Newsy Notes of Pendleton

Civic Club Will Meet.
A meeting of the Civic Club will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the city hall. All members of the club are urged to attend.

County Court Adjourns.
The county court wound up the business of the February term today and adjourned this afternoon to meet again on the first Wednesday in March.

Error in Score.
A typographical error made this paper say last night that the high school defeated the academy at basketball Wednesday night by the score of 55 to 0, when the official score was 55 to 6. Apologies are proffered.

Will Witness Here.
Attorney S. F. Wilson and A. E. Dudley, came down from Athena this morning to acknowledge their signatures as witnesses to the last will and testament of the late T. J. Kirk, which was admitted to probate today.

Leaves for College.
Carl Engdahl, one of Pendleton's popular sons, leaves this evening on the Northern Pacific for Pasco, where he will take the North Bank for Portland. His ultimate destination is Eugene, where he will enter the University of Oregon at the commencement of the second semester.

Wife Alleges Desertion.
Mrs. Minnie Aaron filed a suit for divorce in the circuit court today against Benjamin Aaron. Desertion is alleged as grounds for legal separation. The parties to this suit were married in Spokane, Jan. 29, 1905, and have one child, a boy of three years. Mrs. Aaron asks for the care and custody of this child.

Girl Witness Arrested.
Miss Mary Jones of Weiser, Idaho, was arrested here by Sheriff Taylor and will be taken back to the Idaho city tonight by Sheriff S. J. Courdin of that county to testify against her uncle. It seems that the girl is an orphan and had been making her home with her uncle who is accused of a series of statutory crimes with the girl as the victim.

Planning Thorough Crusade.
Yesterday and today have been devoted by the traction system workers to a classification of the people of the city with reference to probable subscriptions to the fund being raised. Also additional men to serve upon the committee are being selected. As soon as this preliminary work can be completed the task of raising the remainder of the fund will be taken up earnestly and systematically.

Two New Teachers.
Teaching contracts have been filed with County Superintendent Welles by Mrs. Jennie Gains Watts and Miss Louise Wise. The former is a resident of Athena and is to take the place of Miss Orswell in the Athena schools, who was compelled to resign her position because of ill health. The second is from Stellacoom, Washington, and is to take the place of Mrs. Monkman in the Hermiston schools, Mrs. Monkman having been called east by the illness of her parents.

Bad Check Artist in Toils.
Fred M. Parker the young man who passed four bad checks last week on Pendleton merchants and was given an opportunity to make good, but failed, was placed behind the bars today. He represented that a sum of money had been placed to his credit in the American National Bank but he never went near the place to see if the money had been left there and never made any other attempt to make the checks good. The men who had cashed his bad paper therefore became uneasy and he was arrested.

Family Fight; Jail for Two.
Rye Colbert is in the county jail and J. J. Gervais is in the city calaboose as the result of a family fight which occurred at Tom Meyers' residence on the north side, last evening. Colbert is charged by Gervais with injury by ballot, while Gervais is charged with assault. It seems that Colbert was in possession of a gun belonging to Gervais and which the latter demanded. Colbert, however, said Gervais owed him some money and he proposed to hold the gun as security. The fight ensued and likewise the arrests. Colbert's head is swathed in a broad bandage as the result of a deep scalp wound received in the melee, while the other man looks little the worse for his encounter. Both are residents of Chabasco Hill.

WEDDING GUESTS HAVE FREE-FOR-ALL.
Lubbock.—A sanguinary fight at a wedding feast is reported from Rueda. To celebrate his wedding, Juan Blanco, the son of a wealthy merchant, gave a grand dinner, followed by a ball, to which the elite of the district were invited. After some of the company engaged in a gambling game and differences arose between a player and the banker. Hot words soon led to blows and the guests took sides. A general conflict ensued, in which revolvers and stiletos were freely used. The uproar, mingled with the shrieks of the women, soon brought the civil guard to the scene, whereupon the fighters escaped through the back windows overlooking the gardens. The casualties in the fight were two killed and seven wounded, three seriously.

Christian Science church at Kansas City burned. Or so it seemed. But if the burning of it was something evil, and if evil doesn't exist, wasn't the burning merely imaginary?

One illustrated song.

BAILEY AND AUSTIN AT OREGON THEATRE TONIGHT

Wonders never cease in the theatrical world. Stars and plays are made in a night. The final fall of the curtain though it may be raised a dozen times signifies nothing. It's the moulders of public opinion—the critics that seem to be the arbiters. If you can please three or four in New York and have Chicago confirm it you can gamble the piece is safe.

As "The Wizard of Oz" made Montgomery and Stone, so has "The Top O' Th' World" made Bailey and Austin, who are now full fledged stars, they having served their apprenticeship and after this season in this vehicle which comes to the Oregon tonight, they will again grace Broadway with a big musical offering by one of the most successful composers.

It's worth while however, to quote a few excerpts from these hard-to-please critics of the New York press, like Charles Darnton of the World, Acton Davies of the Evening Sun, and Glenmore Davis in the Globe, as well as Ashton Stevens in the Evening Journal.
