BUSINESS MAN DIES SUDDENLY

CHARLES W. WALL PASSES AWAY YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Result of Sudden and Severe Attack of Appendicitis—Operation Fails to Save His Life—Has Been Resident of Pendleton for Eleven Years—Survived by Wife, Parents, Brothers and Sisters—Was Prominent Lodge Man.

Charles W. Wall, one of the popular young business men of the city, died yesterday afternoon at St. Anthony's hospital as the result of a sudden and severe attack of appendicitis. He had only been suffering with the malady for a few days, but it was soon evident that an operation was the only thing that could possibly save his life. This was performed last Saturday morning, and it was then discovered that the appendix has burst and peritonitis had set in. Despite these unfavorable conditions he seemed to be rallying from the effects of the operation and the disease and was rapidly recovering, when he was suddenly taken worse yesterday and died within a few hours.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Wall of Athena, had been notified by phone and came down in an automobile, arriving a few minutes before he passed away.

The deceased was born at Peabody, Kan., March 28, 1876, and was therefore a little more than 33 years of age at the time of his death. He came to Pendleton about 11 years ago and has resided in this city and vicinity since that time. For the past seven years he has been head salesman in the Rader furniture store and undertaking parlors.

Five years ago he was united in

While he is upon his vacation his place will be taken by Robert Renn, express messenger, and who formerly had the local express agency.

New Telegraph Wire.

Johnson and E. B. Aldrich.

Stolen Horses Were Borrowed.

It develops that the span of horses and set of harness taken from the Slusher ranch at Nolen last week, were not stolen, simply having been borrowed by a neighbor, who failed to ask the permission of the owners. The officers had been notified and a systematic search for the missing animals started, before the mistake was discovered.

Blakeslee, who has been at the Paso Robles hot springs in California for the benefit of his health for the past few weeks, writes that he has enjoyed his vacation very much and that his health is greatly improved. He will leave the springs this week on his return home, and expects to arrive in Pendleton in time to resume his practice about June 2.

Beatty has signed up to teach eight months in district No. 28, Margaret Hammer has signed for eight months in district No. 65, Lillian Downs Dobson has signed for seven months in district No. 29, while G. M. Wolfe and Carrie W. Burnham have signed for a nine-month term at Umatilla.

Rain Needed in Mountains.

According to Henry Lazinka, the Ukiah stockman, who came in yesterday from his ranch in the southern part of the county, the range in the mountains was about as much in need of rain as the grain fields. He is therefore rejoicing with the farmers today. Mr. Lazinka came in for the purpose of moving his family to the ranch for the summer, they having been living in town during the winter and spring.

Mrs. Norton Will Sing.

Announcement was made this afternoon of a recital to be given in the Presbyterian church, one week from Thursday evening, by Mrs. Anna Selkirk Norton. Mrs. Norton is one of the most popular and best known vocalists in the inland empire and she has a very large number of exceptionally warm friends in this city. The announcement of her recital will therefore be hailed with delight by all music lovers in the city.

Moorhouse Will Help.

Major Lee Moorhouse, the Indian equipment and picture specialist, has again been called upon to assist in a Walla Walla entertainment. This time he is to furnish a couple of costumes to be worn by ladies participating in the Kirmess performance which is to be presented in the Garden City in the near future. The proceeds of the entertainment are to be given to the park fund.

New Rates in Effect.

The new insurance rates for Pendleton have been in effect since March 10 of this year, according to the new books received yesterday by the local representatives of the old-line companies. All insurance written since March 10 will be subject to the new rate, while all that written prior to that time will be subject to the old rates. It seems that some property holders were under the impression that the new rates were to date back for five or six months, but such is not the case.

Cloak & Suit House Not Sold.

T. B. Swearingen denies the reported sale of the Pendleton Cloak & Suit House. He says the business is still owned by himself and John Seibert and that the store will continue to be conducted as it has been since they acquired possession. This means that the present big sale will continue. He is unable to account for the origin of the report of the sale of the store to the former proprietor, C. C. Anthony, unless it was by the release of Manager Brooks a few days ago in order to cut down expenses.

BODY OF SPOKANE VICTIM IS FOUND

Spokane, Wash., May 26.—The theory of the Spokane police, that a well organized gang is using the river as a means of disposing of their victims after robbing them and then murdering them, is born out by the finding of the body of Patrick Corrigan, whose mysterious disappearance at Spokane some months ago puzzled the police of many cities. Recently the river has yielded several corpses whose condition pointed irrefutably to foul play.

The body of Patrick Corrigan, a Wisconsin farmer, who disappeared mysteriously over two months ago with considerable money on his person, was raised from the river last night while the police were dynamiting to bring up the bodies of A. W. Duncan and his 5-year-old son, who capsized from a boat yesterday. There is an ugly wound on the top of Corrigan's head; the skull bears a fracture the size of a dollar. He is believed to have been murdered, robbed and then thrown into the river.

Corrigan's valuable gold watch and chain, about $50 in cash, two drafts for large amounts and an expensive new overcoat are gone. The murder, nor even death theory was never formed by Mrs. H. Miller of Spokane, Corrigan's sister. She posted a reward of $300 for his apprehension, believing him temporarily deranged and wandering about the country. The search extended to Portland, Seattle and San Francisco.

Corrigan's Body Identified.
Corrigan's body was positively identified by his brother-in-law, Miller, a local fireman.

Nearly $10,000 belonging to Corrigan was deposited in Spokane banks. He had sold a big farm in Wisconsin just before coming here.

As the result of the same blasting the body of unknown laboring man came to the surface this morning, believed to be the man who jumped from the Great Northern bridge, after a protracted spree three weeks ago.

ADDS THOUSANDS TO CROP VALUE

ured, and with plenty of rain the crop will be a bumper.

McManus says the difference in the appearance of the wheat fields in the vicinity of the Rock since yesterday noon is little short of marvelous, and he believes that even those persons who were compelled to reseed their barley this spring will reap a fair yield. This had been given up entirely by most of the farmers.

The total rainfall for the month at that point is now one inch, while in Pendleton it has only been little more than half an inch. The total rainfall for the rainy season is still about seven inches short, but as May and June are always considered the rainy months in this county it is possible that the deficiency may yet be made up.

Reduce Rates to Alaska.

Tacoma, May 27.—It was announced that the Alaska steamship company will make more sweeping reductions in rates between Puget sound points, Seward and Sitka. It is believed here that a similar reduction on the part of other companies will be made.
