BARRETT RE-ELECTED BY GRAINGROWERS

COUNTY ASSOCIATION HAD SESSION SATURDAY

Announced That Price of Five and Three Fourths Cents Will Be Paid for Sacks During Coming Season—Other Newly Elected Officers.

Hon. C. A. Barrett, president and treasurer of the Inland Grain Growers' association, has been reelected to serve the organization for another year, the annual meeting having been held late Saturday afternoon in the parlors of the Commercial association. The other officers chosen were John Bahr, vice president, and Jesse O. Hales, secretary. The directors are Charles A. Barrett, H. J. Taylor, J. N. Bahr, J. O. Hales and J. H. Christopher.

President Barrett and the other members of the organization announced with much satisfaction that they had secured a price of 5 3/4 cents on their grain bags for the season. They say this is lower than that secured by any other organization, not excluding the Farmers' Union. This is the price at which the sacks are to be delivered at the nearest station in carload lots.

Though the price has been made public the officers of the organization are not making public the name of the firm from which they are purchasers. In the case of the union, the name of the firm from which their sacks are to be secured, was announced, but the price to be paid has been kept a secret. It is understood, however, that there is little difference between the two rates. Both are lower than last year by about half a cent.

REVEALS THE SECRETS OF JUDGING OLD CHINA WARE

London.—How experts judge old china was described by Robert L. Hobson of the British museum at Bow street, when Arthur Ellis, an Old Bond street dealer, was again charged with obtaining money by false pretenses from the late Charles J. Dickens.

Mr. Hobson explained that Dresden china was judged chiefly by sight and touch, and stated that the clay with which early Dresden ware was made was all used up sixty or seventy years ago.

A romance of the past was revived when he was handed a figure of the Countess von Cosel wearing an enormous crinoline.

"She was a favorite of August the Strong, the patron of the Dresden china industry," said Mr. Hobson. "She was disgraced at court in 1713, and was confined in a castle for many years afterward. In fact she spent the best part of her life in prison."

"It is not old Dresden china," he continued, feeling the figure. "The distinction is very slight, but it has not the same softness."

"It does not represent the face of the figure one is accustomed to, and I have never before seen a figure of the countess with a topknot. The flower ornamentation and the coloring are also not what we expect to find on old Dresden."

"A crinoline figure of old Dresden should date between 1730 and 1750. I should think this figure was made within the last 40 years. It is of no value to a collector and its intrinsic value would be about $50 or $100."

In reply to further questions, Mr. Hobson stated that the unglazed portions of early china always felt different from modern china. This applies to Worcester and Chelsea, especially the latter.

SENATE LEARNS OF INCREASE IN PRICES IN NINE YEARS

Washington.—A dregnet spread by the senate has brought in interesting information regarding the increase of the wholesale prices of food between 1899 and 1908 in the United States and foreign countries. Brazilian coffee increased 12 per cent in the United States, 24 per cent in England. Flour advanced 43 per cent in the United States, 18 in England, 27 in Germany and 12 per cent in France. Figures from the other two countries are not given. Butter went up 29 per cent in the United States, 10 per cent in England, 14 per cent in Germany and decreased 10 per cent in France. Beef advanced 11 per cent in the United States, 12 in England, 19 in Germany and 3 per cent in France. Potatoes increased in price 70 per cent in the United States, 15 in England, and Germany 43 per cent.

NEW BERLIN THEATER TO HAVE 12 1-2 CENT SEATS

Berlin.—With the object of bringing high class artistic productions, dramatic as well as operatic, within the reach of not only the middle classes but of the masses, no fewer than three new large theaters are being erected in the German capital.

The "Grosse Oper," which, as its name indicates, will be devoted principally to the production of grand operas, will have seating accommodation for 3000 spectators, and is to be opened in the autumn of next year.

The second theater, to be known as the "Volkskuntheater," is being constructed by the Neuse Freie of Volksbunne, Berlin's premier dramatic so-

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Elwood, Ind.—"Your remedies have cured me and I have only taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. The doctors said I could not get well without an operation, for I could hardly stand the pains in my sides, especially my right one, and down my right leg. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle of Compound, but kept on as I was afraid to stop too soon."—Mrs. SALLIE MULLEN, 2728 N. B. St., Elwood, Ind.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

ciety, numbering some 38,000 members. This society intends to produce principally modern plays, and the first performance will be Ibsen's "Pillars of Society," with which the Volksbunne made its debut twenty years ago.

The third new building will be known as the "Richard Wagner Volks-theater," for the production, at low prices, of the great composer's operas, the copyright of which expires in 1913. Thus one-half of the available 3000 seats will be on sale at 75 cents, 50 cents and 12 1/2 cents, respectively. In order to insure a first rate orchestra, the budget of the new enterprise provides a sum of $25,000 for a whole year's rehearsals.

$100 Reward, $100. The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

GLACIERS TO GIVE UP MEN LOST IN 1870

ECHO OF TERRIBLE TRAGEDY IN SWITZERLAND 40 YRS. AGO

Professional Guides Given Instructions to Search for Bodies of Six Men Who Perished in Snow Storm on Mt. Blanc—Glaciers Seldom Retain Bodies More Than 40 Years.

Geneva.—An echo of the most terrible mountain accident in Alpine history is heard in the instructions given to the professional guides of Chamoni at the foot of Mont Blanc to keep a lookout for the body of H. Randall of Boston and those of five guides who perished in a terrible snowstorm near the summit of Mont Blanc, together with James G. Bean of Bath, Me.; the Rev. G. McCorkindale of Scotland, and three Chamoni guides on September 4, 1870. The bodies of the last five were found eleven days later, when the storm had abated, but those of Randall and his guides were never seen again. Now it is confidently expected that the tomb of ice will give up its dead within a few months for the following reasons:

No glacier has been known—there are several precedents—to retain a body more than forty years. The average rate of glacier travel, according to scientific reckonings, is between 400 and 500 feet a year. Therefore the glacier in which Randall and his guides are buried has descended between 16,000 and 20,000 feet during the last forty years toward the Chamoni valley. While the height of Mont Blanc is only 15,721 feet, it happens sometimes that a year or two passes before bodies are caught in the main ice current flowing downward.

The larger part of the glacier in which the bodies are expected to be found, known as the Bossons Glacier, passes through pine forests and touches the Chamoni valley one hour's distance from the town. Every summer hundreds of tourists cross the Bossons, which is quite a promenade.

Britain Reassures China. Peking.—W. G. Max Muller, British Charge d'Affairs, has made friendly representations to the Chinese Foreign Board on the subject of Great Britain's concern over the situation in Thiber and with reference to the preservation of peace and order in the border States. He has asked China to state formally her policy and intentions. It is believed that the Dalai Lama has found refuge in Bhutan, an independent State of Asia, in the Eastern Himalayas. Official telegrams received here report that the fugitive ruler is enroute to Russian territory. "What southern California needs is a rip snorting rain," says the Los Angeles Times. That country is usually in need of rain, and when rain comes it's of the "rip snorting" kind, that does much harm as well as good. No place so good as Oregon.
