Do You Get Up With a Lame Back?

Midney Trouble Makes You Miserable. Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's

every wish in overcoming rheumatism. pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been thoroughly tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that a special ar-rangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not al-ready tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to findout if you have kid-ney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Rome of Swamp-Rock

The article, which is lengthy, tells how, profiting by the example of a woman who rode up Mount Hamilton on horseback after she had been an invalid for years, but who had recovered her health by fasting, he adopted a similar physical housecleaning programme. He lived on an orange juice and milk diet and, according to his own statement, became as fat as a "butterball." "After the initial loss of flesh at the commencement one should have no fear of fasting and one should not have terrified aunts and cousins around to scare him." Sinclair says.

FOR A "SKI" WEDDING

Geneva.-Putting convention and public opinion aside a young Swiss couple arrived at the church of St. Moritz to be wedded on skis. They were accompanied by the best man and several bridesmaids, all on akis, while the parents of the couple walked to the church and waited for their children.

The joyous band planted their skis against the walls of the church, and, brushing off the snow from their clothes, entered the building for the ceremony. The bride wore a white sweater, short skirts and heavy boots with nails, but carried orange blossoms in her hand.

After the ceremony the young couple were snowballed-which replaced the traditional rice-while putting on pletion what will be the largest of all their skis, and chased several miles out of St. Moritz by their friends, The moon commenced.

The young Swiss couple intend to pass two weeks in the Alps on the one hut to another, before returning to St. Moritz.

KHEDIVE WEDS AN AUSTRIAN COUNTESS

Cairy .- The Khedive of Egypt, who has hitherto been a monogamist, has just taken to himself a second wife, as, under Moslem law, which allows a man four wives, he is perfectly entitled to do.

The woman he has raised to khedive rank is an Austrian countess who for many years has been attached to his court. Great affection has existed for a long time between the two with the result that the countess has become a convert to the Mohammedan faith and has taken the name of Zubeida Yen Hanem. She will naturally in future reside in the khedive's harem.

The marriage has caused heartburnings among the wives of Egyptian dignitaries who have hitherto followed the khedive's example of monogamy. The ladies are apprehensive that their husbands will imitate the khedive and take additional wives.
