Famous Dogcatcher Picks up 23 Un-

 Owners Bursts Forth—One Man
 Swears to Complaint Charging Hart Pointed Gun at Him.

Dog owners who have escaped the payment of taxes in the past and who had counted on being able to escape this year are very much worked up today. It has suddenly developed that the city council is very much in earnest in its efforts to enforce the ordinance and clean up the town with the result that there is more excitement among delinquent owners of canines than there has ever been since the ordinance went into effect.

Harry Hart, the famous dog catcher, is not only here but he is catching dogs and arousing the ire of those who have not paid licenses. Among the latter is George O'Daniel, who this afternoon went before District Attorney Phelps, and swore to a complaint charging Hart with having pointed a gun at him and also charging him with carrying concealed weapons.

Hart is out after dogs and could not be found after the complaint was filed but O'Daniel claims the gun was pointed at him without any provocation. Hart has been sworn in as a special police officer and as such has a right to carry concealed weapons. He will also probably claim that he only drew the gun in self defense, after having seized O'Daniel's dog upon which no license has been paid, though it has been delinquent since the first of this month.

Though Hart has been in the city for the past few days he did not start operations until last evening. A few hours work on his part placed 23 untagged canines in the pound and the telephone in the office of the police court has been kept busy since early morning by anxious owners. An additional charge of one dollar is being made for every dog caught and this is adding to the flames of wrath.

Festivities in Honor of American Sailors Continue at Amoy.

Amoy.—The festivities in honor of the American sailors continued today. The silver loving cup, the gift of the American second squadron to the Chinese navy in commemoration of the visit to Amoy during the around-the-world voyage, was presented by Rear-Admiral Hubbard, commander accepted by Admiral Ching. The presentation took place on the flagship Hanchi.

The cup is inscribed in English and Chinese: "To the Officers and Crews of the Chinese Navy in Recognition of Their Courtesy and Hospitality at Amoy in 1908: From the Officers and Crews of the Second Squadron of United States Atlantic Fleet." Admiral Hubbard spoke and Prince Ching replied.

After the presentation Prince Ching gave a public reception to the American officers at the parade ground, the guests numbering nine hundred. A baseball game between nine chosen from the cruisers Charleston and Chattanooga, resulted in a victory for the Charleston.

Kearney's Witnesses Being Severely
 Cross-examined by O. R. & N. At-

 Witness Stand.

The trial of the big damage suit of Clarence Kearney against the O. R. & N. is proceeding slowly and it is probable that the greater part of the week will be consumed. The plaintiff is still introducing witnesses and it is certain that the defense will not have its inning before tomorrow. The case is being stubbornly contested on each side.

Ira Hughes, who was the first witness called for Kearney, was kept on the stand nearly all of yesterday afternoon by Arthur Spencer of counsel for the defense. He was put through an extended and severe cross-examination but could not be shaken very much on the material points of his story, which were to the effect that the vestibule door had been left open between Echo and Pendleton.

Hughes was corroborated in his account of the events of the night of the accident by H. C. Gard, who was also a member of the party.

J. D. Mattheson, who was trainmaster for the O. R. & N., was placed on the stand to show that the rules of the company which were in effect at that time provided that the members of the train should keep the vestibule doors closed.

Mrs. C. M. Kearney, wife of the plaintiff, was on the stand this morning testifying to the illness of her husband following the fall and the condition he has been in since that time.

Charles Johnson, the Pilot Rock sheepman, who came up from Portland on the train from which Kearney fell was also one of the witnesses of the day. He corroborated to a certain extent the testimony of Hughes and Gard.

John Kearney, night police officer and brother of the plaintiff is now on the stand. He is telling of the finding of the unconscious form of his brother, lying beside the railroad track about 700 feet west of Main street, on the morning that he fell from the train and also about the condition of his brother since that time.

JUDGE BEAN DOES NOT MAKE RULING

Portland, Ore., April 19.—Federal Judge R. S. Bean did not finally determine today the question whether the government shall be allowed to amend its complaint in the action against C. A. Smith, the Minneapolis capitalist and his associates, to secure, on the grounds of fraud, the cancellation of patents to a large tract of timber land in this state. The government asked that it be allowed to amend its complaint, so in event it

WHO WAS THE WOMAN?

Romance of the Commons' Ladies' Gallery Revealed in "Ad."

London.—The "Morning Post" publishes the following advertisement: LADY IN WHITE IN HOUSE OF COMMONS—Would the lady who occupied the end seat of the second row of gallery Monday night please write to M. P.?

If the present Parliament does nothing more, it promises to furnish one little romance, and every good looking young bachelor—and there are more than usual in the present House—has been challenged with the searching inquiry: "Art thou the man?"

A handsome young lady dressed in white did actually sit in the ladies' gallery on Monday night, though whether she occupied the end seat of the second row cannot be recalled by those who were present.

American Art Show.

Berlin.—The opening of an exhibition of American pictures by the Crown Prince was an event of high interest to art circles and, indeed to the public generally. It came on top of the closing of the French exhibition of Renaissance painting and is lodged in the salons of the Royal Academy of Arts in the Pariser Platz, which saw the exhibition of Old English masters under the Kaiser's personal supervision in 1908. It contains two hundred works by ninety-three artists, with small specimens of Whistler and Pennell.

As for way trains, with most men the train a woman wears is always in the way.

was found to be barred from having the patents cancelled it could recover damages equal to the difference between the amount it received for the land and the actual value.

In his statement, however, making known his intention to withhold his ruling until later in the trial, Judge Bean said:

"I very much doubt, if in a suit for revision of patent it is proper to join an action for damages. I doubt whether the government can recover damages in such a case, after it has sold its property, received its purchase price and given its title, simply complaining that because it conveyed through fraud to those who were not entitled to it the damage action should lie."

After the court's announcement regarding the motion to amend the trial of the case began, the prosecution introducing testimony in support of its contention that the defendants acquired title to the timber land through fraud.

POPE HAS NOT CUT OFF AMERICANS FROM HONORS

Rome.—The report that the pope had eliminated the names of American candidates from the list of candidates for the cardinalate has, upon investigation, been found to be erroneously. It has been authoritatively denied and the idea such a step had been taken because Theodore Roosevelt did not visit the pope was characterized as ridiculous.

It is pointed out by one of the vatican officials that no list of candidates for the American cardinal ever existed. For more than two years, said the official, the pope had not held a consistory although there are many vacancies in the sacred college; but notwithstanding this, nothing has been arranged with reference to the next consistory, which, it is almost certain, will not be held until next winter, if then.

All references to American candidates, therefore, he said, was premature. The general opinion here is that the pope does not intend to appoint another American cardinal while Cardinal Gibbons lives.

Paris, April 14.—A dispatch received here from Rome says it is stated in ecclesiastical circles the nomination of Cardinals which was expected to take place in May or June has been postponed until the end of the year.

FORTUNES IN SMALL FURS.

Delaware Trapper Richer by Thousands of Dollars This Year.

Milford, Del.—The trappers' season, which closed last week, was marked by the highest prices paid for furs in years. The season has not seen as many muskrats caught as in previous years, on account of the ice keeping the marshes closed nearly all winter, but the high prices have made up for the small number caught, and Walter Bennett, one buyer, has so far this season paid out to trappers nearly $5000, having handled 5000 muskrat hides, 200 raccoon hides, 100 mink hides, 200 opossum, 12 otters and 3000 rabbits. Another buyer, Thad Windsor, has paid out about $3000. One trapper is reputed to have made $1,000 during the season, which lasts from November to March.

The pelts are caught along the Delaware marshes and eastern part of Sussex county, some trappers making as high as $50 in one day. Probably the most successful of any of the trappers, considering the time she gives to the work, is Mrs. James Jones of Cove Neck, who expects to make about $500 this year.

"THE RED MILL."

Latest of the Blossom and Herbert Musical Plays.

Martin & Emery Co.'s production of "The Red Mill" will be given at the Oregon theater on Monday, May 2. This is the latest of the Blossom and Herbert musical plays, which scored for an entire year at the Knickerbocker theater, New York City, and duplicated its triumphs by engagements of three months in Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia; and will be presented here in as complete a manner as given during its unparalleled run.

The company numbers some sixty people, including the sextette of Dutch Kiddies, which the metropolis raved over and which in no small way was one of the special features of this musical success. All of the song numbers, the quaint costumes and the dashing girls, together with the marvelous escape from the mill will be reproduced faithfully.

Victor Herbert, the peer of all American composers, has rounded out some twenty musical numbers, every one of which is having an enormous sale in America and Europe, the more taking being "Every Day is Ladies' Day With Me," "You Never Can Tell About a Woman," "Go, While the Goin' Good," "The Streets of New York," "Because You're You," "The Isle of Our Dreams," and "I Want You to Marry Me."

Included in the cast are Bert O. Swor as Con Kidder, Franker Woods as Kid Conner, Otto Kroener, Alvin Laughlin, Carl Hartberg, S. W. Stott, Harry R. McClain Cecil Summers and the Misses Agnes Major Vernice Martyn, Adeline Stern, Georgia Harvey and a chorus of fifty, together with the company's special orchestra of accomplished solo performers.
