At Pilot Rock last evening Dr. C. J. Smith gave a lecture upon the subject of "Palestine and the Holy Land." The lecture was given for the benefit of the Pilot Rock athletic club, which has a membership of 50, and the entertainment was well attended and enjoyed, according to numerous reports received from that town today. Dr. Smith and family travelled through the Holy Land while abroad last year.

After Livestock Data.

For the purpose of gathering data as to the livestock industry in this county Prof. F. L. Kent of O. A. C. is in the city today. He is gathering the information for the department of agriculture and the same is to be used in the year book of that department. Prof. Kent has been consulting with local sheepmen, horsemen and cattlemen today relative to the amount of stock in this county, the prices received for the same and as to other features of the stock industry.

The ladies of the library and civic club have placed tickets for "Sweet Innisfallen" on sale at the Tallman and Koepfer drug stores. These tickets must afterwards be exchanged for reserved seats at the Pendleton drug store. Several box parties and watch parties are being formed for the occasion.

Company L in Trim.

Last night company L, third regiment, O. N. G. of this city, was out for inspection and muster and the company made a very creditable showing. The company was out four squads strong and at inspection presented a satisfactory appearance. The inspection was by First Lieutenant Drake, commanding officer of the company. D. B. Bailey is now the second lieutenant of the company, while the non-commissioned officers are as follows: Sergeants, Vauler, Marsh, Funk, Loeding, Blanche and Boyd; corporals, Shaw, Bowman, Whitlock, Power, McGinn and Farnsworth.

Prominent North Dakotan.

F. H. Dickinson, a prominent farmer and capitalist of Ayr, North Dakota, is now in the city. He came west recently with one of the carload parties brought to Stanfield. He now has some holdings under the Furnish-Coe project and at this time is upon a deal for some further land in the west end of the county. Mr. Dickinson was for many years postmaster at Ayr, has been a member of the North Dakota legislature and has long been prominent in political affairs in that state. He is an earnest advocate of prohibition which has long been state-wide in North Dakota. He predicts a good future for Pendleton regardless of any losses the city may have incurred through the closing out of the saloons.

Repairing Press.

This evening's issue of the East Oregonian is late in reaching local subscribers because the press has been undergoing repairs during the day. The delay this evening has been unavoidable and the blame for late delivery of the paper should not be placed upon the carriers.

DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE WILL ENLIGHTEN FARMERS

Washington.—A somewhat unique campaign of education is to be undertaken in January by Dr. S. A. Knapp of the department of agriculture, in charge of the farm demonstration work in the south, which will have for its purpose a discussion of the farm methods and policies of the various states and the means for bringing about greater agricultural prosperity.

The trip is being arranged by the Southern railway and is undertaken at the suggestion of that company. There will be a series of eight or nine addresses, each treating directly of the agricultural work and conditions in the community or state in which it is delivered, the entire series making a collected study of farm life, methods, opportunities and possibilities in the southeastern states which will doubtless attract wide attention.

Dr. Knapp is one of the leading agricultural authorities of the country and he has an intimate knowledge of farm conditions, of soils, and all that pertains to southern agriculture, and his past work has been one of the chief influences in the advance in crop diversification which has taken place in recent years in the south.

As at present arranged, meetings will be held in Lynchburg, Va., Charlotte, N. C., Greenville, S. C., Macon, Ga., Jacksonville, Fla., Anniston, and Huntsville, Ala., West Point and Greenville, Miss., Memphis, Tenn., and Lexington, Ky.

Plan an Auditorium.

North Yakima, Wash.—W. L. Steinweg, president of the First National bank, is back of a project for the erection of a large auditorium in which big public meetings and conventions of all kinds could be held. His plan, which is favored by many of the business men, is to build a large frame structure just outside the fire limits, but close enough to the carline to be convenient to all parts of the city. North Yakima at present has no large hall suitable for convention purposes.

GRAND JURY MEETS EARLY NEXT WEEK

WILL PROBE CASE AGAINST YOUNG ARNOLD

Old Bill Walker Will Also Be Under Investigation—Present Grand Jury to Clean Docket During Week.

Next Monday morning the grand jury will be called together for the purpose of considering such cases as may be brought before it. It is probable that the present jury will dispose of most of the cases now in prospect so as to leave the field clear for the next grand jury which is to be selected the following week.

Of the cases now awaiting the action of the grand jury the most sensational is that of young Arnold, or Tracy, who is charged with the murder of the man who was found dead near Umatilla recently. The charge of arson preferred against old man Walker, who lives in the south end of the county will also be probed, while several other cases will likewise be up before the grand jurors.

The following are the members of the present grand jury: R. H. Wilcox, J. W. Keen, J. C. Neal, M. R. Yates, Sam Bannister, Bell Davis and Swanty Anderson.

In the circuit court the case of the Maxwell irrigation company versus L. W. Furnas is still being tried out. At this time the plaintiff testimony is still to be offered and it is anticipated that the hearing will last for several days longer. Many prominent Hermitonians are now here as witnesses upon the two sides of the case now on trial.

RUMOR HAS M'FAUL AS CITY PHYSICIAN

NO OTHER CHANGE IN CITY OFFICIALS

Mayor and New Councilmen Held Caucus Last Night—First Ward to Be Without One Councilman—Appointment Probably Necessary.

Last night Mayor Murphy and the gentlemen who are to constitute the city council after the first of the year held a caucus for the purpose of discussing prospective appointees for city office and also to talk over other problems that will be up to the administration.

If reports now current are to be relied upon there will be but one change in the present personnel of the city officials. The position of city physician, now held by Dr. W. G. Cole, is to be tendered to Dr. D. J. McFall, according to a rumor that is prevalent today.

All other offices will be retained by the present incumbents, so it is generally understood. Chief of Police Gurdane will continue to be the head of the police department, Judge Thomas Fitz Gerald will continue to hold down the municipal bench and City Attorney Raley will continue as the city's legal adviser. Of course these appointments will not be made until the new council takes office January 1 and it is possible that some surprises may be sprung at that time. However, it is now a pretty settled conviction among those who are familiar with affairs that there will be nothing doing in the way of official changes save in the office of city physician.

It is now understood that there will be a vacancy in the councilmanic delegation from the first ward. C. W. Brownfield, who was elected to that position refuses to qualify and it is understood that Councilman Mumm declines to continue in his present position during another term. Should this prove the case a councilman will have to be appointed from that ward.

AMERICAN PLAYS

FAIL IN LONDON

London.—American theatrical successes continue to prove failures in England. "The Servant of the House," like "The Great Divide," has played to empty houses. "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" is also a failure, and there is every indication that the London playgoer will not tolerate plays which cause him to think.

The theatre, to his mind, is purely for amusement, and thoughtful and serious themes are banned as failures. "Mid-Channel," "False Gods," and "Madam X," are cases in point. The result is that London is losing its serious actors, who are going to America. Beerbohm Tree and Charles Wyndham are contemplating lengthy American tours.

The only manager feeling the English theatrical pulse accurately is George Edwards. He gives all the finance required and his theatre is filled daily and nightly, while the theatres of the serious drama hover on the edge of bankruptcy.

Some men have been quite successful in minding their own business, while others have been able to pay a man a salary for the same.
