Chehalis to Pave Streets. Chehalis, Wash.—Mayor West and five members of the Chehalis city council were in Portland Wednesday inspecting the various kinds of paving as guests of the Warren Construction company. The council has recently instructed the city engineer to prepare estimates on about three miles of hard surface pavements in the residence districts.

Packing House Closed. Aberdeen, Wash.—The Ninemire Packing company, located midway between this place and Hoquiam, has been compelled to close its doors temporarily on account of the scarcity of live beef, sheep and hogs. The company has found the prices of livestock so high that it is considered more profitable to buy their meat from the Union Meat company of Portland, which they will do for the time being.

Aviator Falls to Fly. Albany, Ore.—Wednesday forenoon Aviator Burkhardt of this city attempted his third trial flight. At the start the truck left the track and caused a wire of the tail to break and strike the propeller. The aeroplane never rose into air, but skidded to the end of the track and stopped. The tangled wires chipped a piece off the end of the propeller and tore a hole in the coiled silk.

Aviation Meet for Yakima. North Yakima, Wash.—North Yakima will have an aviation meet this spring in spite of the fact that the Business Men's association refused to give the guarantee of $2000 asked by Hamilton for the exhibit. A meeting of public spirited business men was held yesterday morning, and within a few minutes the 10 who were present had raised the guarantee by subscription. The meet will now be held in this city about the middle of April, and will be the last aviation exhibition to be given in the northwest this season, as Hamilton will go directly east from here.

Denies He Abducted Girl. Tacoma, Wash.—Arthur Root, the 24 year old ex-convict, is in jail for abducting Maude Lester, 15 years old, from her home in Sumner. Root protests his innocence of any criminal intent. He declares that he wishes to marry the girl, and had long intended to do so, but that they had agreed to wait three years until she was of age. He says that he did not ask the girl to leave home, but that she came to Tacoma against his advice.

"Roseburg Republican Club." Roseburg, Ore.—The "Roseburg Republican Club" was organized in this city on Tuesday evening, with a membership of 42. Regular meetings are to be held to discuss the measures that are to be submitted to the voters of the state at the next general election under the initiative and referendum.

Brother to Investigate Death. Spokane, Wash.—An investigation into the cause of death of C. O. Chinn, an I. W. W. member, who died here two weeks ago as the result of 34 days' confinement on bread and water for participating in street speaking, has been started by a brother, P. M. Chinn, of Hutchinson, Kan. The latter learned of his brother's death through the news dispatches. In a letter to Spokane police Chinn demands to know the cause of death. He will likely have the body exhumed and bury it in Kansas.

Little Tot Burned to Death. Medford, Ore.—Through the carelessness of an older sister, Lucille, the 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Weeks of Trail, near the summit of the Cascades, east of this city was burned to death Sunday night, according to reports reaching here.

The parents of the two girls were absent from home when the tragedy occurred. Late in the afternoon the elder sister lighted the lamp and placed it upon the floor. M'CLURE HAS PRAISE FOR ASYLUM DAIRY Dairy conditions at the Oregon insane asylum are equal to the best to be found anywhere in the nation, according to Dr. S. W. McClure, chief of the bureau of animal industry in the northwest, who has just returned from an official visit to the Willamette valley. When asked concerning the milk supply conditions at the asylum, he replied: "I have just returned from Salem, Oregon, where we tested the dairy herd owned by the state insane asylum. This herd is constituted of 120 cattle and is kept in the highest possible condition to economically produce milk.

"While at the asylum I had the opportunity of examining carefully the new dairy barn which has just been completed under the direction of Dr. Lee Steiner, superintendent of the asylum. In my judgment this barn is the most sanitary and most up to date in every particular of any dairy barn located in any of the western states, in fact, it is probable that few, if any, barns in the United States exceed it in sanitation and modern construction.

"Dr. Steiner is to be congratulated upon the wisdom he has displayed in the construction of this barn and the state is fortunate indeed to possess such an institution within its borders. Under these modern conditions the state insane asylum is supplied with dairy products which are unsurpassed anywhere in the nation. This barn is worth many times what it cost as a demonstration to the dairymen of the state in modern dairy sanitation. Any dairymen who contemplates the construction of a new dairy barn can well afford to take a trip to Salem to view this modern institution.

"We found the dairy cows all free from tuberculosis and found that the old barn was kept in a most excellent sanitary condition and that everything possible is being done to produce the purest possible dairy products for the inmates of this institution."

C. S. JACKSON BUYS SITE FOR JOURNAL BUILDING

C. S. Jackson, publisher of The Journal, closed a deal yesterday with John C. Ainsworth, president of the United States National bank, for the purchase of the quarter block at the southeast corner of Seventh and Yamhill streets, comprising lots 7 and 8, block 186. The price paid is $200,000. The property was purchased with the intention of erecting upon it a building which will be the home of The Journal.

This property has been in the possession of the Ainsworth family for 60 years. Originally the holding comprised the whole block, bounded by Sixth, Seventh, Yamhill and Taylor streets. Two years ago the south half of the block was sold to the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. The quarter block at the south west corner of Sixth and Yamhill is still the property of the Ainsworth company. The quarter purchased by Mr. Jackson is now occupied by the Buckingham hotel and one large frame residence.

The soothing spray of Ely's Liquid Cream Balm, used in an atomizer, is an unseizable relief to sufferers from Catarrh. Some of them describe it as a godsend, and no wonder. Liquid Cream Balm contains all the healing, purifying elements of the solid form, and it never fails to satisfy. Sold by all druggists for 75c, including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.
