FOUR WALKING AROUND WORLD

ONE OF NUMBER ARRIVED IN PENDLETON LAST NIGHT

Will Spend the Day Here and Continue Westward Tomorrow—Visiting Man Is Italian, While Other Three Are French, German and American—Are Tramping Around the World to Gather Material for a Book.

Professor Battelli, a learned Italian, and one of four men from as many different countries who are walking around the world, arrived in Pendleton about 10 o'clock last night. He will spend the day here, delivering a short lecture at the Grand theater this evening. Tomorrow he will continue his journey westward.

The other three pedestrians are French, German and American, respectively. They all left New York October 7, the object of their tramp around the globe being to write a book. This will be in four languages and will set forth the political, economical and industrial conditions of the world, as by taking different routes the four men will have visited practically every section of the known world.

All Newspaper Men. Professor Battelli produced credentials showing that he is traveling as a representative of the La Tribune of Rome and of four Italian papers published in America.

Silvio Ortonas, the Frenchman, is traveling as a representative of the La Courier of Paris and of the two French papers published in the United States.

Adolph Schneider, the German, represents one of the large papers of Berlin and the three large German publications in the United States.

The American, Albert Wilches, travels as a representative of the New York American and of large magazine interests of the Empire state.

The journalists are traveling under the auspices of the International Geographical society, the four members of the party separating at Pittsburg, from which point the American, Albert Wilches, and the Frenchman, Silvio Ortonas, started across the continent by a southern route, while Professor Battelli and Engineer Adolph Schneider, the German, proceeded to Detroit, where they separated, the Italian coming through the central part of the United States, while the German took the Canadian route.

The professor visited Chicago, Des Moines, Omaha, Lincoln, Denver, Salt Lake, Ogden and Boise during his trip across the continent to Pendleton, and has many interesting tales to impart with reference to his trip. From here he will go to Portland, and thence to Seattle, where he will be rejoined by the German and where they will spend some little time visiting the exposition before again separating, the German to go by boat to Alaska, while the professor goes to San Francisco to take a steamer across the Pacific to the Philippine islands.

Though he stops at hotels wherever possible, and does not go out in search of hardships, he has met with experiences that would daunt the heart of a tenderfoot. Two days and nights without food or water was one of the experiences he met with in crossing a Colorado desert. Among other things, he carries a gun, and besides killing a bear, a wildcat and two coyotes, he put to route three hoboes who attempted to hold him up.

Professor Battelli also carries a book containing the signatures and seals of the governors of all the states and the mayors of all the cities through which he passes. The book also contains souvenir postals of points of interest which he has visited.

The professor is delighted with America and the Americans, declaring that the scenery of the western part of the United States far surpasses that of Italy or Switzerland.

Pian Big Arctic Hunt.

Seattle.—Dr. Hans von Kadich and Leo Mahler of Vienna left here tonight for Vancouver to prepare the steamer Transit, which has been chartered by Rudolph E. von Guttman, a wealthy coal operator of Vienna, for a four-month hunting expedition to Alaska and Siberia. The party will leave for the north July 1. The other members of the party, which will contain 10 people, are still in Vienna. The purpose of the expedition is to secure new specimens for Herr von Guttman's trophy room. Where duplicates are secured they will be given to the Smithsonian institute, and if a third specimen is secured it will be given to the New York Zoological society. The Transit is a 2400-ton steamer.

J. Quick and Mrs. Charles Levine, father and sister, respectively, of the Misses Flora and Mary Quick of this city, arrived here last evening from Coquille, Coos county, having come on a visit.

ATHLETIC MEET WILL BE HELD AT SEATTLE

Seattle, Wash.—State College Athletic officials have reconsidered a decision to remain out of the conference meet scheduled to be held in the stadium at the Exposition grounds Saturday. Telegrams were sent today by Major W. M. Inglis, director of athletics, that the meet would be held by entries from the following members of the Pacific Northwest Intercollegiate Conference: University of Washington, University of Idaho, Washington State College, Whitman College and Oregon Agricultural College.

Final examinations are being held in the University of Oregon and it is improbable any athletes will be able to come to Seattle from that institution. However, the exposition management will make an effort to induce the Oregon University to enter men for some of the events.

Many of the University of Oregon track and field athletes have gone home, having broken training when the end of the college year came. Several of the State University's men had planned to enter the meet and word will be sent to them immediately that the athletic tournament is on again and a considerable representation of the State University is expected.

FUNSTON DUELS WITH BURGLAR IN DARK ROOM

Leavenworth, Kan.—Brigadier-General Frederick Funston, commandant of the Army Service School at Fort Leavenworth, engaged in a revolver fight with a supposed burglar in his quarters at the post early today. The man escaped, and General Funston was unharmed.

General Funston had retired late, and remained awake. He had been in bed perhaps an hour, when a closet door opened and a man stepped forth. The General saw him and reached under a pillow for a gun.

The intruder saw the motion and fired. The bullet pierced the mattress near the General, who leaped to his feet. He turned on the lights, and fired three shots at the man as he fled.

General Funston was in his library until about midnight, but the house is so large that a man could easily sneak in without being detected.

Mrs. Funston is visiting in California at present and General Funston was alone in the big house, except for two Filipino servants sleeping in another part of the building. General Funston said the attack on him was so sudden that he felt nervous all day.

The burglar did not get any money or valuables.

PRESIDENT WILL REACH COAST IN OCTOBER

Washington.—President Taft said today that he expected to be in San Francisco on October 19. He said that he had decided to abandon his intentions to visit Alaska, as he would be obliged to start late anyway, and aside from that he desired to allow Mrs. Taft to take more time to recuperate from her attack of nervous prostration due to her activity in social matters since entering the White House.

President Taft will make a good many stops on his journey, and will consume considerable time seeing the country and getting acquainted with the people. He will get back to Washington the latter part of November.

The President spoke with enthusiasm about his projected trip, laughingly referring to the "if" of the traveling appropriation.

The state of Sao Paulo, Brazil, owns 7,000,000 bags of coffee stored in Europe and North America and 657,000 bags stored in Santos. The foreign cities of storage are Havre, Hamburg, Bremen, Antwerp, London, Trieste, Marseilles, New York and New Orleans.

20,000 HEAD CATTLE TO GO FROM ONTARIO

Ontario, Ore.—The large shipments of cattle which have been made from Ontario within the past three weeks, and still being made, have been keeping this station at the forefront as a busy shipping point. More than 20,000 head of cattle will have been shipped from this place within the past month, most of these being young cattle for the ranges of Montana, Idaho and the Dakotas. These are cattle that were contracted for during the winter, and that have been purchased by big cattle buyers from the various states.

Every important cattle buying firm of the northwest has been represented here for the past several weeks, among the most prominent being the M. K. Parsons company of Salt Lake City, the William Hanley company of Burns, the Bales & Jones company of Grangeville, Idaho, and the Zimmerman company of Dakota. There are in the yards here some 1500 head of cattle awaiting shipment at the present time, and more are constantly coming in. They are all in fine, healthy condition and clean and well fed. The weather this year has been very favorable to the rangemen and the cattle business is making them a fine profit this season.

Prices this spring range from $20 to $22, which is $2 or $3 higher than last year's prices. Some delay was occasioned for some days on account of cattle going into Montana. A new law recently passed there requires federal inspection of cattle entering the state, and as there was no federal inspector here a large number of cattle had to be detained in the yards here until the inspector from Pendleton could come and inspect them. Effort is being made to have a deputy inspector appointed here.

MAN HELD FOR HOTEL BILL CLAIMS TO BE LORD

San Francisco.—H. Rosewarne Carrington, who claims to be Lord Charles Carrington, a peer of the realm of Great Britain, is shut out from his luxurious apartments at the St. Francis hotel because a bill of $215 remains unpaid. Yesterday when Carrington was refused admittance to his apartments he appealed to British Consul General Hearn. The British agent refused to stand sponsor for him and is said to have intimated that his claim to nobility is unfounded. Carrington retaliated by stating that when he called at the consulate Hearn was intoxicated. He threatened to report the matter to the British foreign office.

Carrington arrived in San Francisco May 14, bringing with him a varied assortment of luggage. When the management of the hotel requested payment of the bill for his accommodations, Carrington, who had registered without the lordly title, announced that he was Lord Charles Carrington, once vice admiral of his imperial majesty's navy, and proprietor of estates in Cornwall and Devon. He also claims to have been a member of the British house of commons.

"I left the navy to avoid certain difficulties that might have resulted in a court-martial," Carrington said today. "My health was impaired by the rigors of the service and my grief over the death of my wife and two children. I came to San Francisco from Vancouver, intending to wait here for two guardsmen from England, who were to accompany me on a hunting trip in Asia. I used the name of H. Rosewarne, because I wished to travel incognito; the name is that of an engineer formerly in my employ."
