CLUB MANAGERS HAD BUSY MEET

WEEKLY LUNCHEON WAS MOST INTERESTING YET

Wagon Road Proposed Down River to Barnhart—Walla Walla Men to Visit City—Orchestra Concerts Considered for Summer Months.

Motor Car Coming. Word to the effect that the new O. R. & N. motor car will be here early next week has been received by President W. L. Thompson from J. H. O'Neill. However, no definite date for the trip to the west end has yet been set and cannot be set until further information is received from the railroad company.

Many subjects pertaining to the welfare of the city and the county were discussed today at the weekly luncheon of the Commercial association managers. In point of interest and in the multiplicity of topics under consideration the session today was the best since the luncheons were started. The subject of a road directly down the river from the city to Barnhart was discussed and the matter will be presented to the county court by W. E. Brock, of the roads committee. It is the desire to utilize some of the O. R. & N. roadbed after the line changes are made and by doing so provide a road to Barnhart that will surpass the present hill road.

A proposition from the United Orchestra and band for the giving of weekly band concerts during May, June and July was presented by Will Ingram, but was referred back to the musicians for further consideration. A report from the committee that had charge of the entertainment of the Inland Empire teachers convention was read. It showed a balance of $47 in the hands of the committee and this money will be held for use in entertaining future visiting delegations.

A communication was received from the Walla Walla commercial club announcing a proposed visit to this city. This communication is being held for consideration at the monthly meeting of the association Tuesday evening. The managers are now discussing the proposition of raising a substantial fund for meeting community purposes so as to avoid the taking up of frequent small contributions from business men. No definite plan has yet been worked out.

Prominent Botanist Will Work Out From Pendleton. William C. Cusick, a botanist of note, who has already devoted considerable time to the flora of eastern Oregon, is spent the summer between the Cascade and Blue range of mountains. He is now here, the guest of President W. H. Bleakney of the Pendleton academy and while he expects to leave soon for southern Oregon he will maintain his headquarters during the summer at the academy.

Prof. Cusick has been at the University of Oregon during the winter, systematizing and rearranging the herbarium at the state school. Nearly the whole of his life has been spent in botanical work and about 1000 plants have been named in his honor. As usual this spring and summer will be devoted entirely to field work. He will work in the vicinity of Pendleton for a few days now and will then go to the southern part of the state to return and work the Pendleton country later. With the exception of two trips taken by himself and President Bleakney of the academy, the western slope of the Blue mountains has not been examined for flowers and plants and it is the intention of Prof. Cusick to spend the greater part of the summer in going over the foothills and western slopes of the mountains, just east of Pendleton.

BAKER WOOLGROWERS ARE SORE AT DISTRICT FORESTER

The Baker-Union Woolgrowers will get little support from C. E. Chatman, district forester with headquarters at Portland, if his ruling handed down today is put in force, says the Baker Herald.

At a meeting of the advisory board of the association today the Chatman ruling was read. It upholds the former ruling of H. K. O'Brien in every detail and stoutly denies that Mr. O'Brien is in any way biased or prejudiced to the extent of favoring any one section of the Wallowa reserve.

The woolgrowers of Baker and Union counties have contended that the apportionment of sheep on the Wallowa forest was unfair to sheep owners living on this side of the Wallowa county line. But Mr. Chatman makes his ruling iron clad in favor of the O'Brien rule and closes the matter so far as he is concerned.

That an appeal will be taken to the forestry department at Washington with a request for a disinterested party to make a thorough examination of conditions, there is no doubt, whatever. In fact woolgrowers so announced at their meeting and the whole matter will be taken over Mr. Chatman's head to the department.

Another session of the sheepmen will be held some time this afternoon or evening at which time the sentiment for and against Ballinger will be announced and there may be a resolution adopted endorsing Ballinger and his policies.

PLAN "FARMERS' DAY" AT THE STATE FARM

Union, Ore.—Plans are being made at the state demonstration farm for a "Farmers' Day" about the last of June. It is the intention to have some of the professors from Corvallis deliver lectures and at the same time demonstrate the experiment station's work. Experiments will be made in weed killing by spraying, working with a weeder and allowing grain to go without any weeding. It is expected at that time to demonstrate the results and show the cost. Horticultural work will also be shown. It is believed that a good attendance can be obtained and a better understanding of the work had.

The normal school question is fairly before the voters by the initiative bill for Monmouth framed by her alumni. This separates it wholly from politics, and gives the voters a fair chance to express their choice. Schools are a necessity—we must educate the boys and girls—and we must have teachers, the normal school is the place to train and prepare these. Vote "Yes" for Monmouth.
