hard one. Sheriff-Baldwin. Fred S. Shrier and Miss Laura Baldwin were married by Justice of the Peace Parkes in his office Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Palmer of the Umatilla ranch near Fosters, spent Saturday evening in Pendleton in attendance at the fair.

Swazey was a guest of Hotel Pendleton yesterday, returning last evening to his home in Hermiston, after caring for business matters here. T. R. Eastman, president and manager of the Schwabacher company of Walla Walla, is a guest of the St. George while in the city today on a business trip. E. K. Lorimer, formerly of this city but now engaged in business in Spokane, came down from that city Saturday evening and is the guest of Pendleton friends. Miss Edna Saling, the eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Saling, has been ill with typhoid fever for two weeks, but is now said to be getting along nicely. M. J. Carney, of the Carney & Kennedy livery stables, went out to Pilot Rock on the O. R. & N. train this morning, in the interest of the Pilot Rock-Ukiah stage line. George Hunter, the well known sheepman, who has been out on the range nearly all summer for the Rugg brothers, is in the city, but will go out again in a couple of days for the Stanfield brothers. John Allen of northern Texas, formerly of The Dalles, is a guest of Judd Fish of the Bowman while here for a short time on business. He has invested heavily in Texas land and has prospered since going to that state. Rev. George T. Ellis, who is well known here, passed through the city today en route to Athena. After a few days spent in the former city he returns to La Grande for a short visit and then goes back to Baker City, where he will be permanently located.—La Grande Observer. The Rev. Dr. Nevius, who was intending to come here last night and remain over Sunday as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jap Stevens, was unable to do so, having been taken seriously ill in Pendleton, where he was attending the Episcopal convocation and preached the convention sermon.—La Grande Observer. E. J. Saunders of Pendleton, a brother of Mrs. James Fitzpatrick of Lostine, was in the city Friday of last week on his return home from a visit with his sister. He came in on the excursion, went to Lostine, and stopped in Walla Walla for a visit with Dr. Greig and others whom he had

ATTEMPT AT KICKING CAUSES BROKEN ARM.

Freewater, Ore., Oct. 4.—Thomas Hankie, a young fellow who has been employed by James Kirk of Vinant, to drive the derrick and whose parents reside a short distance below town, had his arm broken yesterday while playing with another lad named Harris. They began by throwing peaches at each other and then while running Hankie tried to kick Harris, who caught his foot in his hand, throwing him to the ground and breaking both bones in his arm and dislocating his wrist. Mrs. Hankie, the boy's mother, came to town last night and swore out a warrant for the arrest of young Harris.

GWINN BUYS SECTION OF ALBERTA LAND.

Montie B. Gwinn, president of the Oregon Bankers' association, and also president of the American National bank of this city, has just purchased a section of wheat land on the Canadian Pacific tract 20 miles east of Calgary and only four miles from Cheadle, a station on the main line of the Canadian Pacific railroad. He is well pleased with his purchase and looks for land prices to advance greatly in that section in the next few years. Mr. Gwinn purchased his land through Jonathan Johnston of this city and Walla Walla, who represents the Canadian Pacific land department in this territory.

CROWD GOES WILD OVER DEBS' RED SPECIAL TRAIN.

New York, Oct. 5.—There was a wild scene in the Grand Central railroad station today when Eugene V. Debs, socialist candidate for president, arrived here on his famous "red special" after a speaking trip through the western states. A crowd had congregated to receive the candidate and in the stampede to greet Debs the insufficient police lines were swept away, men and women were knocked down helplessly, their clothing torn and a number were slightly injured.

BARN BURNS AT BARNHART STATION LAST EVENING.

A fire, meagre particulars of which only have been received here, destroyed the barn of William Grigsby at Barnhart, last night. The origin of the fire as well as the amount of hay and other things contained in the barn are unknown. The structure was valued at $5000 and so far as is known only insurance carried on the barn or contents was $300 in the Oregon Fire Relief association, represented by Coult's & Hayes. The total loss will probably be close to $1000 and if any horses or cattle burned it will be still greater.

Husband Guilty; Wife Insane.

Boise, Oct. 5.—The same day that John Fleming was found guilty in Shoshone county of murder in the first degree, meaning death, his wife was adjudged insane and committed to the state asylum. Fleming was convicted Saturday. He shot and killed Frank Langford, who was passing his ranch. They had quarreled over an irrigation ditch.

Pioneer Passes Away.

Portland, Oct. 5.—Joseph Misner, one of the best known residents of Portland, died at his home here Saturday from heart failure, after an extended illness. He had resided here continuously since 1875 except a short time during which he lived at Boise, La Grande, Baker City and in the Puget Sound country.

Nominees Will Not Serve.

Boston, Oct. 5.—The democratic party of Massachusetts is casting out for two presidential electors to take the places of Ferdinand and Strauss, and Charles A. Davis, who resigned, declaring they could not vote for William Jennings Bryan. Mr. Strauss has always been a democrat.

HUBBY AND WIFE MAKE LOUD SCENE

QUARREL OVER CHILDREN EXCITES MANY PEOPLE

Woman Leaves Husband for Pendleton to Make Home and Brings Children Along, But Only Through Interference of Other Passengers, Who Keep Father at Distance—Both Wanted Youngsters.

While the Pendleton-bound passenger train was pulling out of Walla Walla yesterday afternoon a man named Nelson created a lively scene at the depot, according to a report received from Walla Walla. The wife was bound for this city and the husband undertook to use forcible means to prevent her taking their two children with them. "A gray haired and irate husband, a runaway wife, her gentleman friend, two small children, a crowd of indignant women, a negro baggage man and several masculine witnesses were the principals of an "affair" which might have ended in a tragedy had it not been for the interference of several present, in the O. R. & N. depot yesterday afternoon just previous to the arrival of the Spokane-Pendleton train," says the Morning Union.

Continuing the story recites that the couple had previously lived in North Yakima, but because of disparity in their ages had failed to agree. When the husband's remonstrances against taking the children away were ignored by his wife, he undertook to take them from the woman by force. However, bystanders interfered and he was made to desist. The mother and children then boarded the train for this city.

CONGRESSMAN ELLIS WILL TALK FOR TAFT AND SHERMAN

Congressman W. R. Ellis is now arranging to take the stump in Oregon in behalf of the republican presidential ticket and he will begin his campaign the latter part of this week. Leaving here the latter part of the week Judge Ellis will attend the Mayville fair and from there will go to western Oregon. His complete itinerary has not yet been arranged, but he will probably spend most of his time in the Columbia river counties and down the valley. It is also the intention to have him speak in Coos county. George R. Roberts, the well known real estate dealer, went down to Nollis this morning on a business trip.
