KANSAS CITY HAS SCANDAL

John P. Cudahy Finds Millionaire in His Home at Unexpected Hour.

TIES HOME INTRUDER THEN SLASHES HIM

Jere Lillis Accused by Wealthy Packer of Destroying Home—Timely Arrival of Policeman Saves Lillis from Probable Fatal Injuries—Condition Is Now Regarded as Critical.

- Kansas City, March 7.—Patrolman Underwood, who went to the Cudahy home in answer to a telephone summons, said: "Cudahy and Chauffeur Fully were standing over Jere F. Lillis, who was lying on the floor, half nude and tied with a rope. Cudahy had a knife in his hand. Lillis was saying, 'Don't do it, Jack, please don't do it.' Cudahy seemed to be slashing him about the hips. Lillis' lower limbs were bare."

Kansas City, March 7.—Finding Jere F. Lillis, a millionaire local banker, in his home when he arrived unexpectedly at an early hour Sunday, John P. Cudahy, a wealthy packer, and son of Michael Cudahy, the Chicago millionaire, is alleged to have committed an assault upon the man which led to his arrest on a charge of disturbing the peace. He was released on a $100 bond and cannot be found.

Lillis is in St. Mary's hospital. His condition is said to be critical. Cuts, said to have been inflicted with a knife, are on his face, limbs and one arm. The cuts have been made in criss cross fashion. If he recovers he will be disfigured for life, it is averred by physicians. Before cutting Lillis, Cudahy is said to have bound Lillis with a strong rope. One of Cudahy's chauffeurs, John Moss, was present. Neighbors heard Lillis screaming and groaning in the Cudahy house, and they called the Westport police station. It was a woman who called. Her identity has not been established. "A man is being murdered in the Cudahy home. Send an officer there at once," she screamed. Ten minutes later Patrolman Brian Underwood hurried to the Cudahy home, which is at 36th and Walnut streets, in the most fashionable residence section of the city. The front door was open so he did not ring the door bell. Stepping into the hall he heard screams. Then came groans and cries for mercy. Underwood followed the sound and pushed the door open and entered cautiously. Three men were in the room. Prostrate on the floor lay Lillis, half nude and bound with a rope. His lower limbs were bare. Above him stood Cudahy. He was in correct evening dress, except that he wore no coat. His sleeves were rolled up. Blood was on his hands. At his side stood the

FARMERS WILL HOLD SERIES OF SALES DAYS IN PENDLETON

The members of the local farmers' union took an important step at their meeting Saturday afternoon when they decided to revive the general sales day play which proved so popular here two years ago. They are going to hold the first sale next Saturday afternoon at the fair pavilion in this city and if it proves to be a success the sales will be held regularly in the future. An experienced auctioneer, in the person of Col. Effert of Walla Walla, has been secured to do the auctioneering and the management of the sales will be under the direction of Dr. W. R. Campbell and W. W. Harrah as a special committee and James Johns as clerk. All kinds of stock, all kinds of farm implements and machinery and in fact everything that anyone may have to sell, can be listed and sold to the highest bidder at the time of the sale. The success or failure of this first sale will determine whether the plan will be continued or abandoned. For that reason the farmers and those living in the city who have anything to sell are urged to list it this week, or before Saturday at 1 o'clock with the clerk, James Johns, who can be found at the Hartman Abstract comchauffeur, garbed in regulation leather cap and duster, as though he had come into the house after the hurried call and a run with his machine. None of the men noticed Underwood. Lillis groaned and tugged feebly at the cords that bound him. "Don't do it, Jack, please don't do it," he pleaded. Cudahy did not answer. Rushing over to the trio, Underwood addressed Cudahy. "What does this mean?" he queried. "Does Not Resist Arrest." "He's ruined my home. He's ruined my home," said Cudahy, turning to the officer and making no attempt at resistance. "You are under arrest," said the officer. "All right, I'll go with you, but let me call my attorney before you take me to the station," replied Cudahy, calmly. "Call your attorney and I'll get an ambulance for this man," said the policeman. "Who is he?" "It is Jere Lillis," Cudahy said over his shoulder as he walked toward a telephone. After seeing that Lillis had started to a hospital, the policeman took Cudahy to the police station. The packer gave a cash bond and was released.

SENATOR T. C. PLATT DIED YESTERDAY

END UNEXPECTED WAS FEELING WELL

Noted Political Boss of New York Had Chronic and Acute Brights' Disease — Was Unconscious for Short Time Before Dying.

New York, March 7.—Thomas Collier Platt, formerly United States senator from New York and for many years a national figure in republican politics, died at 3:45 this afternoon in the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Abele, on West Eleventh street, from whom he had rented three rooms for the last four years. Mrs. Abele had been his nurse. Dr. Paul Auerbridge, his physician said last night that the cause of death was chronic and acute Brights' disease. The body was removed to the home of Frank H. Platt, a son, and will be taken on Tuesday to Owego, N. Y., the senator's birthplace where it will be buried. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at the Presbyterian church in Owego. The end was startlingly sudden. An hour before the senator died, his two sons, Frank and Edward, with the latter's daughter, Charlotte, and son, Sherman, had left the house after their usual Sunday visit. The senator said at that time that he felt very well and thought he would read the Sunday papers. At 3 o'clock he was taken with a fainting spell and Dr. Auerbridge was called hurriedly. The family was notified and returned in haste. Mr. Platt recovered from his first lapse but sank into unconsciousness again at half past 3 and died 15 minutes later. The relatives were all at the bedside.

DEATH CLAIMS WELL LIKED LOCAL GIRL

Miss Hazel Howland, a member of last year's Pendleton high school graduating class and a student of the Ellensburg normal school, died this morning at 9:30 in that city, as a result of an illness of a few weeks with meningitis. The remains will be brought to Pendleton tomorrow morning for interment but the complete funeral arrangements have not yet been made. The deceased was born in Pendleton, 20 years ago last month. Her mother died when she was about 18 months of age and a short time thereafter she went to Portland to make her home with an aunt, Mrs. Jane Wright. The greater part of her life was spent in western Oregon. Two years ago she returned to Pendleton, entered the local high school and was graduated with the June class last spring. Last fall she entered the Washington state normal school at Ellensburg and was making good progress with her work when seized with the fatal illness. The number of her friends was only limited by the circle of her acquaintance and regret at her untimely death is keenly felt by those who knew her. In addition to her father, Mr. N. Howland, the deceased is survived by two brothers and a sister, Ralph Howland of this city, Ned Howland of central Oregon and Miss Rita Howland who has been teaching at Roslyn, Washington. Her aunt, Mrs. Jane Wright, is also expected to come up from Portland to attend the funeral.

SUNDAY CLASH IN BERLIN

Over 120,000 Socialists Made Big Demonstration and Many Injuries Result.

SOCIALIST LEADERS FOOLED THE POLICE

When Order Was Given Against Holding of Demonstration Plans Were Changed--Meeting Held in Another Part of City Move Was Called "Demonstrative Stroll."

Berlin, Mar. 7.—Serious conflicts between the police and socialists in which many were wounded were the outcome of the most impressive open air demonstration in Berlin and other cities of Prussia Sunday against the suffrage bill. It is estimated that in Berlin alone 120,000 persons took part in what was called a "demonstrative stroll" in various parts of the city. The chief of police of Berlin, fearing danger from the assembly of so many thousands in the popular park of Treptow, forbade a demonstration there. But the socialist newspaper Vorwaerts announced that the manifestations would be held in spite of the order of prohibition. This caused the concentration of a powerful force of police and gendarmes in Treptow park, which left the remainder of the city virtually unguarded. The socialist leaders this morning met quietly and quickly passed the word to their followers to proceed to the other end of the city. These instructions were obeyed by 30,000 manifestants, who succeeded in accomplishing the stroll, almost undisturbed, while the others who remained around the park came into serious collision with the police. The police in most cases acted with the utmost moderation.

"The Bishop attended by priests and Prince Joseph, with a great throng of our people turned out to greet Colonel Roosevelt," she added. "We had two bands and one of them walked 65 miles to be there. LADIES OBJECT TO PLAN FOR CANINE CELLAR---TOO BRUTAL

The dog troubles of the mayor, the police and the members of the police committee are not to be ended by the employment of a professional dog catcher and the construction of an underground cellar in which to place the captive animals until the time arrives for their execution. If the above named city officials thought they were to thus easily solve the problem with which they have been wrestling for years, they have another thought or two to think. Yes, indeed. They may be able to ease their own consciences by dumping the dogs into a cellar where the noise of their fighting could not reach the outer world, but they failed to reckon with the more susceptible consciences of the women of the city. At a meeting of the civic league held Saturday afternoon it was decided that steps should be taken to prevent such a cruel program being carried out. A committee was therefore appointed to call upon the mayor immediately and make known the wishes of the league in the matter and to inform the official that if their wishes are disregarded that the power of

The prosecution maintains the Eggenas gave as security for diamonds, twenty five automobiles, which were stored with Easton. MAN WHO DISAPPEARED YEARS AGO IS KILLED

Jeff Sperc, aged 30 years, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Sperc of Nye, who disappeared from this county eleven years ago, was accidentally killed in a train accident of some kind at Sacramento, California, yesterday, according to a message just received by relatives. The remains are expected to arrive here in a day or two and will be taken to Pilot Rock for interment.

Sperc was working in the harvest fields north of Pendleton eleven years ago when he suddenly was seized with an attack of the wanderlust and he responded to the call. One year ago a brief message was received from him. He was then in Phoenix, Ariz. About a week ago a long letter was received and yesterday came the message of his death.
