Elgin, Ore.—Fred Wisdom, who claimed to have been shot by Stewart a few days ago, was indicted on two counts by the grand jury for perjury and has been arrested. When brought to Elgin, he had a bullet hole in his coat sleeve and one in the rim of his hat. He said he was attacked in daylight. Officials seem determined to get Wisdom out of the community. Separated Couple Sued.
Olympia, Wash.—Mrs. Annabelle Farquhar and her divorced husband, Edward Farquhar, are dead, possibly as a result of a suicide pact. Mrs. Farquhar, who has been divorced several years, was still devoted to her former husband and sometimes visited him, although actually living separated. At midnight Wednesday Farquhar reported to local undertakers that his former wife was dead in his room. Upon investigation it was found the woman had been dead several hours. Evidence was that she had taken poison. As the body was being removed Farquhar shot himself in the head, dying in a few moments. An inquest will be held.

Aeroplane Rises and Falls.
Albany, Ore.—John C. Burkhardt, of Portland, who has established an aviation camp near this city, at Goltra Park, for trial flights with a bi-plane of his own construction, Wednesday afternoon attempted his first flights. In the first the machine rose about five feet above the starting platform and then turned to one side and settled to the earth without damage to driver or machine. The second time the machine rose beautifully to a height of over 30 feet and then being lost, the big bi-plane careened and fell to the earth, breaking off one of the aluminum plates and doing other damage that will require a week's repairing. The car was in charge of the inventor and he suffered no injury whatever in the fall.

Ely's Cream Balm, a successful remedy for cold in the head, nasal catarrh, hay fever, etc., containing no injurious drugs meets fully the requirements of the new law and that fact is prominently stated on every package. It contains none of the injurious drugs which are required by the law to be mentioned on the label. Hence you can use it safely.

pleasing contrast to that of some previous monarchs of England. We venture to think that His Majesty has no more loyal subjects than the tailors of Great Britain--indeed, we might say Greater Britain--for they everywhere realize they have in His Majesty not only the first gentleman of Europe, but also one who sets an example in his dress that is at all times worthy of imitation.

"We have carefully followed the dress of His Majesty for more than a quarter of a century, and on no occasion do we recall his being dressed in other than the best of taste.
