HOTEL BARS MAY GET LICENCES AGAIN

NEW COUNCIL RESCINDS OLD RIGID RULING

Decides to Use Own Discretion in Granting Renewal of License to Sell Near Beer to Men Convicted of Illegal Practices.

The rule made by the old council that a conviction for illegal liquor selling or a plea of guilty to that charge would mean a revocation of a near beer license, has been changed by the new council. Owing to the difficulty encountered in preventing the guilty men to retain control of the near beer saloons by having someone else secure the license, the council at a caucus last Monday evening decided that it was better not to have any hard and fast rules, but to leave themselves free to use discretion.

One argument made in favor of changing the rule was the one that it would be easier to control and regulate places owned by men who have been found guilty once and who therefore face a prison sentence if they are found guilty again than it would be to regulate places conducted by men who have nothing more serious than fines hanging over their heads.

The discussion arose over the question of renewing the licenses for the barrooms of the Hotel Pendleton and the Hotel St. George. The proprietors of both these places recently entered pleas of guilty to the charge of illegal liquor selling and were fined. According to the decision reached Monday night and ratified by a vote of the council last evening, these men will be granted licenses under certain restrictions. The licenses are to be issued to the owners of the places and not to hired men. The license for the Hotel St. George barroom is to be held up pending the erection of a glass front between the barroom and the hotel lobby.

The license for the Hotel Pendleton bar does not expire until February, but that for the Hotel St. George expired January 1 and since that time no drinks of any kind have been sold. It is expected that Mr. Darveau, the proprietor, will comply with the requirements of the council without delay.

Other than the license question, no business of importance was transacted last evening. John Dyer, the newly appointed councilman from the first ward, was present last night and took his seat. Councilman J. L. Sharon was absent, having been called to Vancouver by the death of his father-in-law.

Former Pitcher Dies.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 12.—Harry Staley of this city, formerly pitcher with Boston, St. Louis, Pittsburgh and other National league teams, died in Battle Creek, Mich., today following an operation. He was 44 years old.

Another Fatal Explosion.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Jan. 12.—Five men and a boy are dead and six men severely injured as the result of an explosion at the Nottingham colliery in this city. All but one of the victims are foreigners.

DRUNKEN BRUTE KILLS HIS CRIPPLED WIFE

New Orleans, Jan. 13.—Enraged, it is alleged, because his crippled wife would not submit to his drunken carousings, James McElroy, a wealthy retired cotton planter, shot and fatally wounded her today. Neighbors, hearing the shots and screams of his wife, hurried to the McElroy home but were held off by the planter until his victim was dead. McElroy was arrested and claims his wife, who was stricken with locomotor ataxia, soon after marriage, attacked him with her crutches, and that he shot her in self defense. McElroy's neighbors are incensed and muttered threats against the slayer are frequent today.

MINE OWNERS WAGE WAR AGAINST UNIONS

Deadwood, S. D., Jan. 13.—Thirteen of the largest mines in the Black Hills district shut down today following the announcement that owners intend to wage a bitter battle against unions in that section. Eight hundred men are idle in addition to those thrown out of employment by the Homestead mine, one of the largest producers in South Dakota, which suspended operations several months ago.

A. C. Schindler Is Injured.

San Francisco, Jan. 12.—A. C. Schindler, general manager of the Northern Electric company, was severely, if not fatally, injured today when caught between a door casing and an elevator floor in the Alaska commercial building. His right thigh was badly fractured and his back was wrenched. It is thought that he may have suffered internal injuries. A hasty examination showed his condition to be critical.

Station Collapses, Burying Operators.

Boston, Jan. 13.—It is reported here that the New England Telephone company's station at Brighton, a suburb of Boston, collapsed this afternoon, burying a number of operators. No details have been received.

Cannon Will Not Resign.

Washington—Speaker Cannon when asked about a report that he would not be a candidate for the speakership for the next congress, declared that he would quit public life when his constituents failed to elect him and not before and that he had not the slightest intention of retiring from the speakership.

SIX GIRLS IN THE MIDWINTER CLASS

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES WILL GIVE PROGRAM

Program at Presbyterian Church January 21—Spring Class Will be Largest in History of School.

Six students of the Pendleton high school are to be graduated from that institution at a midwinter commencement to be held Friday evening, January 21. Those in the class are Miss Hazel Means, Misses Lucile and Hazel Rader, Miss Margaret Lowell, Miss Edna Slater and Miss Grace Cole. They were all members of the midwinter class that entered the high school four years ago.

The graduating program is to be held at the Presbyterian church and will be largely of a musical nature. Vocal and instrumental selections will be given by the various graduates. The invocation will be by Rev. W. H. Dieakney, the commencement address by Rev. Raymond C. Brooks of Walla Walla, while Dr. C. J. Smith, will present the diplomas for the school board. The benediction will be by Rev. A. Mackenzie Meldrum.

Contrary to the usual commencement custom there will be no orations by the graduates, not even the usual salutatory and valedictory efforts. The following is the list of those prepared by the graduates:

- Oregon, a Land of Promise..... Grace Cole
- The Spirit of Mary Lyon in the Life of Today..... Margaret Lowell
- The Excellence of Humor..... Hazel Means
- The Red Cross Age..... Hazel Rader
- Benedict Arnold..... Lucile Rader
- The Growth of Music as a Fine Art..... Edna Slater

The baccalaureate address will be given at the Church of the Redeemer Sunday, January 16, and will be by the Rev. Charles Quinny, rector of the church.

From indications at present there will be 26 or 27 members of the high school class to graduate in the spring. It will be by far the largest class in the history of the school.

MOUNTS INTO THE SKY.

as he made a short circle over the mass of craning spectators. Curtiss had left the higher currents and come down. Hamilton had landed tamely. Paulhan pointed north, went up 1,000 feet, passed over the center of the field again as though to take another look at the faces below him, then turned north and swept up again.

Climbs Steadily Upward.

By this time just one thing in all the universe for the crowd—the man and his air conquering machine rapidly became a speck in the gathering twilight. It seemed as though this must be something new even to the eternal hills and the wild old sea.

At an estimated height of 1,300 feet, Paulhan described a great circle, as if feeling the currents. He was a mile and a half from the camp. By that time word had been spread that he had beaten the world's record and the crowd was aroused to frenzy. He was still climbing. He had taken Jacob's ladder of dreams to the threshold of the stars.

Four thousand feet and still climbing. Sense of distance from earth was lost almost. Had the void swallowed the man and his little wings no one would have been surprised.

The machine became plainer to the view. Paulhan was descending. He swept easily in front of the grand stand after being nearly 51 minutes in the air. As he leaped from his machine with cheeks glowing and eyes flashing, he was seized by his friends and carried to the edge of the grandstand where he bared his head to the thunder of cheers that came in his honor.

Aviator Comes to Earth.

Los Angeles, Jan. 13.—The first attempted flight today at Aviation Field resulted in a mishap. Hillary Beachy took out his new Gill-Dosch biplane, and after several vain attempts to get the engine started, he left the ground in nice shape and flew about 100 feet when the engines stopped. The machine struck the ground heavily, and one of its wings were broken. This will put it out of commission for a day at least. Beachy was uninjured beyond a slight jarring. He was much downcast on account of the accident as he had set his heart on flying today.

WOMAN HEADS LIST OF BIG TAX PAYERS

New York.—Mrs. Emma B. Kennedy heads the list of personal tax assessments just made public in New York. She is the widow of the late John S. Kennedy, who left $26,000,000 to charity when he died recently, and she must pay taxes on personal property valued at $6,000,000.

Andrew Carnegie, who topped the list last year, tied this year for second place with Mrs. Russell Sage at $5,000,000. John D. Rockefeller comes third with personal property assessed at $2,500,000 and in fourth place are Florence Anshack, Bessie McLeod Leggett and W. K. Vanderbilt, each assessed for $1,000,000. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., is listed for $500,000.

New York City gains approximately $267,000,000 on its legal debt-limit, as indicated by the increased values announced today. The borrowing capacity as heretofore fixed by law was about $59,000,000, but the assessed valuation of real estate is $6,500,187,322, as against $6,333,177,804 last year, an increase of $267,009,518.

FRATERNAL SOCIETIES BREAK SUNDAY FUNERAL BOYCOTT

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 13.—Fraternal societies in Spokane have started a campaign against an agreement by the Ministerial association, the undertakers and cemetery managers of Spokane not to conduct funerals or burials, except in cases of contagious diseases on Sundays. The first to break away was Spokane Lodge No. 228, B. P. O. E., officers of which took charge of the funeral services and burial of William H. Chambers, a mining man, widely known in Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Colorado, Montana, Nevada, California and Alaska. Attorney F. Conrad Robertson delivered the eulogy and the Elks' service was read by Alex M. Hogg, exalted ruler, and J. H. Travers, chaplain. Five hundred members of the order and friends attended the funeral, interrupted being made at Elks' Rest in Greenwood cemetery, where officers and members of the lodge lowered the casket and filled the grave with earth.
