VICTORY GAME AS BIG SURPRISE

LOCAL ENTHUSIASTS EXPECTED DEFEAT
Pendleton High School Eleven the Better Team By More Than Saturday's Score of 10 to 6 Would Indicate—Weston Normal's Heavier and Victorious Team Was Given Surprise of Its Life—Old Style Game Played.

Pendleton high school's clean cut victory over the Weston Normal eleven Saturday on Matlock field was frankly a surprise to local football fanatics, who, while expecting to see a close game, had figured the dope as being strong for Weston, although they did expect a close score. As it was the relatively close score of Saturday does not give an adequate idea of the superiority of the locals over the heavier and older pedagogues.

When the two teams lined up on the field Weston sports were not having an easy time placing the money they had brought with them. Within one minute's play, however, there was a plethora of Pendleton money and no takers, and not for one moment after that was there a bit of doubt or discouragement among Pendleton rooters, not even when Niles broke free for his long run down the field for a touchdown on a beautiful forward pass, for in the attacks on Weston's line the green and orange lads were playing circles around their opponents.

Throughout the session the ball was in Pendleton's possession by far the greater portion of the time, and Captain Baker was able almost at will to play the tackles through the line for good gains. Indeed the lo-

CANNED HIS SPELL

Manager of Camerograph Company Evaded Police Restriction.

Necessity is the mother of invention, and acting under that stress Saturday the manager of the Pyles Camerograph company at the Eldson cleverly evaded the police restriction against "spellers" before the moving picture shows of this city.

When the company opened its engagement in Pendleton the manager acted as speller until warned not to do so by Chief of Police Gurdane. He then sought counsel of City Attorney Roy Raley.

"But you let these other fellows use their phonographs and pianos," he protested, when the city attorney declared that "spelling" would not go.

"You are perfectly at liberty to use a phonograph or piano," sagely answered the man of law.

The answer was an inspiration to the manager. He proceeded to secure a phonograph, made a couple of records of his spell and from that hour canned spellbinding set forth the attractions at the Eldson in artistic manner and saved the speller's voice in the bargain.

ROY RITNER HOME FROM EASTERN TRIP

Roy Ritner returned yesterday from a three months' trip in the east, having made the journey as a representative from Oregon to the national convention of Redmen, which met in Bridgeport Connecticut during the month of August.

Mr. Ritner visited in New York city, and saw several big ball games there; also took in Washington, and stopped at Detroit and Chicago on his way home. He enjoyed the visit immensely. During most of the trip he was accompanied by Warren Brown, formerly with the reclamation service at Hermiston, but now stationed on the Yuma project.

AN OLD TIME CAMPAIGN RALLY

PARADE AND FIREWORKS BRING OUT BIG CROWD.

Oregon Theater Crowded—R. R. Butler and Judge McGinn Spoke for Four Hours in Behalf of the Republican Candidates—Portland Judge Defends Taft's Labor Record.

"Whoop'er up" was the key of the big republican rally Saturday evening at which R. R. Butler, republican candidate for presidential elector and Judge Henry McGinn, were speakers. And the republicans did "whoop'er up."

Not one stone was left unturned by the local managers to secure to the speakers as big a crowd as was possible, with the result that the opera house was crowded.

At 7 o'clock the festivities were opened with a parade characterized by Judge McGinn as the greatest thing of the sort he had seen since '96, and which he frankly admitted in private was a better showing than could be made in the same cause in Portland.

It was a great occasion for the small boy—a regular circus parade with Fourth of July celebration attached. Headed by the party leaders in automobiles, behind which marched the band playing spirited and martial airs and 130 men with torches. There were 10 automobiles in the parade, and prominent in each was a transparency predicting ruin in event of Mr. Bryan's election, or conjuring up the ghost of past panics.

Illuminated Parade. The parade formed at the republican headquarters on Court street and marched to the Bowman hotel corner when it turned retracing its steps to the opera house. The line of march was illuminated with Roman candles by friends of the marchers along the street, and many of those in the procession shot the colored balls of fire out along their line of march. During the progress of the marchers several giant firecrackers were touched off.

Prominent in the parade were many out-of-town republicans who had made a visit to Pendleton for the purpose of attending the meeting. The success of the leader's plans was shown in the fact that a good audience greeted the speakers at the opera house, when the meeting was called to order by Chairman Richards, president of the Taft and Sherman clubs of the county.

Mr. Butler, who is eastern Oregon's candidate for presidential elector, in an able way made the conventional republican campaign speech. Through it all stalked the bugaboo of "hard times" which the speaker declared would surely follow in case of Bryan's election.

McGinn Defends Taft. Judge McGinn, who followed Mr. Butler, spoke on decidedly different and broader lines, discussing for the most part Judge Taft's labor record while on and off the federal bench. Judge McGinn is an enthusiastic and warm admirer of Judge Taft, and devoted a portion of his discussion to fulsome praise of the candidate. He appealed for support for the republican ticket upon the record of the Roosevelt administration and in view of the fact that Judge Taft was Mr. Roosevelt's personal candidate. The discussion was scholarly, and remarkable in being in its first instance an appeal rather to the brains than to the prejudices of his hearers.

ONE SUPERVISOR FOR ALL ROADS

RECOMMENDATION BY GOOD ROADS ASSOCIATION

Effective Organization for Better Highways Secured and Resolutions Passed at Special meeting Saturday Afternoon—Dirt Roads, Finance, Legislative and Membership Committees Are Appointed.

That one road supervisor should direct the work of the entire county was urged by the Umatilla County Good Roads association in a resolution passed Saturday afternoon at a special meeting called by President H. J. Taylor and held in the rooms of the Commercial association. Other steps toward securing an effective organization in the good roads movement were taken.

Several representative business men and farmers were in attendance, and County Judge Gilliland and Commissioners Lee and Walker, who were present, assured the association of a hearty desire on the part of the county to cooperate in the work.

With Jesse Hales as chairman, a committee was appointed to report upon the advisability of and problems connected with building dirt roads together with that of special district taxes to cover the cost of the work. The other members of the committee are Dave Nelson and Frank Sherman.

President Taylor will serve as chairman of the committee on legislation which consists of the president, Dr. C. J. Smith, Dr. W. G. Cole, L. L. Mann and G. W. Phelps.

Montie B. Gwinn will act as chairman of the finance committee and Charles McLeavy, Jim Llewallen and E. L. Smith will be co-workers.

The ladies were given the task of securing membership to the association and on the membership committee with Mrs. Sam Thompson as chairman were appointed Mrs. W. J. Furnish and Mrs. Gideon Brown.
