FRENCH WOMEN TO DEMAND SUFFRAGE

SUFFRAGE CANDIDATES START SELF-DENIAL FUND

Have Declared War Against All Retiring Deputies—Money to Be Raised But Husbands' Consent Necessary Before Campaign.

Paris.—In the forthcoming French Parliamentary elections the suffragists are to be up and doing. They have declared war on the Deputies who have hitherto refused to look favorably upon their demands for the Parliamentary vote. The suffragists are to put forward candidates in as many constituencies as possible. Many of the retiring Deputies, terrified at having women for rival candidates, have already given their adherence to the feminist movement, and have promised in the new Parliament to urge the extension of the franchise to women.

Many Candidates.
Mme. Marguerite Durand, the chief leader of the militant feminist movement in France, declares that the organization lacks but the sinews of war and not candidates. A "self-denial" fund is to be instituted, and the suffragists are to make an appeal to their richer sisters to help in the work. Mme. Durand is optimistic and is convinced that before long her sex will be represented on the Deputies' benches at the Palais Bourbon. The law in France, she adds, already recognizes that women possess enough brains to drive an automobile or taxicab, to heat the sick, and to plead for the criminal before the Assize Court. "Why, then, in the name of all that is wonderful," she demands, "should our sex not be allowed to participate in the framing of the laws?"

Get Husbands' Consent.
These apostles of the new movement affirm that every Deputy who does not adhere to the suffragist movement in France will be opposed by a woman. "If we even have a dozen of our sex elected," she said, "it will be an excellent beginning."
Three women candidates who have already announced themselves are Mme. Durand, Mme. Lilly Roussel, and Mme. Hubertine Auclerc. All possess husbands, and there is one little formality with which they will have to comply. In the man-made-French code it will be necessary to obtain the consent of their respective husbands before they can start on their electioneering campaign to woo the French elector. But the trio anticipate that the husbands concerned will speedily capitulate.

SEATTLE'S NEW AMENDMENT WILL SOLVE PROBLEMS

Seattle.—The cities and towns of Washington, Oregon and Idaho will be interested to know that Seattle has voted on a number of amendments at the recent city election, which are just now attracting widespread interest wherever the forces of good government are at work. At present Seattle elects its councilmen by wards. At the recent city election a charter amendment was adopted providing for the election of councilmen at large, nine in number, who will be responsible to the whole people and not to any one ward. It is charged that under the system of electing ward councilmen millions are wasted in useless improvements in order to make a councilman strong in his particular ward. Under the councilman-at-large system it is held out that the city will only get such improvements as have real merit.
The Seattle voters also cast their votes in favor of an amendment taking municipal elections out of party politics. Hereafter there will be non-partisan primaries held. The argument in support of this was that party politics has no place in selecting men to govern a municipality. A civic commission was created by the voters, which will have a voice in selecting the sites for city buildings, etc., this all looking toward making Seattle a "City Beautiful."

HISTORICAL LETTERS IN ABANDONED ADOBE

Los Angeles, Cal.—A number of interesting documents recovered from an outlaw's hut, among them a letter written by General Grant during the siege of Vicksburg, were received here recently. The Grant letter was addressed to General Parks and conveyed orders relative to the operations in front of the Confederate stronghold. The others were papers supposed to have been stolen from General Manuel Garcia, of the Mexican army.
That the papers had been secreted in the hut for many years was shown by their condition, and by the further fact that the hut, a dilapidated old adobe, near Perris, was abandoned when the railroad supplanted the stage line on the run between Los Angeles and San Diego.
Sergeant Sebastian, of the police department, received the letters from a friend, who found them hidden in a crevice of the hut. They will be turned over to a historical association.

FORGOT HIS BRIDE'S NAME AND MUCH ANGUISH ENSUES

Seattle, Wash.—His poor memory for names nearly cost T. Burt Connell a bride, and did cost him $30 taxicab fare and considerable anguish.
When Connell on the trip down from Skagway on the Bertha stooped to pick up a lady's handkerchief his head came in violent contact with her. There the courtship began.

Connell had just cleaned up $12,000 in Prince Rupert real estate. The young lady, whose name on the passenger list read "Jeanette Fry," had a week prior to sailing buried her brother, a miner, and had come into a legacy of $8000.

As planned when the Bertha landed Miss Fry was taken to a hotel, while Connell was to look up the witnesses, minister and license. In the excitement he forgot to register. The next seen of Connell was Tuesday morning when two men buffet in at the street door of the hotel. One was Connell. At the desk was Miss Fry, her closely drawn veil hiding her tear stained eyes. Her silence was eloquent.
"Doggone it, Jennie, I forgot your last name," shouted Connell.
Mr. and Mrs. Connell left Seattle today on the Shasta Limited.

A FREAK OF NATURE.

Horse-Cow-Deer Combined Is Found In Ontario.

Ottawa, Ont.—At the village of Buckingham on the Quebec side of the Ottawa river, a few miles from this city, is a horse, if such it can be called, that is only a third part horse, the other two parts being divided equally between a cow and a deer.
As a freak the animal probably has no equal. The normal parts are its head, eyes, teeth and one hind leg. Its backbone is not in the center, but runs along the side of its back. One side of the stomach is that of a deer, perfectly formed, with the fine close set-in ribs, and the delicately curved body. The other side resembles that of a cow, very full, with big, rough ribs and the hide much rougher than on the other side.
On one of its front legs there protrudes a twin horn which measures four feet and 11 inches from the tip to the base, turning up at the point and weighing about 25 pounds. The hind leg on the left side is put on backwards, so to speak, all the muscles of the leg are on the inside and the hoof points backwards.

Medicines that aid nature are always most successful. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy acts on this plan. It loosens the cough, relieves the lungs, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Sold by all dealers.

GRINNING SKELETON IS FOUND IN HOLLOW TREE

Eugene, Ore.—To be confronted with the grinning skeleton of a man standing upright in the hollow of a tree was the experience of a party of timber cruisers in the employ of the Lacey Lumber company, who are working on Knowles creek on the Siuslaw. The discovery was made on Monday when a member of the party removed a wooden slab covering the aperture in the tree and the ghastly sight was revealed in all its ghastliness.
Since the discovery the residents along Knowles creek have indulged in many speculations as to the identity of the person whose bones have bleached for apparently many years in such an unaccustomed tomb. Some are firm in the belief that a foul crime has been committed while others are of the opinion that a nomadic tribe of Indians took this means of laying away one of their number who had died on the trail.
A thorough search of the premises is being made in an effort to discover some clue leading to the identity of the victim.

Are you frequently hoarse? Do you have that annoying tickling in your throat? Does your cough annoy you at night, and do you raise mucous in the morning? Do you want relief? If so, take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and you will be pleased. Sold by all dealers.
