

CLUB WHEAT AT RATE OF $1.30

SALES AT THIS RATE AT INTERIOR POINTS

Barley Makes Big Advance During Week, Due to Lack of Supplies—Further Advance Expected in Flour—Rain Needed in Interior, But Wheat Prospects As Bright as Ever—Wool Advances During the Week—Marketing of Sheep Begins.

Portland, April 24.—Club wheat sold in the Portland market at $1.20 a bushel during the past week.

The sale was made at a time when breaking values were shown in almost all world's wheat markets.

Bluestem was sold at interior points as high as $1.20 a bushel which would mean better than $1.30 f. o. b. Portland.

Barley market advanced $2 a ton at a single bound during the week because of the lack of supplies here. Shipments from California have been forced in this direction because of the higher price here than in the south.

Oats market was very firm during the week but values generally ruled unchanged.

Flour market is firmer at the recent advance and predictions are out for a further rise. The price has already reached such a figure that in some cities bakers have advanced the price of bread.

Crop Prospects Good.
Wheat crop conditions in the Pacific northwest are showing no less bright prospects than during recent weeks.

While rain is generally needed at most centers the lack of it has not hurt the plant as yet and will not be likely to unless the showers are delayed for several more weeks.

The cold weather early in the week had only a passing effect in a few scattered sections.

Wool Advances During Week.
Wool sold at an advance of 2c a pound during the past week. A sale was reported at an eastern Oregon point at 22c as compared with 20c as the best price a week ago. A sale in the Willamette valley was made at 21c.

The market for wool is materially firmer everywhere, and in most instances prices have advanced. Sales are still of small volume, however. Mohair is firmer in the Pacific northwest, although showing no change in the east, from where practically all the orders come. The fight between local dealers for control of the trade of the Pacific coast is responsible for an advance of 1/2c to 1c a pound in the price here during the week.

Marketing of Sheep Begins.
The movement of sheep to market started in real earnest during the past week. The run of sheep was therefore the greatest of recent weeks, totaling 2252 head compared with 319 a week ago and 1352 head two weeks ago. Despite the big increase in the run there was scarcely any sag to sheep prices during the past week; values remaining just about as quoted during the previous six days.

The very heavy purchases of sheep by feeders and easterners the present season at high prices are expected to cause a smaller run of young stuff in this market but those in closest touch with the situation state that shipments of two and three year old stuff will be increased in the near future. Some of the latter made its appearance in the yards during the week and quite satisfactory prices were obtained.

Cattle Are Scarce.
So few cattle came forward into the yards during the past week that it was really hard to state just how prices stood. Practically no top stuff put in appearance so the actual market for this grade remains a mystery. On the basis of the stuff which sold in the yards during the week top steers should have sold close to $5.75 if they did not actually reach that figure.

Every week of late there has been an improving tone in the Portland cattle market. Demand for a better quality than generally offered here is showing a constant increase and whenever such quality is obtainable it invariably sells so high that sellers are afraid to make public the quotations for fear that it will excite cattlemen; many of them believing that each has the best quality to offer.

CHICAGO SOCIETY WILL STUDY SOULS OF CHILDREN

Chicago.—Study the souls of children.

That is one of the purposes of the Juvenile Psychopathic Institute, organized in Chicago by the philanthropic citizens and prominent settlement workers. Its final objects are to obtain for juvenile offenders prompt treatment, according to their mentality and surroundings and to achieve a diminution of juvenile criminality by eradicating the contributing causes in individual cases.

The organization has employed competent medical talent and each child brought into the juvenile court will be examined physically and mentally and his home surroundings and even his ancestry inquired into with a view to determining the cause of delinquency.

Real Estate Active in La Grande.

La Grande.—Never in the history of the city in recent years at least, has there been so much marked activity in real estate and sales of city property as this week, due primarily to the confidence in the successful culmination of the irrigation project.

OREGON WILL BE STOCK CENTER

BIG PACKING PLANTS BEGIN OPERATIONS SOON

Brings Necessity of Raising More Stock in the State—Good Profit in Hogs With Little Expense in Raising—Livestock Sale Begins This Week—Buyers from Nearby States and British Columbia.

(Special Correspondence.)

Portland, Ore., April 26.—Swift and company announce that they plan to begin actual packing operations in their new plant at Portland in July. This brings to the surface the necessity for the farmers of Oregon to grow more hogs. Pigs can be raised until they are three months old on vetch or other roughage at practically no expense other than for pasturage. A fat 200 pound hog in Portland today is worth $15.50 cash, live weight. The packers will have to get a supply—must they send the money for the hogs to Nebraska, or will we raise them in Oregon?

Livestock Sale Begins.

The livestock sale at the Portland Country club this week means a great deal to everyone in Oregon. Saturday and Sunday witnessed thousands of people visiting the grounds to inspect what is universally conceded to be the greatest gathering of blooded horses ever collected in the Pacific northwest to be sold to the highest bidder. The sales at Portland have uniformly been more successful than even those in Chicago, in proportion. The sale will continue up to Friday night at the Country club, Saturday being devoted entirely to cattle at the Union stock yards. Oregon is making a wonderful showing and there is assurance that buyers be here from all neighboring states and British Columbia.

Two millions of dollars for the four hundred and sixty-two acres universally known as the "Ladd Farm," puts Portland city lots in a class with Oregon orchards, and the developers of this magnificent property will certainly be satisfied if it pays dividends equalling those of a well-kept modern orchard.

Oregon Has 750,000 People.

While estimates as to the present population of Oregon vary, some men who have the right to be well posted feel that the state today has upward of three-quarters of a million people. With every county in the state getting new settlers, some have attracted a greater immigration during the past year than for five years before.

A party of Illinois investors recently clubbed together and sent one of their number, who had visited Oregon during the exposition, for a trip through the state. Upon his return to Portland, this gentleman said he had found Oregon people much changed. At that time they were intensely conservative, today they are enthusiastic, optimistic, and unanimously predict a great future. In fact, many of the communities are growing so rapidly that they imagine they have all the growth, but those who have seen the new orchards, the substantial farm houses and other improvements taking place everywhere, know that the next decade will see record-breaking advancement along every line. Asked if he was satisfied he replied: "I wouldn't return to Illinois, but shall remain here to receive my friends who are coming in parties of three, five and even ten."

LADD FARM SELLS FOR TWO MILLIONS

Portland, April 26.—Hazel Fern farm, the magnificent tract of land consisting of 462 acres in the heart of the East side, owned for many years by the Ladd estate, has been acquired by Charles K. Henry and associates at a consideration of approximately $2,000,000.

Mr. Henry now has under consideration the formation of a syndicate to handle the vast property. With him in the initiative stage of the proceedings are associated Frank F. Mead and Paul C. Murphy of Seattle, and H. R. Burke of Portland.

Hazel Fern farm lies between the Barr road on the north and the Base Line road on the south and East Thirty-third and East Forty-fourth streets east and west. Olmsted brothers of Boston, some months ago laid out the big tract in a parking system, preserving the higher portions for buildings and streets following the contour of the lands. This plan calls for 2880 lots and it is the intention of the new owners to place these on the market. Under the Olmsted plan the tract will be one of the most attractive in the country, lending itself to ornamental landscape gardening in its highest phases. As at present outlined, lots will sell from $800 upward, and building restrictions will range from $2000 to $5000, according to location.

Gunder Anderson, a well known fisherman of Wedderburn where he had been employed by R. D. Hume for about eighteen years, was washed overboard from the gasoline schooner Osprey while she was crossing in over the Coos Bay bar about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. No one saw him go overboard nor has any trace been discovered of his body. The craft was hit by a big breaker that carried away her lifeboat and part of her rail and when the other members of the crew were able to look on deck, Anderson was missing.

MANY ADVANTAGES CLAIMED FOR STEEL PASSENGER CARS

Among the advantages of the use of steel in passenger car construction are the following: It reduces the risks of an accident; it is more available than wood; it is easier to work; it produces a simpler and more artistic appearance; it is easier to keep clean; and when properly designed, a steel car weighs no more than one of wood. For the same capacity it costs no more than a wood car; its life is longer; finally the cost of damage suits arising from accidents is considerably less—Scientific American.

EARTHQUAKES HAVE STRANGE EFFECT ON CABLES

Seven telegraph cables were formerly in service across the strait which separates Sicily from the mainland of Italy. There were so badly damaged by the shock which ruined Messina that repairs were necessary. One of them was so deeply buried in the sand by the earthquake that it could not be raised. When the others were brought to the surface of the water temporarily for examination they showed signs of having been burned. Whether the heat which produced this effect resulted from friction of volcanic action no one can say.
