PENDLETON TO HAVE MUSIC THAT IS MUSIC

UNITED ORCHESTRA AND BAND IS ORGANIZED

Leading Musicians of City Get Together Under Direction of Frank D. Carruth—Concerts to Be Given in Near Future.

At last Pendleton has a large permanent musical organization of which it can well be proud. Starting with the splendid poultry show orchestra as a nucleus the organization was made permanent at a meeting held last evening in the Eiler piano house. It is to be known as the United Orchestra and Band. Frank D. Carruth is to be director of the orchestra.

Mrs. William Humphrey was elected secretary and R. W. Fletcher was chosen manager of the orchestra. The band instrumentation and management will be arranged later.

Rehearsals will be held each Tuesday evening at the Eiler piano house and a series of concerts will be arranged for the near future. The orchestra will also be in a position to furnish music for any and all occasions.

As soon as the band members get together plans will be made for the holding of concerts on the court house lawn or in some other part of the city during the summer evenings.

An interesting feature of the meeting last evening was the presentation of a $25 violin case to Director Frank D. Carruth by the members of the poultry show orchestra. This was adorned with a silver plate suitably engraved.

LITTLE GIRL TO INHERIT ERNEST CASSEL MILLIONS

London.—No one knows how many millions Sir Ernest Cassel, some times on account of the king's friendship for him called "Winston" Cassel, possesses, but every one knows that they are numerous enough to make his little grand daughter, Miss Edwina Ashley, one of the richest heiresses prospective in England.

Sir Ernest is a widower with but one child, a daughter, who is married to Wilfred Ashley, the grand nephew and heir of Lord Palmerston, and the Ashleys have but one child this daughter Edwina. King Edward has failed to secure a peerage for his financial adviser and friend, but Mr. Ashley on the death of his father will become the master of Borderlands, the historical home of the Palmerstones, whose peerage, it is said, will then be revived. So that the banker may yet live to see his daughter a peeress of the realm.

Sir Ernest Cassel's rise is one of the romances of finance. He was born of Jewish parents in Cologne fifty-eight years ago, worked as a banker's clerk for a few shillings a week came to London and by his bold work in promotions and flotations soon became a power in the city. It was Cassel who financed the Assouan dam project, which reclaimed the upper Nile country, at a cost of over $125,000,000, and it was Cassel who also financed London's subways.

But his most remarkable financial exploit was on the occasion when he handed the King a check for a million dollars for founding a hospital for consumptives.

Sir Ernest has two magnificent residences, Brook House in London, once the residence of Lord Tweedmouth, and a country place at Newmarket.

TRUNK FALLS ON BRAKEMAN SERIOUSLY INJURING HIM

J. W. Parkes, a freight brakeman who was doing duty as a passenger brakeman during the congestion of traffic, was seriously injured at the local depot about 4 o'clock this morning. Though he was still unconscious when taken on to Portland, an hour later, it is not believed that his injuries will prove fatal though at that time it was impossible to tell the extent of his injuries.

Parkes had come in on No. 9, the delayed night train and was assisting in unloading trunks. In some manner a great trunk weighing in the neighborhood of 600 pounds fell over onto him, one corner striking him in the face, breaking his nose and rendering him unconscious. It also knocked him against the side of another car, seriously injuring his back.

Dr. Cole, the local railroad physician was called and after giving the man's injuries temporary attention, ordered him taken on to Portland on the first section of train No. 5.

Parkes is a young man, lives in La Grande and though he has been acting as freight brakeman for some time this was his first trip on a passenger train.

GROCERY BURGLARS CAUGHT IN TOILS

With the arrest yesterday of Douglas French, aged 17, the city and county officers brought to a termination a search of many months for the perpetrators of three successful burglaries. In addition to young French the other guilty person is Leo Lent, who was arrested a few days ago with some of the stolen goods in his possession. The boy arrested yesterday has made a complete confession, implicating Lent as well as himself, so that there is no longer any question of the guilt of the first one arrested. Both are young fellows, Lent being only 20 years of age.

The crimes with which the young men are charged are the burglarizing of the store at Meacham the morning of June 4th of last year, the show window of the same store, several days later and the East End grocery robbery which occurred on the night of July 11.

When they committed the Meacham burglaries the two young fellows had a camp on the north fork of Meacham creek. They stole a ham, a sack of flour, some candy, overalls and several pairs of socks. They transported this stuff on a hand car to near the mouth of the north fork and then carried it from the track to their camp. A part of this plunder, as well as some of the cheap jewelry stolen from the East End grocery later, was found in the possession of Lent, who has been under the surveillance of the local police ever since the last of the crimes was committed.

Lent is still in jail, but relatives of the other boy put up the bonds which secured his freedom. The cases against them will be investigated by the grand jury.

BIRD ARCHITECT FOR 200

First Specimen of Mound-Building Received for 44 Years.

London.—An ungainly but gifted bird has just received the warmest welcomes at the Zoological gardens. It is a mallee bird, or Australian mound-builder.

To the casual visitor it is merely an undistinguished bird clothed in quiet grays and browns and about the shape and size of a half-starved hen, save that its feet are about four times larger. It is with these powerful feet an immense mound of earth and leaves, many times its own height, which it uses as an incubator for its eggs.

The decomposition of the vegetable matter produces the necessary heat, but when the temperature rises abnormally the sagacious bird promptly ventilates the nest by tunneling into the mound and admitting air. The "Zoo's" last mallee bird died as long ago as 1866.

CHRISTIANS LEAD WORLD

Religious Census of the Earth Shows Strength of Different Beliefs.

London.—In a religious census of the world which he has just published Dr. H. Zeller, director of the Statistical Bureau in Stuttgart, estimates that of the 1,544,510,000 people in the world, 524,940,000 are Christians, 175,290,000 are Mohammedans, 10,860,000 are Jews, and 823,420,000 hold other beliefs.

Of these 300,000,000 are Confucians 214,000,000 are Brahmins, and 121,000,000 are Buddhists, with other bodies of lesser numbers. In other words, out of every thousand of the earth's population 346 are Christian, 114 are Mohammedans, 7 are Israelites, and 533 are other religions.

Public School Lecture Course.

Owing to the failure of Mr. Laurant, who was to give the fourth number in the public school lecture and entertainment course, to reach here in time to fill his engagement on the 1st or 2d of this month, the management desires to refund the money for the Laurant ticket, or allow the holders to use them in the next number, the College Singing Girls, on March 31st. The next entertainment is to take place in the Oregon theatre, and when the box sheet is opened for reserved seats, Monday, March 28th, those who hold the Laurant tickets may have the money refunded by turning in the ticket, or they may exchange them for a seat in the entertainment given by the College Singing Girls, which is preferred. Meanwhile, should any one be going away or for any other reason should desire to return the Laurant ticket the committee will be glad to refund the money paid for it.

Regretting the disappointment in the Laurant number, but hoping the above plan will be satisfactory, I am,

Sincerely,
J. S. LANDERS,
For the Committee.
