TRACK TOUTS TRY TO TAKE A TRAIN

CONDUCTOR WAFFLE EQUAL TO THE OCCASION

Gamblers, Dead Beats and Racetrack Hangers-on Passing From Walla Walla to Boise, Attempted to Secure Free Rides from Pendleton on East—Officers from La Grande and Baker Make Arrests.

Greek met Greek on eastbound passenger train No. 2 Sunday when a party of racing touts boarded the train with the firm intention of running it themselves, but found a firm obstacle in the person of Conductor Fred Waffle, who was in charge. As the result several of the touts are in jail at La Grande, while others paid their fare and went peaceably on out of the conductor's division.

Trouble, however, threatened until officers from La Grande and Baker city were summoned and arrests were made where the men were most troublesome.

Upon boarding the train at this station the touts rushed through the cars securing the hat checks of the passengers. Conductor Waffle settled with a number of them when reaching La Grande by causing their arrest and removal from the train. Enough, however, remained to make more trouble for the conductor.

Brakeman Roughly Used.
When the train was between La Grande and Union several of the touts beat up the brakeman, and it was only through cool work on the conductor's part that the whole crew was not badly worsted.

Sheriff Rand and Deputy Ike McCord left Baker on No. 5 and met the eastbound passenger at Telocaset where a number of the gang were taken off and sent back to La Grande to be held for trial. The remainder were forced to purchase tickets, that ending the trouble.

The Baker City police were summoned to the station to be ready should disorder arise on the train, but all the would-be touts were as calm as deacons when the train reached there.

Used to Be Common Thing.
In speaking of the matter, according to the Baker City Herald, Conductor Waffle said such practice used to be common and many times a train crew has found itself almost wholly at the mercy of an organized band of hoboes. In recent years the practice has been broken up to a great extent and the experience Sunday night was the first of record on this system for a long time.

FUNERAL OF MRS. AYERS.

Private Car of Superintendent Campbell Conveys Remains to Heppner.

At the Methodist church in Heppner Sunday were held the funeral services of Mrs. Thomas W. Ayers, whose body was taken to that city for burial Sunday. Interment was made in the Heppner cemetery.

The funeral party was escorted to the depot in this city Sunday morning by a party of 100 Elks and the trip to Heppner was made in the private car of Superintendent Campbell of the O. R. & N., who kindly placed it at the service of the sorrowing relatives of the deceased. From the Willows the car was attached to a special train into Heppner.

SHEEP COMMISSION HEADQUARTERS CHANGED.

Dr. Lytle and Attorney Dan P. Smythe have given up their office in the American National bank building and secured the rooms formerly occupied by the Brain Detective service company in the same building. The room vacated will be thrown into the private office of Mr. N. C. Richards of Raley, Richards & Raley.

Seth Richardson Touched.

While returning from the Walla Walla fair Sunday Seth Richardson was the victim of a pickpocket, who relieved him of a small sum by a neat trick. The pickpocket was one of a party of racing touts passing through Pendleton from Walla Walla to the Boise fair. In the crush he succeeded in securing Mr. Richardson's purse and contents, amounting to about $4.50.

A Halloween Masquerade.

Pendleton circle No. 527, Women of Woodcraft, will entertain its friends at a Halloween masquerade in Earle's hall, Friday evening, October 20. Refreshments will be served during the evening, and prizes will be given to the most successful masqueraders.

SCANT CHEERING FOR FULTON

ATTACK ON BANK GUARANTY GREETED WITH SILENCE

Crowd of 300 Brave Cold and Wind to Hear Retiring Senator Speak in Behalf of Candidacy of Man He Denies Having Called "Weak Sister"—Speaker Evades Answering Pertinent Questions from Gallery and Wins a Laugh.

Not one cheer greeted Senator Fulton, not one hand clap, not one approving murmur last evening when he finished his attack upon the democratic plan of guaranty of bank deposits, and it was not until the senator retorted to a query from the gallery, cleverly dodging the question of why the postal saving plan had never before been advanced by the republicans with the stereotyped reply of "What has the democratic party done?" that his audience roused from its unresponsive mood and shouted at the thought of the discomfort any doubting Thomas must have suffered from that reply.

The meeting, which was held under the auspices of the Taft and Sherman club, was prefaced by a parade of that organization, headed by the Pendleton band, which acted as an escort to the speaker. There were 50 of the old guard in the parade and 10 boys of the young men's club.

The audience filled the first floor of the theater and consisted of about 300 people. The speaker was introduced by President Richards of the Taft and Sherman club.

Attacks Mr. Bryan.

Opening under the guise of absolute fairness in declaring that Mr. Bryan had no connection with Standard Oil or that he knew anything of Mr. Haskell's alleged connection, Mr. Fulton said that he would be belittling himself and insulting the intelligence of the people to accuse the democratic standard bearer of such dishonesty, yet during the course of an elaborate speech completely boxed the compass and accused Mr. Bryan of "intellectual dishonesty," declared that "he has not that high integrity of character that is necessary for a statesman or a political leader" and that he was a man of "half baked ideas," a false prophet, a failure and with but one fixed principle, that of personal advancement to the presidency.

Business Depression Threatens.

The speaker opened his discussion delving into history, and the theories of government advanced by the two great parties. By adroitly presenting his case he for more than an hour preached the doctrine of the general prosperity of the government under republican rule, inferring that to elect Mr. Bryan was to invite a closing down of all business and a recurrence of panic and depression.

Hearers Do Not Respond.

After an hour of reeling contemplation of the glories of the republican past Senator Fulton took up the question of bank guaranty, declaring that the depositor must pay the amount needed for such guaranty and adroitly representing that such a sum would be equivalent necessarily to from 25 to 40 per cent of the deposits.

Back to Protection.

Senator Fulton disposed of the democratic doctrine that the tariff was the mother of trusts by stating that of the 250 trusts recognized by the Americans as bad, two, Standard Oil and Anthracite coal, were in lines not protected by tariff. He rapidly turned to the question of labor and again urged the protective tariff as a cure for such evils as labor was heir to, under present conditions, declaring that it was far more important to the laboring man than any injunction law or other relief asked by labor. Again reverting to Mr. Bryan, whom he designated as an absolute failure, the speaker brought his remarks to a close with an eloquent laudation of the virtues and talents of Mr. Taft.

NEW PEOPLE ARRIVING LAND VALUES ADVANCING

Two Recent Real Estate Transfers Show Upward Tendency of Prices—Small Farm Recently Purchased for 85 Per Acre Sells for $200—General Conditions Becoming More Lively.

Things are becoming lively in the west end of the county. Though conditions are generally regarded as quiet in that section, yet a number of new people are arriving and land values are steadily advancing.

Two deals recently made in that section of the county show the upward tendency of prices. S. D. L. Ross, who had an 80-acre ranch between Hermiston and Echo, has just sold it for the sum of $10,000, or at $125 per acre.

On the Ross ranch only 20 acres was improved and it was in alfalfa. In view of this fact the price is considered to have been a good one. The ranch was purchased by neighbors.

For the price of $200 per acre, Dr. M. S. Kern recently sold a 13-acre tract near Hermiston to Col. H. G. Newport. Only seven months previously Dr. Kern purchased the same land for $85 per acre. However, he had improved the place by setting out 3000 grape vines.

Other west end realty deals also show a steady advance in land values in that section.

A FACT PROVEN.

Should Convince Even the Most Skeptical of Its Truth.

If there is the slightest doubt in the minds of any that Dandruff germs do not exist, their belief is compelled by the fact that a rabbit inoculated with the germs became bald in six weeks' time. It must be apparent to any person therefore that the only prevention of baldness is the destruction of the germs which cause it. This is successfully accomplished in one hundred per cent of cases by the application of Newbro's Herpetide. Dandruff is caused by the same germ which causes baldness and can be prevented with the same remedy—Newbro's Herpetide.
