Silent Auction

at The Gift Room, next door to Koepkens Drug Store.

Every article in the Gift Room included in this sale, excepting gold band dinner ware, which is sold under a different plan as stated below.

Everything in new annex will be sold to the highest bidder regardless of cost—Koeppen gets the first bid, (which will be one-half the regular price), and the first bid after that must be a 10 per cent. advance above the half-price bid, and after that a bid for any amount will be allowed.

The sale begins Saturday, Jan. 1st, and continues ten business days, ending Wednesday evening at 5 o'clock, January 12, 1910.

Remember this sale will be a genuine silent auction sale, and means just what it says—'a silent sale'; none but the person in charge will know who does the bidding, but the amount will be placed on a card attached to the different articles and at the close of the sale, Wednesday, January 12th, the bids will be opened by a committee of three and the successful ones notified at once.

Example of sale plan:

For instance the regular price of the article is $4.00, Koeppen's bid would be $2.00; the first bid at a 10 per cent. advance of the half-price bid would be $2.20, then any amount is allowed.

Full particulars at the Gift Room on Saturday at the beginning of the sale. Be sure and investigate this plan as you may have the opportunity of buying some article that you wish at about half-price.

The sale includes cut glass, hand-painted china, brass goods, jardineres, umbrella stands, comb and brush sets, manicure sets, unframed pictures, traveling cases, etc., etc.

White and Gold Dinner Ware will be on sale on our half giving away plan—that is, we give you half as much free of charge as you buy. For instance: if you buy $1.00 worth of china at regular price, we make you a present of 50c worth of china absolutely free of charge.

We do not think it necessary to explain any further, as you undoubtedly are acquainted with the plan, as we inaugurated and conducted a most successful half giving away plan last spring, and judging by the popularity and amount of goods sold under this plan, it certainly must have met with the approval of the buying public.

BEARDS THE LION.

Little Sailor Defies Samuel Gompers in a Labor Meeting.

New York.—When Samuel Gompers appeared at Cooper Union to preside over the mass meeting of the International Seamen's union, after making a speech he put to the house a set of resolutions which declared that seamen were slaves. Up jumped a small and plump sailor from the middle of the house, hurled what feet and knees were in his way, sprang into the aisle and shook his fist at Gompers.

"I protest—" he shouted, and kept right on down the aisle toward the stage.

"Stop right there!" shouted Gompers, angrily. "Don't you come another step!"

"I protest," said the little sailor, still coming. "You and your dirty gang have no right to set up to represent the seamen!"

"Stop! stop!" cried Gompers. "Stop, I tell you! If you come another step I'll have the police put you out!"

"And this is your bloody free speech, is it?" the sailor shot out right under Gompers' nose. "Here I am and here I squat!"

And he dropped down into a front row seat and glared bravely at the agitated labor leader.

Gompers hesitated a moment and then called for three cheers for the International Union. The crowd yelled and the little sailor waited until the noise died away. Then he bowed scornfully. Back in the house the husky policemen laughed among themselves.

Mr. Gompers didn't get to the meeting on the dot. He said he had to wait until he was sure the supreme court wouldn't care, and then he caught a train and an automobile at the depot, and there he was. He said that sailors were at the mercy of the hounds of the government, and he thought it was about time that workmen got together and throttled the dogs.

It is no wonder, he said, that the American merchant marine couldn't get young Americans to man vessels. Conditions were so horrible, said he, with a stamp of his foot and a whack of his hand, that the boys of America refuse to go to sea. For that reason, too, it was difficult to get sailors for the United States navy.

"Why, if conditions are not changed on the great lakes pretty soon," shouted Mr. Gompers, "Japs and Chamen and other kinds of pigtails will be manning fresh water vessels."

"TOP OF THE EARTH" SCORES HIT IN FRISCO

San Francisco, Cal., January 3.—Bailey and Austin made their first appearance tonight at the Garrick theater as the stars of the musical comedy, "The Top of the World," before an audience that jammed the theater and scored one of the greatest triumphs ever accorded a visiting attraction. They were recalled again and again and were obliged to respond in speeches. "The Top of the World" is one of the best musical comedies that has been seen in this city in many a day. Novelties follow one another in rapid succession. The piece is a rapid fire hit all through. Bailey and Austin have a clever company and one of the largest, prettiest, classiest choruses seen here in many seasons. The production is most lavish and sparkles with a brightness that is positively refreshing for an eastern production.
