

Our Display is Conspicuous in Smart, Chic, New Spring HATS...

Quoting from a recognized fashion paper of authority we find the following item:
 One of New York's smartest society women, dropped into Louisa and bought the loveliest kind of a straw hat, which she wore with a fur coat and drove all the way up the avenue. In New York if you haven't a straw hat by the end of February you are not in it. The sober and sedate part of the community get their straw hats for Easter. But the really ultra-fashionable people get them while the snow is still on the ground. The snow, we hope, is gone—and good riddance, too. The time is here for Spring Hats, and we are prepared to supply them.
 You will find no millinery monsters here, no exaggerated examples of extravagant ideas. Our hats are designed for people of refinement and taste who desire quiet elegance and simplicity. You'll find no two alike.
 A great many women unable to secure hats of this character have sent away for them. No more need of sending away for hats than there is for sending away for sheeting.

REVIVALIST ATTACKS COLLEGE; STUDENTS TO BOYCOTT MEETING

Rev. French E. Oliver, Who Has Gained So Much Notoriety by Making Startling Charges Against University Will Face Empty Seats If He Addresses Y. M. C. A.

University of Oregon, Eugene, March 4.—If Evangelist French E. Oliver persists in his intention of speaking on the University of Oregon campus this evening in response to the invitation issued to him by a few members of the student Y. M. C. A., which stirred up such a storm of protest among students, his meeting will be generally boycotted.

This was the simple remedy discussed on the campus and which the Oregon Emerald, the student body publication, advocated officially in a stinging editorial against the preacher and his methods.

Mr. Oliver's attacks on the university as "rotten" and a place to be "wiped out or cleaned out" because some of the students and faculty members are outside of the pale of orthodoxy, and his abuse of President Taft on the ground of his religion, alone have caused deep feeling against his speaking on the college grounds.

Many Sign Protest.
 The real sentiment of the students against Oliver was indicated when the petition of protest against the invitation issued by the Y. M. C. A. was presented yesterday with nearly 175 signatures attached, to President Campbell.

A large majority of the men in the college including many Y. M. C. A. members signed the paper. The incident has put the Y. M. C. A. in the dilemma of having to withdraw their invitation or of hearing Evangelist Oliver's address regardless of the student body.

The Emerald editorial follows: "After vile language the revivalist has applied to the university and all things herewith connected. It is surprising that he should risk contamination by actually coming onto the campus and associating with the unregenerate. After the slanders and abuse he has heaped upon us it is equally strange that we should care to listen to him or that the authorities should allow him on the grounds."
Text on Signs Cited.
 "This type thrives on persecution. It advertises them and in their own eyes increases their resemblance to the prophets. To most, however, this resemblance will appear faint after listening to their crude harangues, which for logic, persuasiveness and appeal are on a level with high school orations. Before addressing the reprobrates at the varsity Friday, Brother Oliver should remember what Matthew 7:6 has to say about "casting pearls before swine."

How Good News Spreads.
 "I am 70 years old and travel most of the time," writes B. F. Tolson of Elizabethtown, Ky. "Everywhere I go I recommend Electric Bitters, because I owe my excellent health and vitality to them. They effect a cure every time." They never fail to tone the stomach, regulate the liver, invigorate the nerves and purify the blood. They work wonders for weak, run-down men and women, restoring strength, vigor and health that's a daily joy. Try them. Only 50¢. Satisfaction is positively guaranteed by Tallman & Co.

SERMON WILL FOLLOW VAUDEVILLE PERFORMANCE

Seattle, Wash.—There will be vaudeville and preaching at Dreamland Ring Sunday night. Michael Angelo Fisher, who conducts the dancehall on week days, will provide the vaudeville and Rev. Frank E. Herthum, pastor of Union Christian church, Georgetown, will provide the sermon.
 Mr. Herthum will outline the kind of programme he thinks will be "innocent" and Michael Angelo Fisher will furnish it. Mr. Herthum has liberal ideas about amusements. He can't see why the young people who attend the Dreamland dances week nights shouldn't be given something in the way of amusement that will please them Sunday night.
 "Maybe we won't do them all good but we won't do them any harm, and there is the chance of getting at least some of the throng that will be there to live a more honest and upright life," said Mr. Herthum. "It is for that reason that I have accepted Mr. Fisher's offer. He has agreed to furnish the hall and provide the singers and other amusements, all at his own expense."
 Mr. Herthum started to leave all the arrangements to Michael Angelo, but the dancehall manager had to call for help and finally it was agreed that Mr. Herthum would outline what he thought would be "innocent" and that Michael would make suggestions and the minister would pass on them.

"The American Lord."

A happy chance directed Charles B. Hanford's attention to "The American Lord" just at a time when he was desirous, for the sake of artistic contrast, to introduce into his repertory a character that would reflect modern life as vividly as those of the classic drama portray the people and customs of centuries gone by. He was discussing his desires to have a piece distinctly native in theme and authorship with a friend who mentioned "The American Lord" as being in the line of his desire. A description of the play which had been presented with success by Wm. H. Crane led Mr. Hanford to send for the manuscript, his own engagements not permitting him to see a performance. It became his ambition to render this role according to certain ideas which he entertained of how the plain American citizen ought to be represented. A contract placed the play at Mr. Hanford's disposal and he has given it not only close individual study but every advantage in cast, costuming and scenic equipment. The presentation of the leading feminine role by Miss Marie Dronah is one of the most important and attractive features of the performance. Tuesday, March 15, is the date of Mr. Hanford's engagement in "The American Lord" at the Oregon theatre.

SEEK TO DROWN CHICAGO SALOONS BY PRAYERS

Chicago.—The prayers of Christians throughout the world, it is announced, will be turned against the Chicago saloons and for a local option victory on April 5, as a result of the entrance of the Chicago Christian Endeavor Societies into the fight against the liquor traffic. Following a resolution adopted last night by delegates of 400 branches of the society in this city 5,000,000 Christians will be asked to stop work at 9 o'clock each morning between now and election day and offer a prayer for aid in defeating the saloons here. The various branches of the Christian Endeavor Union throughout the world have approximately 4,000,000 members, and these and the churches, by means of denominational magazines and religious publications, will be asked for their prayers in the fight.

OUTLOOK FOR PROFITS IS NOT SO GOOD THIS YEAR

New York.—While the annual report of the American Woolen company shows that the corporation made a net profit of nearly $5,800,000 last year, the outlook for the coming year is not so promising, according to President William Wood, because of the anti-trust prosecutions of the government.

"The outlook is obscured," he says, "because of the uncertainty of the effect of expected decisions in the United States supreme court in pending cases under the Sherman anti-trust act. There already has been a falling off in orders owing to conservative action by the merchants of the country."

Terrible Croup.

My little boy, who is four years old, has suffered a lot with croup. On several occasions we thought he was gone.
 After trying all the old remedies and most of the new, I came home one night a midnight, and my wife said, "The boy has the croup again—suppose you get a bottle of Hyomei." "More junk," I said, "but we will circulate our money so they all will get some."
 I hastened to an all night drug store, brought it home. In five minutes he was sound asleep. It broke the croup so quickly that it scared me.
 Anyone wishing to cure the croup of a child I hope will give Hyomei a trial.
 Wishing you the best of success, which you surely deserve. I remain, Jos. E. Clark, 204 6th street, S. E., Washington, D. C., October 7, 1909.

Hyomei is a remarkably effective remedy in case of croup and it should be in every home where there is a croupy child. Full instructions how to cure croup comes with each outfit.
 Complete Hyomei outfit including Inhaler costs $1 at druggists everywhere and at Tallman & Co. It is guaranteed to cure catarrh, coughs and colds.
