WHEAT FUTURES

LACK OF DEMAND CAUSES DULLNESS IN CASH SALES
 Small Demand from California Added to Export Activity Send November and December Options Skyward—Foreign Markets Continue to Influence Chicago Quotations—Portland Sheep Market Baffles Explanation.

Portland, Oregon, November 16.—Late purchases of exporters and the resumption of buying on a small scale by southern parties brought about an improved feeling in the local wheat market today with futures showing an advance of 1-8c for both the November and December options on the board of trade. For the former 91 5-8c was bid and for the latter 92c. While cash wheat market is rather steady, the tone is dull at the moment and there was no change in prices for the day.
 Cash oats market, while not very active, is disposed to show considerable firmness from a seller's point of view for holders are not offering to any extent and therefore those who want to buy are naturally forced to pay the top price.
 On the board of trade today, following a better feeling in San Francisco with higher prices, the local market for oats future is higher. November bids climbed to $1.55 as compared with $1.53 3-4 on Saturday while the December went to $1.57 1/2 compared with $1.55 at the previous closing.
 Barley prices were higher in San Francisco today and on this account local interests were willing to bid fractionally higher for futures, although spot stock remains firm but unchanged at $26.50. On the local board of trade today November barley bids advanced from $1.32 1/2 to $1.33 3-4, while the December went to $1.36 1/2 compared with a bid of $1.35 on Saturday.

In Chicago.
 Chicago, Nov. 16.—As far as the opening was concerned the wheat market was firm with prices higher. Foreign markets continue to be an influence, but unless the tone abroad is very decided one way or the other the market here is quite likely to go contrary to such influences. Today Liverpool was quite firm with the closing 1/4 above Saturday for the March and May options.
 The weaker cash market at home and the slowness thereof was one of the bear arguments for the day. At St. Louis cash stuff was 1/2c to 1c below Saturday and at other points buyers were disposed to hold aloft as much as possible.
 On passage wheat shows a decrease of $0.099 bushels; corn, 65,000 bushels.
 The American visible supply shows: Wheat—Increased 1,124,000 bushels.
 Corn—Increased 257,000 bushels.
 Oats—Decreased 163,000 bushels.
Sheep Market a Mystery.
 Portland Union Stockyards, No. 16.—The first day of the week shows a clearer outlook for both hogs and cattle in the local yards, but sheep remain quiet.
 The course of the sheep market thus far this season has been very much of a mystery to the trade here. Dealers who have been buying and selling sheep for many years assert that the present season is the oddest they have experienced, and they scarcely know what to think.
 "It's rather queer the way the sheep market has been ruling of late," says Tom Benson, one of the old timers in the buying line. "The receipts this season have been entirely out of line with former years and the dullness has been more intense. Sheep supplies have been nominal in the yards here for so long that it is a wonder how little prices are encouraged. Even with a very small run the killers have shown but little disposition to enter the market and in this way prices have remained practically unchanged for long periods."
Improvement Long Overdue.
 The fact that during the past week there has been a fundamental improvement in the demand for price for the better class of sheep may possibly mean that the long expected and long delayed improvement in the sheep market is to take place.
 Hog market is quite good today with the tone steady to firm at $6.25

Habitual Constipation
 May be permanently overcome by proper personal efforts with the assistance of the one truly beneficial laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna which enables one to form regular habits daily so that assistance to nature may be gradually dispensed with when no longer needed as the best of remedies, when required, are to assist nature and not to supplant the natural functions, which must depend ultimately upon proper nourishment, proper efforts, and right living generally.
 To get its beneficial effects, always buy the genuine for best stock. The entire hog market is feeling somewhat livelier but prices ruling today are practically the same as in effect on Saturday.

 While prices are inactive in the cattle market, an improved feeling is shown in the buying demand. z

AT HUSBAND'S AFFINITY MRS. DIXON TOOK A SHOT

Missed Her Rival, But Came Nearly Robbing Atlanta of Officer Maddox's Services.
 Claiming that another woman, Cecil Bailey, had alienated the affections of her husband, Mrs. W. Thomas Dixon went with Call Officer George Maddox yesterday morning, about 10 o'clock, to the residence of the Bailey woman, corner of Decatur and Butler streets, and took a hasty shot at her rival, barely missing her and grazing the face of Officer Maddox, over whose shoulder she shot, says the Atlanta Constitution. Officer Maddox succeeded in taking the pistol from Mrs. Dixon. Mrs. Dixon's husband was in a room with Miss Bailey and the man and women were taken to the police station, where Dixon and the Bailey woman were bound over in the sum of $300, and Mrs. Dixon was bound over on the charge of shooting at another and carrying concealed weapons, with bond fixed at $200.
 That a tragedy was averted is considered marvelous by Officer Maddox. Mrs. Dixon pulled a 32-caliber revolver from the folds of her dress and without warning shot at her rival. The latter dodged behind Dixon and at this juncture Officer Maddox wrested the smoking revolver from Mrs. Dixon's hand. Mrs. Dixon is said to have expressed the wish that she had killed both her husband and Miss Bailey.
 A short time after this trouble Captain J. W. Norman led a detail of policemen to the place and raided it. Everybody in the place was arrested.

RAILROAD SURVEYS.

Preliminary Surveys from Huckleberry Flat to Prairie City.
 Jos. Reese is running some surveys from Huckleberry Flat to Prairie City in order to establish the feasibility of the Sumpter Valley railroad making this their route of entry into the valley in the extension work they have in contemplation next spring, says the Blue Mountain Eagle.
 Huckleberry Flat is about nine miles northeast of Prairie, with an elevation of about 1800 feet above the town so that it will be necessary to switchback in order to make the grades practicable. Mr. Reese will submit his grades to the railroad officials and it seems to be the belief of many that this will be the route selected. There are and have been several routes under consideration and it is expected that the route selected will be announced this winter.

A MAN MAY RESIST AN ILLEGAL ARREST

Court of Appeals Makes That Decision in Julius Holmes' Case.
 The court of appeals held yesterday that a man may resist an illegal arrest with as much force as is necessary to preserve his freedom, says the Atlanta Constitution. If an officer or private citizen shoots at him in the effort to illegally capture him, he may return the fire.
 The court therefore held that the negro, Julius Holmes, who escaped from his home at Macon and was pursued through the streets and shot at, and who, in turn, fired and killed a white man named Wimberly, who was assisting the officers in their attempt at a capture, was justifiable.
 Holmes was living in a room separated only by a partition from that of a negro woman. His neighbor asked that he be arrested, charging that he had cursed her. When the officers appeared without a warrant to make the arrest for this small violation of a municipal ordinance, Holmes resisted. In attempting to evade arrest he ran. The officers pursued and a man named Wimberly joined them. When they fired on Holmes the negro turned and engaged in a duel in which Wimberly was killed. Holmes was

The Swine or the Flower?

Ah me! I saw a huge and loathsome sty, Wherein a drove of wallowing swine were barred, Whose banquet shocked the nostril and the eye; Then spoke a voice, "Behold the source of lard!" I fled, and saw a field that seemed at first One glistening mass of roses pure and white, With dewy buds 'mid dark green foliage nursed; And, as I lingered o'er the lovely sight, The summer breeze, that cooled that Southern scene, Whispered, "Behold the source of COTTOLENE!"
