Newsy Notes of Pendleton

Son Was Born.
At the home of Phillip Minthorn, upon the reservation, a son was born recently to Mrs. Jason Wannassy of Lapwai. The mother is the daughter of Phillip Minthorn.

Laying Heavier Rails.
In preparation for the appearance of the new 350-ton engines which are to be installed on the O. R. & N., 85-pound steel rails are being laid on the "Ys" at Pendleton, Gibbon and Duncan.

Church of the Redeemer.
The Litany will be said tomorrow morning and an address given by the Right Rev. R. L. Paddock, bishop of eastern Oregon, at 10 o'clock. All are cordially invited. Charles Quinney, rector.

Mrs. T. C. Benson and Mrs. Arthur Benson, both of Portland, are now in the city visiting relatives. They expect to return to Portland tomorrow. J. B. Kennedy was a passenger on the incoming Northern Pacific passenger today.

Foot of Snow at Albee.
James Lehman, the founder of Lehman springs, who has been spending the winter on Camas prairie, came in from that place this morning. He says there was a foot of snow when he left there yesterday.

Do You Want to Sell?
If you want to sell your business of any kind, or if you want to sell your property, and will make the price right, I want to hear from you. Give description and price. Address J. E. Smith, 513 Chamber of Commerce, Portland, Oregon.

Railroad Officials Here.
Among the railroad officials who are here today for the trial of the big damage suit against the O. R. & N. company, are Assistant Superintendent A. Buckley, K. A. J. McKenzie, Attorney Arthur Spencer of the legal department and Attorney George N. Smith of the claims department.

Girls to Play at Weston.
The girls' basketball team of the Pendleton high school leave Saturday noon for Weston, where that night they are scheduled for a game with the girls of the Weston high. The locals expect to duplicate their last week's victory over the Athena high. The lineup will probably be exactly the same as it was in the Athena game.

Charles Bean Transfers.
Charles Bean, who has been night man at the Pacific Express company's office for the past year and a half, left yesterday on the noon train for Walla Walla, having accepted the position of express messenger on the Walla Walla-Walla run. His brother, Frank Bean, who has been his assistant for several months, has been promoted to his place, while Roy Herr is to be assistant.

Interested in Poultry Show.
W. T. Reeves, one of the pioneer residents of the county, is up today from his home near Stanfield. He is greatly interested in the coming poultry show to be held in this city and expects to be here with some fine birds to exhibit and for the purpose of buying others. He is a breeder of Plymouth Rocks and has been breeding up for six or seven years until he thinks he has something pretty good. He is anxious to have his birds scored to find out how good they are as he is to win prizes.

Debates Begin January 22.
The first debates of the high school debating league are to be held Saturday evening, January 22. On that evening the Pendleton high school will have two teams on the rostrum. The affirmative team will debate with Athena at this place, while the negative team will debate with Weston at Weston. Weston's negative team will debate Athena's affirmative team at Athena. All teams will debate the same subject, which is, "Resolved, That life imprisonment, with proper limitations as to the pardoning power, would be better than capital punishment within the state of Oregon."

Fine Music for Hen Show.
The first rehearsal of the big orchestra which will furnish the music for the big poultry show to be held here Jan. 25-27, was held last evening in the music rooms of the Sherman Clay Piano house in the Elks building last evening. This orchestra is composed of the following well known musicians under the direction of Prof. Frank Carruth. Wm. Goddard, O. M. Heacock and Frank Carruth violins. Mrs. Wm. Humphrey piano, Ralph Folsom Cornet, Dick Barks clarinet, Clive Cheshire trombone, Frank Hays horn, J. C. McConnell, double bass, and R. W. Fletcher drums. A flute and piccolo and possibly another horn, also cello, will be added which with the above combination will beyond a doubt make one of the best orchestras heard in this section of the country for some time.

TWO PORTABLE DEPOTS.
Kaiser Orders Stations That Can Be Carried for His Comfort.
Berlin.—The Kaiser has ordered two portable railroad depots from a Posen engineering firm. Built of wood and iron, these stations are made to be quickly put together and taken down, so that when traveling in a remote part of the empire—on manoeuvres, for instance—the Kaiser can command that there be a station erected at any point on the railroad he chooses. The structure consists of a large reception room and several small bedrooms, to accommodate the Emperor and his suite.

INDIANS DEFEAT NORTHERN PACIFIC

REGAIN THEIR TITLE TO VALUABLE LANDS

Court Decision Gives Yakima Tribe Possession of 160,976 Acres of Timber and Agricultural Lands, Valued at $2,000,000.

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 13.—Indians of the Yakima tribe came into their own when Judge Whitson, sitting in the United States circuit court for the district of eastern Washington, handed down a decision in the suit of the United States against the Northern Pacific Railway company, by which 160,976 acres of timber and agricultural lands in the Cedar River valley in the southern part of the Yakima reservation reverts to the red men.

The land is valued at $2,000,000 and is covered by a mortgage held by the Mercantile Trust company of New York, to secure an issue of bonds for the first construction of the railroad through Washington. If the findings are sustained by the supreme court of the United States on appeal, it will mean a reallocation to the Indians and the readjustment of the entries of several hundred homesteaders in the district, also hasten the opening of 600,000 acres of land in the reservation.

Judge Whitson holds that the act of congress in 1887, granting the land to the railroad, did not extinguish the title of the Indians to it, or quash the treaty made with the tribe by Territorial Governor Isaac Stevens at Walla Walla in June, 1869, wherein the tract in litigation was annexed to the reservation. The government contended that the surveys were incorrect, either through fraud or mistake, and that the grant was intended by congress to be bounded by the natural divide of the land, the surveys of the railroad overlapping, and as such it should revert to the tribe.

The railroad set out that the statute of limitation had expired, but this contention was set aside by decisions of the supreme court of the United States covering similar cases in New Mexico and Nebraska. The original and later surveys made by the railroad were declared to be correct, also, that inasmuch as the land was granted in good faith, the title still held good.

Watch for the "Red Goose" CHILD BROUGHT INTO WORLD LIKE ITS MOTHER

Spokane, Wash.—Surgeons in Sacred Heart hospital in Spokane successfully performed what is known as a Caesarean section in the accouchment of Mrs. C. W. McKane, 5 East Montgomery avenue, delivering a healthy and well proportioned girl baby weighing seven pounds. Mother and infant are living. A remarkable coincidence in connection with this case is that Mrs. McKane was brought into the world in a similar manner, her mother, Mrs. J. Beedle, having submitted to a Caesarean section at St. Paul, 20 years ago. Mrs. McKane weighs between 75 and 90 pounds and could be put in the middle class, while her husband is of average stature and proportions. She is possessed of a remarkable constitution and reserve vitality, which surgeons and attending nurses at the hospital

State Fish Causes Trouble.

One of the most amusing incidents which have occurred in or about Pendleton for some time, happened last night. The trouble is alleged to have been caused by the serving of a state salmon to a party of three traveling men who were coming in last night on the Spokane train. The usually good humored knights of the grip are said to have rebelled at this attempt to supply them with anything but the freshest of Oregon's royal chinook and to have refused to liquidate for the price of the meal. Fred Stevenson, the well-known and popular dining car conductor, ever watchful for the interest of the railroad company, undertook to hold a suit case as security for the meal check and the mix-up was on in earnest. As it happened the suit case was the property of "Little Jimmy" of the Western Crack company and he was the only one of the trio coming on to Pendleton. The other two stopped before this city was reached and for that reason it devolved upon "Little Jimmy" to uphold the dignity of the profession. After much masticating of the cloth, and calling in of policeman and city attorney, the dispute was settled amicably with the drummer as victor, being in possession of suit case and money.

Just Good Enough to Be Dangerous!

If poor advertising mediums were ENTIRELY worthless, they would not be dangerous! For they could not, then, make any appeal whatever to sensible advertisers.

But an advertising medium which has a LITTLE MERIT is, like "a little knowledge," a "dangerous thing." Some business men there are, always, who--for considerations of "cheapness," etc.,---will either rely upon such mediums wholly, or give them an absurdly large part in their advertising Campaigns.
