UMATILLA REDMEN
GATHER IN FESTIVE SPIRIT

Camped Around Church and Joined Together in Christmas Services—Many Addresses Appropriate and Helpful Made.

(Special Correspondence.)
According to the arrangements of the session, the people encamped at the church, in their houses, tents and teepees that they have around the church! Though the ground was frozen and some snow lay on it, otherwise fairly nice Christmas weather prevailed. There were services each morning at 8 a. m. and 7 p. m., conducted by the missionary. The elders and officers of each society helped royally in all the work and services. On Christmas day the people present spread their individual Christmas dinners together, as at Thanksgiving time. No special invitation was given out. It was strictly a home affair, yet eighty-two enjoyed the repast. All the work relative to the Christmas tree had been given into the hands of the Woman's society who appointed a committee to purchase the presents, and do the rest of the work. Their work was done to a finish and to the satisfaction of all. The money that was placed into their hands had been secured from some lady friends in San Rafael, Cal., and others in the east, and from the Sunday school of Tutuilla itself. Everything was thus secured in Pendleton and all express expenses cut out, which was a happy arrangement. The last bite of anything is often thought the best, and so it is thought relative to our last Christmas exercises at Tutuilla. The effort is to make it a gala time for all the children who are allowed to be home from the government school at this time. And besides the real children, it seemed that the Christmas spirit suddenly transformed us all into children. And it was that child-like, trustful and kind spirit that the Master bids us all imitate that was so evident at Tutuilla this year and so acted on all like magic during the exercises and services. Besides the dozen or more real children who were on the program and spoke or sang some Christmas piece, two of the big children spoke as entertainingly, and as bashfully as the rest. Robinson Munthorn, an elder with his child-like and Christ-like face, charmed all with his splendid oratory, as he told of the Christ and Christmas presents and spirit and all it meant to him. Then he and James Kash, another elder, sang one of the old time Christmas songs in the Nez Perce tongue. They were followed by the miffing and "only" Skumit, a good Methodist visitor from Yakima, who spoke his Christmas "wawa" in five different languages, jargon, Nez Perce, Washkum, Kl-ekittat and Yakima. He kept all in a roar of laughter, which was added to when he finished with a song in the jargon. One of the novel things of the program was six small boys and girls about five or six years old, who sang in the Nez Perce, "Showers of Blessings."

When they were done all left the rostrum, amidst the clapping of hands except two small boys who seemed not to have had enough. The superintendent seeing them, quickly said, "Sing again," and they did for sure open their mouths, and let it out. It certainly "took the cake." There were present over two hundred people, most of whom received a small Christmas token, and all present were given a popcorn crisp at the close of the distribution of the presents. The committee had 250 of these on hand, and by them were able to know about how many people were present. The crowd was with us all Sabbath. In the morning the missionary preached a sermon on "How to Observe and How Not to Observe Christmas." In the afternoon Dr. C. J. Smith and wife of Pendleton, who have recently spent a number of months in the Holy Land and other places of interest in the life of Paul, came to the mission, as previously arranged and Dr. Smith told us very interestingly of his trip in the Holy Land. As he traced for us the places so sacred in the minds of all, that he had seen with his own eyes, the people hung on his words breathlessly, and never lost a word of it. He held all firm in their attention for nearly two hours. Then he asked all to ask him any questions about the places that they desired to. The volley of interesting and pointed questions that were fired at him showed that all knew the ground almost by heart. And their interest was greatly enhanced to hear from him who had seen it. The people as a whole gave him a vote of thanks for his trouble in coming to tell them about it, and the three elders spoke kind words to him in return, saying, that their faith in the holy religion of Christ and these sacred places, which he had actually seen. His words about Bethlehem and the Church of the Nativity were appropriate, indeed, at the Christmas time. It was a fitting climax to our Christmas services and left all our hearts glad that we were "followers" and prepared the hearts of all for the evangelistic services of the evening. Then we "put on the unctions" till about midnight, during which time five persons came forward to renew their covenants and were later received by the session. The people went home Monday morning after an early service to encamp again Thursday, 30th, for preparatory services before the usual New Year's communion season. All in their testimonies witnessed that they had been much comforted and strengthened in their faith because of the fellowship together and by the words from Dr. Smith. J. M. C.

STATISTICS ON NORTH-WEST GRAIN YIELD

Oregon News Bureau, Washington.
The Department of Agriculture has made public its statistics of the Winter and Spring wheat crop of various states for the past year. This report shows that 11,245,000 bushels of Winter wheat were produced in Oregon, an average of 21 bushels to the acre. The total farm value of the crop to December 1 was $16,449,000 or 93 cents per bushel. The Spring wheat crop of Oregon is given at 5,142,000 bushels or 18.7 bushels to the acre. Its value December 1 was $4,782,000 or 93 cents per bushel.

The Winter wheat crop of Washington was reported as 20,124,000 bushels, worth $18,715,000. This is a production of 25.8 bushels per acre value at 93 cents per bushel. Washington's Spring wheat crop is 15,656,000 bushels valued at $14,560,000, being 20.6 bushels per acre and the same value as Winter wheat.

The Idaho Winter wheat crop was 9,135,000 bushels valued at $7,947,000. The yield was 20 bushels per acre and the value was below that of other states, being only 85 cents per bushel. Spring wheat in Idaho was reported at 5,320,000 bushels, which at 87 cents per bushel represents a farm value of $4,637,000. The yield per acre is 26 bushels.

How One Doctor Successfully Treats Pneumonia.

"In treating pneumonia," says Dr. W. J. Smith of Sanders, Ala., "the only remedy I use for the lungs is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. While, of course, I would treat other symptoms with different medicines, I have used this remedy many times in my medical practice and have yet failed to find a case where it has not controlled the trouble. I have used it myself as has also my wife for coughs and colds repeatedly, and I most willingly and cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other cough remedy to my knowledge." EAT EGGS IN COURT
TO PROVE THEM GOOD

Wilkesbarre, Pa.—When Dominick Sarvo, grocer, was arrested on the charge that the eggs he sold to Mrs. Mary Olenky were not fresh, Alderman Donohue suggested that the best way to decide the case was for Sarvo to eat the eggs in question.

Mrs. Olenky had broken six of a dozen and a half, and she swore that they were woefully bad. She produced the remaining dozen as evidence. Sarvo said the eggs were good and that his family used them.

"All right," directed the alderman, "prove what you say by eating these 12."

Sarvo was willing, but said 12 was too heavy a meal. His brother-in-law Michael Allgrs. thereupon volunteered to eat half. Each man then ate six of the eggs with apparent relish and Sarvo was discharged.

For a Lame Back.
When you have pains or lameness in the back bathe the parts with Chamberlain's Liniment twice a day, massaging with the palm of the hand for five minutes at each application. Then dampen a piece of flannel slightly with this liniment and bind it on over the seat of pain, and you may be surprised to see how quickly the lameness disappears. For sale by all good dealers.

Carnegie Library for Astoria.

Astoria, Ore.—Arrangements are being made to accept the Carnegie library offer, which provides for the construction of a $20,000 building in case the city will guarantee a $2000 maintenance fund annually. The present charter provides that no more than $900 per year be raised by taxation for library purposes. Mayor Smith favors a special election to amend the charter in this particular, so that the required amount of $2000 could be raised. This would be no great additional burden, as the city now raises on account of the $1500 by a half-mill tax, but can only pay over $900 under the charter.
