OWNERS OF DOGS PREPARE TO WEEP

ALL SUPERFLUOUS CURS WILL BE GIVEN THE AXE

Dog Catcher Has Been Hired and Will Begin His Deadly Work Soon—All Canines Without License Tags Will Be Cut Down in The Flower of Their Youth.

The dog license is now a month overdue and is delinquent. Dogs on which the licenses have not been paid by tomorrow morning will be subject to capture and incarceration in the dog pound and if not redeemed within 48 hours, may be destroyed.

But though the tax is now delinquent the work of catching and killing will not be started until April 15. On that day the work will be started in earnest for Harry Hart, Spokane's famous dog catcher has been employed by the city council and notified to be in Pendleton and ready for business by April 15.

According to the mayor and the police committee the town is to be cleaned of dogs as it never has been before. All other attempts to rid the city of superfluous dogs will be mere farces in comparison with this one for every dog in the city must be tagged or killed. The officers say it will do no good to keep dogs in back yards, cellars or even in the house during the time that the dog catcher is here for the dog will be caught, and the tax collected regardless of all precautions taken to escape it.

The police and finance committee were instructed to take up the matter of providing a suitable pound in which to confine the canines during the 48 hours it is necessary to hold them. The committees were also notified to have it ready for use by April 15.

WOMEN STOP SURVEYORS AT POINT OF GUNS

Dayton, Wash.—When state engineers employed in surveying for a state highway leading from Dayton, attempted Tuesday to pass through the Windust ranch, three miles west of here, they confronted an arsenal manned by two women, Mrs. Lewis Windust and Mrs. Pete Swanson, who armed with revolvers, declared they would shoot the first man who crossed the fence. The engineers were turned back.

Chief Engineer D. L. Saltau obtained yesterday a restraining injunction, and he declares his men will not be turned back again, even at the point of guns.

A pitched battle may occur, for the farmers are determined to resist the advance of the engineers, whom they have branded as trespassers. Charles Gilbreath threatened yesterday to shoot of the men came upon his land.

CLERK SAVES GOVERNMENT THREE CENTS DURING YEAR

Washington.—A sarcastic comment upon the present economical administration was received by the Secretary of the Treasury from a person signing himself "3500 clerk" as follows:

"During the past year, by omitting to cross my 't's' or dotting 'i's,' I have saved the government two cents in ink. Will you please add this to my salary? I am now using my lead pencil down to one-half inch. I hope in this way to save another cent. Long live this economical administration. 'I am short of paper or I would write a longer letter. We are one year nearer the poor house.'"

Roosevelt and Bryan may be opposing candidates for president yet, but if so more likely in 1916 than in 1913.

"COLLEGE SINGING GIRLS" IS LAST AND BEST

The management of the public school lecture course has evidently saved the best for the last. The college singing girls appear at the Oregon theater tonight under the auspices of the local schools and the following from the Walla Walla Union of this morning would indicate that the number is one of the best ever brought to the northwest by a lyceum bureau:

"Few entertainments coming here from a lyceum bureau have pleased as much as did the college singing girls, the last number of the Y. M. C. C. entertainment course, at the Keylor Grand last night. They gave a program that was varied and interesting, musical and entertaining, brisk and snappy throughout. Walter Eccles, male member of the bunch, and his impersonations, took nearly as well as did the girls.

"Singing together, the girls made one big hit. All have good voices, and time and training have aided their natural ability so that they blend perfectly. Solos, duets, trios, quartets went with equal precision and harmony, all going to make a perfect whole.

"The special favorites would be hard to pick, but Bertha Giles in "When Grandma was a Girl" must certainly be put among these. So, too, must Miss Anita Kepmton's dialect song, "The Drum Song," from "Mlle. Modiste," led by Ella Harding, was a winner, as well as was "Oh, Scholar," by Mr. Eccles and three of the girls.

"Mr. Eccles was great in his impersonations, his "Impatient Patient" being the biggest laugh producer of the evening. Charles Pearsall at the piano did wonderful work, his accompaniments being as nearly perfect as possible for human skill to make them.

"This number ends the Y. M. C. C. entertainment course, and preparations are already under way for another, of six numbers, for next year. Cards were passed for season ticket signers last night and many were secured. It is to be hoped that the singing girls will be included in the future plans."

NEW RECORDS IN STOCK

Portland.—Cattle and hogs have made new records in the Portland livestock market during the past week. Hogs sold at the remarkable price of $11.50 per 100 pounds, live weight, and steers of the best grade brought $6.75 per 100 pounds. Mutton also attained a record, a lot of good lambs going at $12 a 100 pounds an unusual price for any season.

The government has conserved about enough for the corporations and interests.

OTE JOHNSON MAKES A RECORD HIT IN GEORGIA

Well, Ote Johnson has caught his batting eye and is credited with making Sherman's march to Atlanta look like a quiet stroll alongside of the journey he gave a baseball at Athens the other day.

Two days after the New York Americans' correspondent quoted Manager Stallings as saying the Portland slugger couldn't hit, he penciled this squib to his paper March 25:

"Ote Johnson this afternoon gave an apt illustration of a home run and for the first time since he reported to Stallings the Portland demon found his batting eye. But for the most daring burglars on the part of Birdie Cree, the big third sacker would have hit for 1000 during the afternoon. As it was Johnson had a single and a homer in three times at bat. His single might have been a homer had not Earl Gardner sprang into the air and retarded its progress by a blind stab. But the four-base smash was beyond reach.

"Johnson got to one of Carroll's choicest curves and knocked the ball further than any had ever before traveled in Georgia. Birdie Cree was playing deep for the big fellow. The ball went so far that Cree had not got to it by the time Johnson crossed the home plate, and he only jogged from second. The ball rolled to the fence, which is fully 300 yards from the plate.

Johnson secured his single, the first hit of his big league experience, off Quinn. The homer greeted Dick Carroll on his appearance in the seventh."—Portland Journal.

WEALTHY OLD MISER LIVES AMID SQUALOR

London.—A miser who has lived for years on a few shillings a week, while he was in receipt of an income of $3000 a year—and had, it is believed, $250,000 worth of property—has just forsaken his solitary life and sought better shelter in a Salford hospital.

His name is John Clarence Hudson. For a considerable time he tenanted a small house in Railway-Terrace, Salford. There he lay ill, until at last he was driven to ask for assistance. He was found by the hospital officials on a bedstead covered with a dirty rag, with a stick by his side to keep the rats from his food.

Two Shillings a Week.

"I can do well on two shillings a week," he told the officials. His food supply was said to be as follows:

One cent's worth of milk every four days.

One loaf of bread a week.

One-half pound of sugar every three months.

One-half pound of meat a week.

Yet he admitted that he had $17,500 worth of railway stock and some home property, and it is stated that he received a legacy of $150,000 from his parents. He also declared that he had not been bathed for 20 years and it took two nurses two hours and a half to make up the arrears in this respect.

Long Dead Romance

But amid all the squalor of his home the officials found a touch of a long-dead romance. A table was laid in one room for two people to dine. It had always been kept like that, they were informed by the woman who attended the miser.

Hudson, who practiced years ago as a solicitor, is said to have been "crossed in love."

Another remarkable feature of the case was the discovery of a picture of Spanish beggar-girls, which, Hudson declares, is a real Murillo.

FRENCH AERO CLUB FORMULATES A CODE

Paris.—Rules and regulations controlling the navigation of the air have been formulated by the Aero Club of France and have been submitted to the French government as the basis for a national law.

The code, elaborated after much study, aims to meet the rights and interests of all—the acrobat and balloonist flying through space and of man and man's property on the earth below.

Following are some of the club's suggestions:

Aerial craft, whether aeroplane or dirigible balloon, must not circulate lower than 150 feet above private property.

Flying above cities requires a permit from the municipalities.

Flying in a fog is not allowed and the transportation of explosives, except hunting ammunition is prohibited.

The fixation of general aerial routes is recommended as a way of avoiding collisions and aeroplanes and dirigible balloons should keep off a certain distance from spherical balloons, so if accident happens to the dirigible machines the spherical may not be endangered.

For the protection of the aeronaut it is recommended the proprietors of high buildings and other structures be required to illuminate their property at night at each level of 250 feet, while electric wires strung above 150 feet from the ground should be marked each 600 feet with a white flag by day and a white light by night.

Other suggestions relate to the establishment of aerial "ports of access" to large cities.

The project is now being studied by Mr. Miller and the minister of public works.

KING EDWARD PLANS HOUSEHOLD ECONOMY

London.—King Edward is planning further reduction in his household expenses. There has been more than one all-round economizing campaign since he came to the throne but apparently His Majesty is not yet satisfied with the business side of his various homes.

Numerous sinecures have been dispensed with, but more are to go. The King's chief household officers have been ordered by their royal master to overhaul their various departments and see what economy can be effected without impairing their efficiency.

In Queen Alexandra's household also the pruning knife has been busy, and altogether the royal domestic arrangements have been modified so as to save a good round sum.

NOPOLEON'S CABIN BOY.

Went With Him to St. Helena; Is 106 Years Old.

Sydney, N. S. W.—Napoleon's cabin boy is still living in this city, in his 106th year. He is William Johnstone, who was aboard the British warship Northumberland, which carried the fallen emperor to St. Helena in 1815.

Napoleon took a fancy to the lad, and on arriving at the island chose him to be one of his personal attendants. He treasures a devotional book containing an inscription by Napoleon.

"When I was cabin boy on the Northumberland," said the old man, "I used to look after the emperor's cabin. We used to have many talks, and I think he got rather fond of me."

Johnstone is an inmate of a home kept by the French Sisters of the Little Company of Mary, who have no doubt that his story is genuine.

A Night Alarm.

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the metallic cough of croup bringing dread to the household. Careful mothers keep Foley's Honey and Tar in the house and give it at the first sign of danger. Foley's Honey and Tar has saved many little lives and is the only safe preparation for children as it contains no opiates. Koepfen Bros.
