FILIPINO STATESMAN BURSTS INTO FLOWER

GIVES TONGUE TO GRAND- ILOQUENT MASTERPIECE

Hon Pablo Ocampo de Leon Given Reception on His Homecoming and Treats Natives to An Oratorical Delicacy.

Washington.--With the assistance of a translator and native typesetters, the Hon. Pablo Ocampo de Leon, former resident Commissioner of the Philippine Islands in the United States, has succeeded in pulling off one of the most flowery orations that ever came out of the east.

The speech was delivered at a "popular banquet" given in honor of Ocampo on his return from the United States by members of the various political parties at Manila. Several hundred copies of the speech have just arrived in Washington, addressed to official friends and acquaintances of the Filipino statesman.

The oration was delivered by Ocampo in his native language, was then translated into English, and printed by Filipino workmen who understood no English. This sounds impossible, but as a matter of fact, practically all the typesetting in English, done in the Philippines is the work of natives who know no English.

This is one of the literary gems with which the Hon. Pablo is credited in the translation which has reached America:

"In the improbable case of having been successful in my mission in America, I would say, perhaps, that this outburst of enthusiasm, a magnificent manifestation of esteem, is something like a corollary of a duty fully fulfilled. But since I cannot claim I have done in favor of the country, and reading between the lines, I see in this great conjunction of sympathies which, without any false modesty on my part, contrasts with the humbleness of my personality, a sincere expression of welcome, generously extended to me by a brilliant group of notable compatriots. Therefore, unable to frame an adequate form of expressing myself, I beg of you to accept, concisely, without the gracefulness of a fine speech, the testimony of my most profound thankfulness, for the distinguished honor you bestow upon me an honor which, in no way, I do deserve."

The Hon. Pablo is an enthusiast on the subject of ultimate Philippine independence, and that was the theme of his speech. His conclusion--via the translator--was as follows: "This belief moves me to say that, despite the fact that I have traveled already through the boundaries of the ocean of life, and taking advantage of this solemn occasion, without ambiguities and round-about phrases, I entertain a sincere and ardent hope of yet being a witness of the redemption of the Philippine islands, before my wife and children stamp upon my motionless forehead the sweet and last osculation of peace."

Alone in a Saw Mill at Midnight. unmindful of dampness, drafts, storms or cold. W. J. Atkins worked as night watchman, at Banner Springs, Tenn. Such exposure gave him a severe cold that settled on his lungs. At last he had to give up work. He tried many remedies but all failed till he used Dr. King's New Discovery. "After using one bottle," he writes, "I went back to work as well as ever." Severe colds, stubborn coughs, inflamed throats and sore lungs, hemorrhages, croup and whooping cough get quick relief and prompt cure from this glorious medicine. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free, guaranteed by Tallman & Co.

1910 WILL BE ANOTHER YEAR OF CENTENARIES

New York.--During the new year 1910 will be celebrated the centenary anniversaries of many Americans who achieved eminence in various lines. Notable among them was a group of clergymen including John McCloskey of New York, first American cardinal; M. J. Spaulding, archbishop of Baltimore; those three eminent lights of the Unitarian church, Theodore Parker, William Henry Channing and James Freeman Clarke; William E.

Pinkney, Mathew Simpson, D. S. Doggett and G. M. Randall, Protestant bishops; Ellihu Burritt, "the Learned Blacksmith;" Asa Gray, botanist; Cassius M. Clary and Robert Toombs, statesmen; Horatio Seymour, political leader; John G. Gilbert, actor, and P. T. Barnum, showman.

RUSSIAN CAVALRY OFFICER DOES REMARKABLE FEAT

London.--A Russian cavalry officer has accomplished a remarkable ride of 1250 miles from Riepen, in the government of Plozsk, to St. Petersburg.

He covered an average of nearly forty-four miles daily, and in the last two days rode eighty and fifty-six miles, respectively. His horse was about twenty years old. The officer lost six pounds in weight and the horse forty-five.
