"These things are great needs. God knows we need them. Men all around us are starving to death because we haven't them—starving for the bread of life. God's promise is that he will supply all these needs. Do you believe it? My, My, what a time we would have here in Pendleton if every Christian really believed this! God says so! Believe it and get to work."

 "If we behave ourselves and keep in our places, God that saved us can keep us from sin."
 "I am not here to preach a fanaticism, but Bible truth, namely this—Only the pure in-heart can see God. If you get into heaven you have to be clean, and be clean here in this life."
 "More sinners are converted by Holy Ghost testimony of saved men than by all the preaching put together."
 "The devil hates good religion and if you've got it he will hate you."
 "The Christian that doesn't have the power of God in his life will fade away—just fade away, nothing to him."

COLLEGE MAN IS BURGLAR.

"Life of Action" Appeals to Man Who Terrorizes Suburbs.
 Pittsburg—"The life of a burglar appealed to me; there's action in it," said Stephen Austin, a college graduate, who, upon being arrested, confessed to holding up two drug store proprietors and several pedestrians in the Oakland and East End sections. His crimes had terrorized these sections the last ten days. Tonight, as Austin was trying to adjust a revolver in his pocket, it was discharged. The accident led to his arrest. Upon being questioned he confessed.
 "I was just doing these small jobs," he said, "to keep living. I was waiting for a big haul I had in sight. When I came to pull it off the plain clothes men were too thick about the place and I had to wait."

This will be the first time that the sheepmen of the western part of the state have ever made an effort to get together.

Wool Men Now Here.
 Charles H. Green and E. J. Burke, the two well known woolbuyers, are now in the city. They arrived last evening from Portland and will be in and out of this place from now until the close of the coming wool season. Both men have been in Portland during the winter. The remainder of the wool buying crops will arrive during May.

Became Ill on Street.
 R. H. Semple, who was taken ill while walking along the street near the Boston store, yesterday afternoon, is reported to be improving this afternoon. He was taken to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Hoover, on the corner of Court and Garden streets.

Boy Fell in Water.
 The three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Willis, new residents in the eastern part of the city, was the victim of a cold ducking yesterday forenoon. In company with his sister, Nellie Willis, who is about 16 years of age, the youngster was watching the rising water when he fell into a shallow pool inside the levee and caused by the water seeping through the barrier. The girl waded in and pulled her young brother out and took him home. The little fellow was chilled for a few minutes, but otherwise suffered no ill effects from his muddy bath. Neither the boy nor his "rescuer" were in any danger of drowning in the shallow water.
