The Jeffries-Gotch special train will reach this city from La Grande at 6:30 this evening.

Drug Inspector Here.
John H. Garber, food and drug inspector of the bureau of chemistry, U. S. department of agriculture, was in the city in his official capacity. He left this morning for La Grande.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.
The monthly meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held at the home of Mrs. A. W. Rugg, 1310 East Court street, on Friday afternoon, January 28, at 2:30 o'clock. All members are urged to be present and everybody is invited.

Comet A Is Here.
Comet A '10 was visible here last evening and was an object of interest to many local people. It appeared just above the horizon to the west about 5:30 and was visible until 7:30. The tail of the comet points directly upward.

Big Engine Here Again.
The big Mallet engine No. 450 was again in Pendleton this forenoon and about 11 o'clock left for La Grande. The engine is being driven by Engineer Giddings and while the monster was in the local yards was viewed with interest by a large number of people.

Matlock Is Recovering.
W. F. Matlock of this city and who has been at the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland for some time past has recovered sufficiently to be able to leave the hospital. He was released from that institution yesterday morning and according to Dr. C. J. Smith, his Pendleton physician, he is now at a private home in Portland.

Routine Council Meeting.
Last night's meeting of the city council was devoted almost entirely to the transaction of routine business. Bids on the city printing were received from the East Oregonian Publishing company and the Pendleton printing. These bids were referred to a printing committee composed of Councilmen Brock, Knight and Strain.

Beck Divorce Suit.
A divorce suit has been filed by Mrs. Lulu E. Beck against Fred W. Beck, the complaint being filed today by Raley & Raley. In the same it is charged that the defendant has followed a course of cruel and inhuman treatment towards his wife and has led a fast or immoral life. The Becks were married here December 24, 1904.

Mine Looks Promising.
Dan E. Stalter formerly of Heppner and who is now president of the Heppner mining company, is in the city today. The mine owned by his company is situated between Susanville and Greenhorn on the middle fork of the John Day river. It is now making an unusually good showing and Mr. Stalter is filled with hope for the future. Frank Duprat of this place has a mine immediately adjoining the property of the Heppner company.

Book for Musicians.
"Grove's Dictionary of Music and Musicians" is without doubt one of the very finest and most useful musical reference books in print. The revised edition, which is to be in five volumes when completed, is really an encyclopedia of music. It has the dictionary, an alphabetical arrangement of music are neglecting a privilege if they are not making use of this dictionary, which is in the local library.

Sunday School Institute.
A Sunday school institute will be held in the Baptist church in Pendleton on Saturday next, beginning at 9:30 a. m. The principal speaker will be Rev. W. C. Merritt, international secretary for the Pacific northwest. The officers, teachers and scholars are urged to come and the public is invited. The matters discussed will pertain to Sunday school work. On Sunday Rev. Mr. Merritt will speak in the Baptist church at the regular morning service and at a union meeting in the Methodist church in the evening. You will be well paid for your attendance at any of these meetings.

"BEVERLY" DRAMA ADHERES CLOSELY TO NOVEL

A. G. Delamater and William Norris' production of George Barr McCutcheon's "Beverly," to be presented at the Oregon theater on February 1, is a masterly dramatization by Robert B. Baker of Mr. McCutcheon's popular, entertaining and best selling novel, "Beverly of Graustark." The dramatist has adhered very closely to the book, and admirably succeeded in retaining the romantic atmosphere of Mr. McCutcheon's charming little mythical principality, and all of the beautiful scenes pictures in the book have been realistically and artistically transferred to the stage by means of the massive and elaborate scenic production with which the play is mounted. All of the interesting characters of the story have also been retained in the play and are she believes to be a band of brigands, proceeds at once to fall desperately in love with the leader of the band who is wounded in her defence. She masquerades as the princess, and after any number of humorous and exciting adventures is wooed and won by her outcast hero who eventually turns out to be none other than Prince Dantan. The play has been cast with extreme care and mounted with an elaborate and massive scenic production.

Notice Farmers Union. There will be a meeting of the Farmers Union in Helix, Oregon, on Friday, Jan. 28, for the purpose of discussing the grain bag, twine, warehouse and telephone system questions. The managers of the Pacific States Telephone Co. will be present and all members are requested to attend.

more entertaining in real life than in the story. The Beverly of the play is Beverly Calhoun of Washington, D. C., a typical bright American girl, who accompanied only by her old colored servant, Aunt Fanny, journeys to Graustark at a time when that country is on the verge of war to visit Yevite, the ruling princess. She is deserted in the mountains by her escort, falls into the hands of what

An Old Machine.

The Tubingen Morgenblatt of Oct. 31, 1829, contains a description of such a machine as then in use in the London coffee house. It was in the shape of a tobacco jar, which stood on the table and had a slot into which a penny had to be inserted to obtain a pipeful of tobacco. The weight of the coin depressed a lever and released a lock. The writer adds that a halfpenny would not do the trick, and the would be cheat could not recover his money.

—London Notes and Queries.

The Judge Agreed.

It is recorded that Lord Mansfield, the famous English judge of the second half of the eighteenth century, listened impatiently to an argument of Sir Fletcher Norton upon a case involving certain municipal rights.

"My lord," said Norton, who was insufferably dictatorial, "I can instance the point in question. I have myself two little manors."

"We are well aware of that," responded Lord Mansfield, seizing his opportunity.
