BLACKS FOR THE BLACKS AND WHITES FOR WHITES

Washington.—The census bureau a found it necessary to draw the color line. There was a fearsome howl from the south when it was announced that the director expected enumerators to cure statistics of the negroes as well m of the whites, and now that he has further stated, as a result of that howl, that negroes are to be appoint d to collect figures regarding their ruce, the south is vociferating as loudly as before.

House it is that Director Durand as found it desirable to explain the Clude of his bureau, and in an ofcial letter sent to all census supermore he directs that they select negroes to count members of their own race in those districts where two-fifths or more of the population consists of negroes. He does not "consider it desirable that in the south egroes should enumerate white fames," and informs the supervisors ha Follette calls attention to the that it will be necessary in many diset that the president did not criti- tricts to appoint both a white and a negro enumerator.
