A True Flesh Builder.

Good, healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of the proper food, together with natural action of the organs of assimilation. Nine people out of ten in order to weigh as much as they ought and be perfectly healthy should use Samose, the great flesh-forming food and health restorer. Weigh yourself before commencing to use these little tablets, and see how your weight increases from week to week.

Samose does not contain a particle of starch or pepsin, nor is it any nauseating preparation, such as is usually recommended to make people fat, and which does not build up good healthy tissues. Samose has valuable flesh-forming properties, tones up and strengthens the whole system, helps the food that is eaten to be assimilated in a natural manner, and absolutely restores health to all the organs. If you are not perfectly satisfied with the results from Samose, the manufacturers, through their agents, A. C. Koepfen & Bros., will return your money without any quibbling. Counties Sue O. R. & N.

Walla Walla.—Every county in the state of Washington where the O. Mosquitoes Block Business.

Woodland, Wash.—Millions of mosquitoes, the origin of which is unknown are threatening to demoralize social and commercial activities of this town. The insect visitation was noted immediately following the abatement of the recent period of severe weather and no explanation of their early appearance has been found. Never before have the unwelcome little visitors arrived before June. Many citizens are complaining of the loss of sleep and merchants declare the presence of mosquitoes is interfering seriously with their business.

Settle Disputed Boundary.

Portland.—Following a conference between officials of Oregon and Washington held during the past week in Portland, an agreement was reached as to the disputed state boundary at the mouth of the Columbia river. BIG DEMONSTRATION TRAIN COSTS $10,000

O. R. & N. AND O. A. C. ARE UNDERTAKING BIG AFFAIR

Everything of interest to Farmers Great or Small Will Be Carried—Chief Aim of Movement to Secure Utilization of the Lands—Much Interest Is Shown.

The announcement that the officials of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation company is spending upwards of $10,000 in sending its demonstration train through eastern Oregon next week is causing the farmers of this section to sit up and take notice. Many of them are about to come to the conclusion that the railroad builders and the farming experts from the Oregon agricultural college are not mere dreamers. When the first demonstration train arrived in Pendleton, two years ago, it was given slight attention, but predictions are being made that the frost which attended that occasion will not be present next Friday afternoon. Everything of interest to farmers great or small will be carried and exhibited. The wheat farmer, the dairyman, the orchardist and the poultryman will all find things of interest.

This estimate of $10,000 includes the cost of operation, earning capacity of equipment and motive power that will be used, advertising expenses, expenses of the Oregon agricultural college and experiment station in sending 13 experts with the train and in providing stock and exhibits, and the many other miscellaneous expenses that accrue in such enterprises.

That this sum will be expended wisely is the conviction of R. B. Miller, traffic manager of the road, judging from results achieved by the other and lesser trains operated.

Use Idle Lands, Its Aim.

The chief object of the farming demonstration movement is to encourage the utilization of the 1,000,000 or more acres of eastern Oregon grain land tributary to the O. R. & N. system that are idle every year. Under the present method of farming half the land every year and letting the other half lie fallow, it is maintained by the expert agriculturists that the true crop-producing value of the land is not attained. "A crop every year on every acre of land" is the slogan of the company and the agricultural college.

Plan Is Influential.

One year ago this month the O. R. & N. made a free distribution of corn and field peas from the Washington division with the co-operation of the state college of Washington. Prizes were offered for the best results in the growing of corn by boys of 18 years of age and younger.

Respecting the results of the work undertaken in Washington last year, Mr. Miller has just received the following letter from R. W. Thatcher, director of the agricultural experiment station at Pullman:

Dear Mr. Miller: I will say that judging from the inquiries and letters which I have received in the last two months, a very general interest in the growing of corn in eastern Washington has been aroused and I am confident that there will be thousands of acres planted this year. If the season should be favorable as normal for corn-growing, the industry will be well established. The work which the O. R. & N. demonstration train did in introducing corn and field peas will have a very significant influence on the nature of the cropping systems in eastern Washington this year, as both of these crops are going to be grown very extensively. We have already sold all of the field pea seed that we had to spare. All of our seed corn was disposed of before January 1 and I have been referring inquiries since that time to stocks which were grown around in different parts of the state, and I understand that these are now pretty well sold out.

Official Is Pleased.

"The results shown by Mr. Thatcher's letter are immensely gratifying," said Mr. Miller. "The utilization of the immense acreage that now lies idle every year in eastern Washington means the production of greater crops. The increases will not be in field peas and corn alone, but in wheat as well. The alternating crops restore to the soil elements that are taken out by grain-growing. Greater crops will mean higher land valuations and these will result in the cutting up of the large farms and in a greater population. These are the things for which the railroad is striving and if we can convert eastern Oregon to the same plan the permanent prosperity of the immense inland country is assured."

Prize Stock Shown.

Further details of the contents of the demonstration train that will begin its tour of eastern Oregon next Monday were announced yesterday by Mr. Miller. The stock car will carry one prize Jersey dairy cow, one beef cow, two Cotswold sheep, two Shropshire sheep, four hogs and one Belgian mare. The stock car will be open at one end so that the animals may be driven out on a flat car that will adjoin it and the good points explained by the college experts.

Another 36-foot flat car will carry implements and tools that are utilized in advanced methods of farming. The train will also carry three of the new steel baggage cars one of which will contain the poultry exhibit consisting of live and dressed poultry, incubators in operation, model poultry houses, coops, etc.; another will contain exhibits of trees, shrubs and fruit. Demonstrations of pruning, grafting and fruit packing will also be shown.

One Exhibit General.

In the third car will be the general agricultural exhibit and dairy exhibit. The dairy exhibit will include hand and power milking machines and both cows on the train will be milked daily and butter manufactured in the model dairy carried. There will also be separators and testers and other dairy machinery operated by gas engine power. In the agricultural section will be exhibits of soils showing the capillary attraction and percolation of moisture, different mulches, varieties of grains and grasses and many other interesting displays pertaining to agriculture. The entire train will be electric lighted, power being provided by a gas engine.

1300-Mile Trip Planned.

Sleepers will be provided for the persons accompanying the train and the personnel will number about 32. Free distribution of field peas and corn will be made to selected farmers all along the route and alfalfa seed will be distributed in Sherman, Gilliam and Morrow counties.

The train in its tour will cover 1300 miles in all. Since the itinerary was first announced several material changes have been made in the hours and days on which demonstrations will take place in the different localities to be visited. The revised schedule follows:
