Personal Notes.

Councilman C. H. Whitman of Walla Walla, was in the city today visiting his father, J. B. Whiteman, the Walla Walla valley, especially that portion adjacent to the interurban car line. Mr. Whiteman said that he believed there was no country anywhere which was advancing so rapidly as this. He said that thirty years ago in passing through this country there were but one or two shanties between Walla Walla and Milton, and that the whole country could be had for the mere asking.

J. B. Frazier is this week making arrangements to construct a six-foot walk in front of his property on both sides of Main street between First and Second streets.

Whooping Cough

This is a more dankerous disease than is generally presumed. It will be a surprise to many to learn that more deaths result from it than from scarlet fever. Pneumonia often results from it. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used in many epidemics of whooping cough, and always with the best results. Delbert McKeig, of Harlan, Iowa, says of it: "My boy took whooping cough when nine months old. He had it in the winter. I got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy which proved good. I cannot recommend it too highly." For sale by all good dealers.

Some great records for steam shovel work are being made on the Panama canal. Recently, during a workin, day of eight hours a steam shovel, operating in the Empide Construction district, removed 3,941 cubic yards of rock and earth. The shovel was actually at work only six hours and fifty minutes of this time, one hour and ten minutes being consumed in waiting for the cars.

WATCH OUT FOR THE COUNTERFEIT

BOGUS DOUBLE EAGLES MAKING THE ROUNDS

Information Received in Pendleton That Some Clever Counterfeiters are on the Road—Bills are Result of Newly Discovered Bleaching Process—One Dollar Bills Raised to Twenty Dollar Bills—Imitation is Clever.

Take a good look at the "long green" you accept from strangers these days. Subject the $20 bills to an especial scrutiny. If the bill has pale spots around the figures, touch it not, for it is counterfeit and not worth even the one dollar bill from which it was originally made. Information has been received in Pendleton that a flood of these bills has been scattered broadcast through the country and that the counterfeit can only be detected by the uninitiated by the closest examination.

The bill is the result of a newly discovered secret bleaching process by which the figure "1" is obliterated and the figures "20" drawn with pen and ink in its place. By using the $1 bill the regulation paper with silk thread reinforcement used by the government, is secured. Not since that famous Philadelphia counterfeiting case of 1899 has such a scheme been tried. The Philadelphia counterfeiters also used a bleaching process, but it was supposed that the formula had been destroyed at the time of the arrest of the counterfeiters.

The new counterfeit is in the series of 1902 bearing a portrait of Hugh McCulloch; charter number 8325; bank number 246; treasury number R643739; check letter "A"; W. T. Vernon, Register of the Treasury; Chas. H. Treat, Treasurer of the United States.

Under a strong magnifying glass portions of the design of the one dollar bill can still be discerned. It is considered probable that other counterfeiters will hereafter be produced in the same manner, as a new-made counterfeit $10 silver certificate executed on a bleached $1 bill has been previously received at the United States treasury in Washington, much of the lath work of the original note having been used in the make-up of the counterfeit. These pen-and-ink productions come from Chicago.

A new counterfeit $5 silver certificate is also being circulated. This counterfeit is apparently printed from photomechanical plates of fair workmanship. The most noticeable defect is in the portrait of the Indian chief in the middle of the face of the note; the formation of the nose and mouth being entirely different from the original. The counterfeit reads, "series 1899" when it should read "series 1889." In the signature of Treasurer Treat the periods have been omitted after "Chas." "H." and the final ending of the name. The "H." and "T." are also disconnected in the counterfeit, while in the genuine they are connected.

The back of the note is more deceptive than the face, but is printed with a much lighter shade of green ink. The paper is fair quality, but red and blue ink lines have been used to imitate the fiber of the genuine note.

HANDS CRACKED RAW AND SCALY

Itched and Burned Terribly—Arms Affected, Too—Could Not Move Thumbs Without Flesh Cracking—Sleep and Work Often Impossible—Was Fairly Worn Out.

CUTICURA SOON CURED HIS FEARFUL ECZEMA

"About a year ago an itching humor began to appear around the back of my hand. It started in the spread, and pretty soon it covered both my hands and got up over my wrists and even up to the elbows. The itching and burning were terrible. My hands got all scaly and when I scratched, as I was doing a good part of the time, the surface would be covered with blisters and then get raw. The eczema got so bad in around the pit of my thumbs that I could not move the thumbs without deep cracks appearing. I went to my doctor, but his medicine could only stop the itching and did not seem to heal my hands up at all. At night I suffered so fearfully that I could not sleep, often lying awake until well toward morning, then waking up still tired. I am a chef and steward by trade and I had to give up my place, as my hands were so terrible to look at that they did not like to have me around about the food. I could not bear to touch them with water, but when I positively had to get my hands clean I would rub them with oil.

"This sort of business went on for three months and I kept trying zinc and tar ointments and such remedies with no particular benefit. I did not know what to do, for I was fairly worn out. For a long time several friends kept asking me why I didn't use Cuticura and at last I thought I would. First I got the Cuticura Soap, then Cuticura Ointment and at last Cuticura Resolvent. I put the Cuticura Ointment on at night, covering my hands with light cotton gloves. In the morning the inside of the gloves would be lined with scales, sometimes half as long as your finger, leaving nice healed places where the scales had been. In a month I was cured and have kept so now for nine months. My hands and arms are perfectly clear of all traces of eczema and I think I am well rid of it. Walter H. Cox, 10 Somerset St., Boston, Mass., Sept. 25, 1908."
