Paris.—The matrimonial affairs of King Manuel of Portugal are in the hands of two of the most skilled matchmakers in Europe. These are his mother, Queen Amelia, and his friend, King Edward of England. The gracious Amelia is already at Biarritz and King Edward will shortly join her for the purpose of arranging a marriage for the youthful King. Though it is said on excellent authority that he did not favorably impress the young English princess, it is still thought that King Edward and Queen Amelia may come to an understanding. But, after all, what have the daughters of the king to do with the choice of their husbands.

NOTES FROM THE CITY FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

That "Days Out of Doors" by Charles A. Abbott, is written by a real lover of nature is shown from the following quoted from the preface: "Whether it be the created tit defying the chilliest blast of January; violets mantling the meadow banks in April; thrushes singing their farewell summer songs, or dull and dreary dim December days it matters not—they never repeat themselves, or else I am daily a new creature." The book is in the public library.

A Seasonable Book.
At this time of the year there should be an increased interest in books on plants, birds, animals, etc. "California Plants in Their Homes," by A. M. Davidson, called "A Botanical Reader for Children," is written in a style interesting to both grown people and children.

Sociological Problems Discussed.
Perhaps there are some citizens of the town who would be interested in knowing that the "Works" of William E. Channing, D. D., are in the library. The book contains addresses by Mr. Channing on many of the sociological problems of the present day.

"Why," asked the judge, "do you think your husband is dead? You say you haven't heard from him for more than a year. Do you consider that reasonable proof that he has passed out of existence?"
"Yes, your honor. If he was still alive he'd be askin' me to send him money."

DEATH DEPRIVES LABORER OF HARD EARNED REWARD

(Special Correspondence.)
Shear's Bridge, March 10.—George Yukonic, a native of Austria, died suddenly here this morning in his camp at 7:00 o'clock, death being due to heart disease. He had been working in a station gang with his countrymen since the beginning of construction work at this point on the Deschutes railroad. Within a few weeks he would have finished with his partners a piece of heavy rock cut of station work by which they will clear several thousand dollars for their labor. His partners will continue to carry his name on their payroll, allowing him pay for each day they work until their contract is finished, when a division of their earnings will be made; the wages and share of profit made in the work due Yukonic had he lived to completion of the work will be sent to his wife and children in the old country by his partners. The body was taken to Grass Valley this afternoon, where burial will take place Friday evening at sundown, all arrangements having been made by the timekeeper of the camp, who is always a friend of the foreigner on occasions such as this.

Card of Thanks.
We wish to extend our most sincere thanks to the many friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us during the late illness and bereavement of Mr. Jeff Spere.

RELATIVES OF DECEASED.

March 12, 1910.

Dear friend:
I like racky crackers very much. The trouble with many crackers is they won't crack. You can get nice crisp crackers in this town if you know where to go. Then your mama can buy lots of things for the table and save herself the trouble of baking. My mama does. Isn't it cheaper to buy these things than to bake them?

Preferred Stock Goods, Closes & Devers Coffee, Early Rose Seed Potatoes. Your friend,

JACOB.
