

"NICK" MOST BASHFUL MAN IN HOUSE

MARRIAGE BLUSHES UPON EVERY OCCASION

Representative Longworth, Husband of "Lady Alice" Cannot Stand Public Gaze—Notoriety He Has Received is His Undoing.

Washington.—"Who is that nice looking baldheaded man?"
"That is Mr. Longworth."
"Oh, the Mr. Longworth? The Mr. Longworth that married Alice Roosevelt?" Oh, I'm so glad he's here today, for I did want to see him so much. But how baldheaded he is. Oh, goody goody. I do believe he is going to speak."

There was a craning of necks in the House gallery; an ecstatic chorus of "Oh's"; a rustling of silken skirts; and a broad grin or two exchanged by the guides that had the curious tourists in tow.

The baldheaded man rose from his seat very abruptly, asked Speaker Cannon a parliamentary question, and sat down even more abruptly. In the brief moment that he was on his feet his face became three degrees rosier than usual—"Nick" has a good, healthy glow on his face ordinarily—and the blush mounted from the forehead to his bald spot and traveled all over the expansive clearing until it lost itself in the fringe of hair above the collar.

"Why, see how red he's getting on top of the head," cried one of the fair tourists.

"Is he as bashful as all that?" asked another.

"He's the most bashful man in the House," replied the human guide book. "He's so bashful that he blushes every time the clerk calls his name."

"Why?" demanded the young woman who had come all the way from New England and was bound to get her money's worth.

"Maybe he was born that way," said the guide. "Maybe it is because he knows that a crowd of good looking women are taking him in every time he gets up to speak."

"Nick's marriage to Miss Roosevelt might near put him to the bad as a member of the House," said one of Longworth's congressional colleagues. "Every time he gets up on his feet he feels as though every woman in the gallery had her finger on top of his head and was turning him round and round, as if he was on a pivot, to examine him. He is naturally an unassuming, diffident sort of a chap anyway, and all the notoriety he has got since his marriage to the daughter of the former president has simply had the effect of putting him in a perpetual panic." The result of it is that he never gets up on the floor unless he has to, and then drops down again as though he were hit by a brick as soon as he has had his little say. Nick has all kinds of ideas and with his experience would make a valuable member if he were not scared stiff. It is a pity that he can't have an umbrella or some other shield to hide the galleries from him when he wants to talk.

No false pretense has marked the career of Ely's Cream Balm. Being entirely harmless, it is not responsible like the catarrh snuffs and powders, for minds shattered by cocaine. The great virtue of Ely's Cream Balm is that it speedily and completely overcomes nasal catarrh and hay fever. WIFE KISSES TOO LONG; HE SUES FOR DIVORCE

Chicago.—"My wife's kisses last 10 minutes, and I don't like 'em that long," was Sol Lowenthal's defense in Magistrate Corrigan's court today when his wife accused him of not loving her any more, says a dispatch from New York to the American.

Lowenthal had his wife in court for leaving him.
Magistrate Corrigan declined to act as a Solomon and sent the couple home with the injunction to agree upon the length of time a family kiss should consume.

DUKE AND A DANCER PRINCIPALS IN ROMANCE

New York.—A romance in which the Duke of Westminster and Miss Merville Miller, who is a prominent dancer in "Our Miss Giggles," were the principals has just come to light, says a cable from London to the American.

Miss Miller, who is the wife of

BRONCHIAL TUBES ALL STUFFED UP

"While a resident of Washington, D. C., I suffered continually and intensely with a bronchial trouble that was simply terrible to endure. I would have sworn that I could hardly breathe. I would choke up, fill up in my throat and bronchial tubes, and the doctoring that I did and the remedies used were of no benefit to me whatever. I heard of Booth's Hyomei being so beneficial in catarrhs and bronchial affections and procured an outfit. I received relief from the first by its use. I continued with it and received a cure. It is about two years since I have suffered at all from my former trouble." Mrs. R. L. Pannell, 404 N. Augusta street, Staunton, Va., March 26, 1909.

Hyomei is guaranteed by Tallman & Co. to cure catarrh, croup, bronchitis, coughs, colds and sore throat; or money back.

A complete Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) outfit costs $1.00 at druggists everywhere. This includes a hard rubber pocket inhaler and bottle of Hyomei; extra bottles Hyomei cost 50c.

Lionel Monckton, has been out of the east a great deal of late, and has been frequently seen in the company of the duke.

It is well known that the relations between the duke and duchess, who was Mrs. Constance Edwina West, a daughter of Mrs. George Cornwallis West, have been exceedingly strained for some time, but now it is understood that a divorce suit which was contemplated and which would have involved the duke has been amicably settled.

This reconciliation, it is said has been effected by the king, who dearly loves to play the part of reconciler. The duchess is now in the south of France, where it is understood the duke will soon join her.

WHAT MEANS JEW? RACE OR RELIGION?

Washington.—Is the word "Jew" descriptive of a race or a religion? That is one of the questions that the immigration commission will have to answer in one of its forthcoming reports. It has been put squarely up to the board by two of the distinguished members of the race—or religion—Judge Julian Mack of Chicago and Simon Wolf, president of the B'nai B'rith.

It may or may not seem strange to the members of the Jewish faith—or race—but both Judge Mack and Mr. Wolf argued to the commission that the Jews are not a race but that the word applies to a religion only.

They made their statement in one of the most interesting sessions the commission has held as a protest against the classification of immigrants as "Jews" instead of as Germans, Russians, Austrians, Roumanians, etc., by countries. In other words Mack and Wolf argued that as a race the Jews are extirpated but that they survive as the members of a religious sect.

The argument grew out of the custom of the United States immigration bureau in classifying all members of the Hebrew race—or faith—as Jews, no matter what country they come from. Mr. Wolf quoted Cyrus Adler, one of the most eminent of Hebrew scholars, to the effect that the word Jew does not mean a race but refers to a religion.

TAFT SAYS THAT ROOSEVELT WAS EXCEPTION TO RULE

Washington.—Former President Roosevelt, according to an opinion expressed the other night by President Taft in an address to grand army veterans of the department of the Potomac, "seems to have been an exception to every rule."

This declaration was made by Mr. Taft in speaking of criticisms that have been made in certain quarters as to his administration. He said he would feel worse for these criticisms were it not for the fact that in every administration "with the possible exception," he added, "of that of my predecessor, who seems to have been an exception to every rule," there were vicious attacks of some sort. "Lincoln had radicals and insurgents to deal with, and he had the decency of a time," said the president, "but I would be ashamed to think of comparing the easy year I have just been through with some of the years of darkness he had to suffer. I am glad to have been hammered this first year, because the next three years will be pleasant, no matter what the newspapers say about me."

Senator Borah of Idaho also spoke.

MAKES VIOLIN JUST TO PASS TIME AWAY

Dayton, Wash.—"I wanted something to do and so I made a violin," said Dick Harper, wealthy retired merchant of Dayton, today on completing a perfect model of a Stradivarius violin, which musicians say is worth between $50 and $60.

Harper had seldom held a violin in his hands before attempting this feat of handicraft and the results of his three months' of pastime toil, is a marvel to his friends. Part of the instrument is made of native wood, only the back being carved from eastern white maple.

Mr. Harper probably never will make another violin, but he will keep this one, he says, always. Musicians declare the tone of the instrument to be excellent and say with age the violin should be worth hundreds of dollars.

MILLIONAIRE BRADBURY GROWS FAT IN PRISON

San Francisco.—Picking jute in the mill at San Quentin is working wonders in the health of William B. Bradbury, the Corte Madera millionaire, who is serving a year's imprisonment at the penal institute. Bradbury is taking on weight, and if it continues before he serves his time he will be a worthy candidate for a fat man's race.

Since his imprisonment in September last Bradbury, who is known as convict 23,753 and not as the moneyed man of Marin county, has gained twenty-five pounds.

Theorists assign Bradbury's expansion to oil absorption. The jute used for making sacks at the prison is soaked in oil to preserve it. Working in the jute mill is warm work, and as Bradbury's pores are open he absorbs the oil, and it is adding to his weight.

EX-PARENTS-IN-LAW SUE THE PRINCESS DE SAGAN

Paris.—The Marquis and Marquise de Castellane have instituted suit against Princess de Sagan for $13,600 back annuities which they allege the count and countess in the marriage settlement of 1898 engaged themselves to pay at the rate of $5600 a year.

This annuity was paid until the Count and Countess de Castellane were divorced, when the countess, who was Miss Anna Gould, refused to contribute further to the support of her former husband's parents.

NAILOR PULLED OFF SOMETHING ALL RIGHT

Chicago.—"My name is Frank Nailor and my home is Ventura, Cal. I think I must have committed some crime. I wish you would lock me up and wire to Ventura to find out what I did."

As a result of this statement, a man giving the name of Nailor is under arrest here. The case, according to the police, is one of the most puzzling in their experience.

Nailor appeared at police headquarters, apparently the victim of a terrible beating. His clothes were soiled and torn and his eyes swollen and bloodshot. After telling his name he said:

"The last I remembered I was in Ventura. I had $3. Today I woke up in Chicago with more money than I know what to do with. What happened I don't know."

Nailor was searched but no money was found on him.

Sheriff E. G. Martin of Ventura county, Calif., in reply to a query, wired that he had a felony warrant for Frank Nailor.

HON. WALTER PIERCE WARNS O. A. C. STUDENTS

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Ore., Feb. 17.—In one of the strongest speeches ever made at O. A. C., the Honorable Walter Pierce of La Grande, a regent of the Oregon Agricultural college, inspired the large crowd of students and farmers at the convocation yesterday. Mr. Pierce's address was given as a special feature of farmers' week. He said in part:

"One of the greatest dangers threatening the youth of our state comes from the state papers that urge adherence to party organization. I would rather vote for a great republican statesman like LaFollette or a just and fearless democrat like Judge Lindsey than to be one of the puppets of party organization."

Mr. Pierce urged that the place for the average young man was back on the farm where he could be independent.

Bagdad and Eden! All Aboard! Constantinople, Feb. 18.—Tourists who desire to visit the old homestead of their ancestors, Adam and Eve, may soon do so in comfort, as the Turkish government today acted upon an application for the construction of a narrow gauge railroad to the site of the Garden of Eden, which Sir William Willcocks, British adviser to the Turkish ministry of public works, thinks he has located. According to Sir William's measurements the homestead of Adam and Eve was situated in the Harilah district, about 250 kilometers north of Bagdad. The spot is an oasis situated in the center of a vast desolate plain, which is traversed by four arms of the Euphrates.
