Trains Again Irregular.

Owing to washouts along the line of the Oregon Short Line, east of Huntington, O. R. & N. westbound trains are again somewhat irregular. Last night's No. 5 went through at 8:45 this morning, while the train which came through at No. 7 at 1 o'clock today was a stub made up at Huntington. The fast mail, which should have arrived last night, passed through this afternoon as the second section of No. 7.

Party of Railroad Officials Here.

Loneragan, division engineer of the Oregon division and C. M. Ladd, assistant division engineer of the Oregon division.

Another New Front.

Jacob Betz of Tacoma and owner of much Main street property in this city has been here since yesterday. Mr. Betz is making arrangements to have a new front installed in the one vacant room he has on Main street. It is the room formerly occupied by the shooting gallery. It will be provided with a modern front and will also soon be occupied. At this time two different parties are seeking to secure the room from Mr. Betz.

Fishing Season Opens Tomorrow.

Tomorrow is the first day of the fishing season and many of those who have the leisure time are planning trips to McKay and Birch creeks, despite the high condition of the water. It is expected that Sunday will see a general exodus of local anglers to these streams as the water is yet too high in the river. Only 170 licenses have been issued thus far. The total number of licenses issued during last season was more than 1900.

Walla Walla Couple Married Here.

Miss Sylvia Pauline Estes and Jack Peak Hobson, a popular young couple of Walla Walla, well known in this city, outwitted their friends in the Garden City by stealing away from the preparations for a big wedding and coming to Pendleton where they were married at noon today at the Catholic church. They were accompanied by the brother of the bride, Roxy Estes, and Miss Amy Cavanaugh. The newlyweds left on the noon train for Portland and will go from there to San Francisco where they will spend their honeymoon. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Estes and the groom is in the employ of the Kerr-Gifford grain company.

HARVARD PRODIGY TURNS 50 AIRSHIPS

Boston, Mass.—William Sidis, the 11-year-old mathematical wonder at Harvard, has turned his attention from problems of the fourth dimension to aerial navigation, and as a result is authority for the statement that an aerial journey to Venus inside of 20 minutes is a possibility.

According to Sidis, he has solved the problem of aerial navigation, and all that remains is to put his conclusions into practice. His plan is to attach a piece of radium to the stern of an airship. Radium gives off the alpha rays, which leave the radium with great force. These rays, Sidis says, would be sufficient to drive an airship at tremendous speed—so rapidly, in fact, that the planet Venus could be reached in 20 minutes. Sidis has figured his theory out mathematically, but so far has made no attempt at a practical demonstration.

FINDS BRUTE DOING THE FAMILY WASHING

Kansas City.—On the complaint of Mrs. Charles Deal, wife of a farmer residing near Dodson, a constable was sent out to arrest the husband.

"He treated me like a dog—no, even worse than that," said Mrs. Deal, speaking of her husband. "I can't live with him another day. I am afraid he will hurt the children. You must do something for me."

Sam Lowe, a constable, was sent to serve the summons. On his arrival at the farm he was met by the surprise of his life.

"There the 'brute' was," said Lowe, describing conditions at the Deal farm, "his head bent over the wash-tub. He was doing a two weeks' wash. When I told him of the charges of cruelty he told me his side of the story."

"He said he did all the cooking, washed the dishes and milked a small herd of cows. In addition to his household duties, he told me he farmed 40 acres of corn land and raised pigs and chickens."

"I was instructed to bring his five children to town with me, but they appeared so happy and well taken care of that I refused. Maybe the wife's charges are true. I don't know but seeing what I did, I could not but sympathize with the poor, downtrodden husband."

The sympathetic officer quickly made the arrest and relieved the "brute" of his burdens.

UNCLE SAM RECOMMENDS "MEAT CLUB" SYSTEM

Washington.—"Meat clubs" is one of the many suggestions for the high cost of living in a book just issued by the government.

A "meat club," let it be explained, is a club in which the members take turns providing an animal for slaughter.

Uncle Sam has gone into the cook book business, and according to housewives who have perused the contents of the book, prepared by two government experts, the business is a success.

In Uncle Sam's zeal to protect the American stomach, and flattened purse, he has come out boldly against the vegetarian and declares for meat. The volume emphasizes the fact that many cheaper cuts are more nutritious than the more expensive cuts.

"For many reasons," says the volume, "it seems fair to conclude that this widespread habit of eating animal food is the result of experience and it has its foundation in bodily needs. The consensus of opinion among physiologists is that flesh foods are wholesome and a normal part of diet."

"U-AUTO-C-LAIDLAW" IS NEW TOWN'S SLOGAN

Laidlaw, Or.—"U-Auto-C Laidlaw" is the slogan that has been adopted by the Laidlaw Development league. It was decided at the last meeting of the league that the slogan should be printed on all stationery used by the organization and advertisements sent out. Business firms and private parties were also requested to use the slogan on their stationery. The publicity committee of the league was instructed to prepare suitable advertisements of Laidlaw and the Laidlaw district and have some printed in the Portland and Spokane papers, and a fund will be raised for the purpose of defraying the expense of the advertising. The subject of getting new enterprises to locate in Laidlaw has been given considerable attention by the league, and it was decided to try and secure a creamery and cheese factory and also a feed mill.

RINGLING BROS. WILL WINTER AT ALBANY

Albany, Ore.—Albany will become headquarters for the Ringling Bros. circus. This fact has just been brought out.

The eldest son of one of the Ringling brothers came to Albany about two weeks ago incognito and purchased an automobile from Barrett Bros. implement dealers. He scoured the country around about Albany and purchased the Thomas Froman 300 acre farm, about two miles southeast of here, on the branch line of the Southern Pacific. It is said that he has also purchased several residence properties in Albany, one of them being the finest house on Lyon street.

COUNT BONI WOULD WED LEOPOLD'S WIDOW

Paris.—Boni de Castellane, divorced husband of Anna Gould, former Princess de Sagan and now Duchess de Talleyrand, recently offered to marry Baroness Vaushu, widow of the late king Leopold of Belgium, according to unquestioned authority.

Boni was flatly rejected.

Friends of Count Boni believe that the volatile De Castellane sought to repelish a somewhat flattened purse by an alliance with Leopold's widow. Boni is up for re-election to the chamber of deputies this year and it is reported that he has nothing with which to make a fight for the place. His only asset is his title, and according to society's statistics the matrimonial market at the present time is extremely dull.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to extend my heartfelt thanks to the many friends and neighbors for their kind assistance during the late illness and bereavement of my wife.

"BETTER GOODS FOR LESS MONEY"

HENRI BATAILLE OBJECTS TO THE PURITAN CRITICS

Paris.—Henri Bataille, the successful French dramatist, has just sold two of his plays to Charles Frohman, making the unusual condition that the English version must be submitted to him for approval before the plays are produced. These plays are "The Scandal" and "The Foolish Virgin." Bataille said: "I am unwilling to sacrifice the artistic value of my work to Anglo-Saxon hypocrisy. Over here we know that great loves and great hates produce certain results. The American mind seems to consider the natural play of the emotions between sexes as vulgar. On the other hand we recognize that love may rise to great heights and sink to the lowest depths. That is the motive that makes the saint or sinner."
