ECHO FARMER HAS HAD GREAT SUCCESS

F. W. ANDREWS, ONE OF BEST RANCHERS IN THE COUNTY

Has Lived 20 Years on Land Which He Has Transformed from Barren Tract into Fertile Farm—Gets Highest Price for Cattle—Buys New Gasoline Engine—Other Notes.

(Special Correspondence.)
Echo, Ore., April 25.—Our progressive citizen, F. W. Andrews, yesterday purchased a thirty-two horse-power gasoline engine of Fairbanks, Morse & Co., Portland, Ore. It will be here in a short time and will be used for cutting hay. What Mr. Andrews has achieved on his farm of 125 acres which is one and one-half miles west of Echo, shows that land values are in the immediate vicinity of Echo when combined with perseverance and intellectual ability. Mr. Andrews has just returned from Portland, where he sold two carloads of cattle at $6.90 per cwt. A buyer immediately returned with him to buy the remaining carload which he still had at his farm, those being among the best cattle shipped into Portland this year from any point. In fact, Mr. Andrews received the top price for any cattle sold, for a short time ago while beef was at the highest notch he sold three carloads of cattle for 7 cents at this point, which equaled at least $7.40 in Portland, being the best price paid. Mr. Andrews came here 20 years ago with nothing but his two hands and now has one of the best farms in this favored locality.

A plug blew out of the water main in front of the Echo Hotel this morning and the city was decidedly "dry" for a short time.

A. C. Gibbs, a first class carpenter, arrived here last week from Wisconsin, and immediately began work in his line for the Western Land & Irrigation Co.

Miss Elita Gillett returned yesterday from a week's end visit with relatives in Pendleton.

J. D. Watson and Dr. J. W. Staple run over to Walla Walla on Saturday, returning yesterday.

F. W. Taylor of Denver, Colo., was here Sunday and drove out over the Western Land & Irrigation project in company of C. Cleaver. Mr. Taylor was superintendent of the horticultural department at St. Louis during the fair held at that city.

Mrs. E. H. Brown of Stanfield visited with friends here yesterday.

Mrs. A. Moore was a passenger on the motor car yesterday morning, going to Pendleton.

Mrs. Estelle Longnecker visited in Pendleton yesterday.

LABOR UNION WARNS TAFT NOT TO ATTEND GAMES

St. Louis, Mo.—The Central Trades and Labor Union, representing every union wage-earner in the city, passed a resolution on Sunday ordering its secretary to notify Pres. Taft that if he attended the baseball game between St. Louis and Cleveland, while on his visit to St. Louis, May 4, he will offer an affront to organized labor throughout the United States and will be subject to a fine, as he is a member of the Steam Shovel and Dredgers' Union.

The Central Trades body of St. Louis also will put committees at the ball grounds on the date set for the game, whose duty it will be to keep persons from entering by persuasion and passing around literature to the effect that the Cleveland club is unfair to organized labor.

President Taft, through his secretary, has accepted invitations to attend both league games here. These invitations were from the baseball presidents.

ARCHBISHOP LAMENTS SECULAR EDUCATION

Paris.—A short time ago the Archbishop of Rheims was ordered to pay 500 francs damages to the Schoolmasters' Federation of the Marne, as a result of the pastoral letter he issued urging the bishops to protest against the use of certain books in the schools.

In this letter certain allegations were made against the schoolmasters and the latter, considering themselves libelled, brought an action against the prelate and won in the courts.

In a sermon last Sunday the Archbishop referred to the judgment against him, and declared that it was an honor for priests to suffer in defence of the souls of which they were the pastors.

He said he considered it to be the duty of bishops to point out to parents the perils to which the faith of their children were exposed.

"The word of God is no longer free in our country," said the Archbishop. "Our intentions are misinterpreted, our authority despised, and the acts of our spiritual ministry discussed by men who are not the judges of them. It is hard to be condemned like criminals when we have only the welfare of the country in view."

"If, one day, the full liberty of teaching should be the reward of our efforts, struggles and sufferings, we shall not have purchased the necessary liberty at too high a price."

Don't fail to see the wedding in high life at M. E. church, Wednesday evening. It alone is worth the price of admission 25 cents.

Make your pennies count and the dollars will come.

HERMISTON BERRIES ON MARKET MAY 1

WARM WEATHER RIPENS EARLY STRAWBERRIES

Project Will Not Have Great Quantity for Shipment This Spring—Rebecca Give Banquet to Odd Fellows—New City Well Being Dug—Other Items.

(Special Correspondence.)
Hermiston, Ore., April 25.—The hot days of the past week are ripening Hermiston strawberries very rapidly, and by the first of May there will be a nice lot of fine berries ready for picking. Most of the growers that have any sized patch are getting boxes ready to harvest the first ripe fruit. A great many of the berries here were only planted last fall and this spring so there will only be a limited number of boxes to be shipped to other markets.

Last night the Rebeccas gave a banquet to the Odd Fellows in honor of the 91st anniversary. A large gathering was present and enjoyed the fruits of the land set before them by the Rebeccas.

The Maxwell Land & Irrigation company has a crew of men working on the new well on the high ground in the northwest part of town. It is their intention to install an entirely new water system for the west side residents, and we are sure that it will be appreciated very much by them, for lately the system has caused quite a little inconvenience.

C. S. McNaught has gone to Portland to order supplies for the new water system soon to be installed on the west side.

Mrs. Louis Moses, who has been exercising with J. M. Scarborough for the past few days, has returned to her home in Pendleton.

H. Shoemaker and family left for Springfield, Missouri today and expects to locate there permanently.

An error was made in Monday's correspondence in regard to the baseball game next Sunday. It should have read Echo will play Hermiston on the Hermiston field, instead of Umatilla.

The Hermiston second team played a game of errors with Holdman Sunday and defeated them seven to one. The boys from Holdman made a total of 39 errors, making the game a very uninteresting one for the few fans that failed to get down to the Umatilla-Hermiston game.

Rev. Pease, who has been in charge of the Baptist church here for the past year has been assigned to a charge at Enterprise, Oregon. He expects to move his family there at an early date.

GERMANY'S LIQUOR BILL $710,000,000 YEARLY

Berlin.—A writer in the current number of the Reichsarbeitsblatt estimates the annual cost to Germany of the alcoholic liquor consumed by her people at $710,000,000. Of this amount $620,000,000 is expended on spirits and beer and the remainder on wine.

The entire annual cost of the alcoholic liquors consumed in Germany thus amounts as the writer points out, to more than twice the combined cost of the army and navy, more than four times the cost of workmen's insurance, and about five times as much as the total outlay for public elementary education.

Every family and especially those who reside in the country, should be provided at all times with a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment. There is no telling when it may be wanted in case of an accident or emergency. It is most excellent in all cases of rheumatism, sprains and bruises. Sold by all dealers.

EVERY BOAT ARMED TO ATTACK PIRATES

Paris.—Piracy still flourishes along the North African coast, and has lately become very prevalent.

The crews of the lobster boats fishing in Algerian waters have accordingly been armed to enable them to resist the Moorish buccaniers.

Each boat now carries eight rifles and the necessary ammunition, supplied by the naval authorities at Brest on instructions from Henry Cheron, under secretary of the navy.

"How much does it cost to get married?" asked the eager youth. "That depends entirely on how long you live," replied the sad-looking man.—Philadelphia Record.

WHY SALVES FAIL TO CURE ECZEMA

Scientists are now agreed that the eczema germs are lodged not in the outer skin or epidermis, but in the inner skin. Hence, a penetrating fluid is required, not an outward salve that clogs the pores.

We recommend to all eczema patients the standard prescription Oil of Wintergreen as compounded in 11-12 form known as D. D. D. Prescription. A trial bottle of this D. D. D. Prescription, at only 25 cents will instantly relieve the itch. We have sold and recommended this remedy for years, and know of wonderful cures from its use. We recommend it to our patrons. "THE RED MILL" WILL GRIND AT OREGON NEXT MONDAY

"The Red Mill," which will grind for the first time at the Oregon theatre on Monday, May 2, is the one comic opera triumph of the past season to receive the endorsement of the dramatic critics and the paying public as well. In fact, the privileged "dead heads" voted it the one successful comic opera success of the year. "The Red Mill" might be termed a musical comedy in two acts. Mr. Blossom, always clever, wrote the dialogue and lyric, and Victor Herbert wrote all the music. Both combined have made a play that will last as long, if not longer, than any comic opera. The story has to do with two roving Americans who are "doing" Europe for the first time, but find when they strike the continent that their extravagance has led them to almost financial ruin. They are discovered in an attempt to escape from the hotel, leaving their baggage behind, are apprehended, arrested and tried, and are sentenced by the Burgomaster to work out their sentence to the Inn-keeper. Then begins a series of complications and exciting situations which are brought to a climax in the first act, where they are helping two lovers to escape and go to the extreme in rescuing an imprisoned maiden from the mill, by means of the revolving blades of fans, which they use to ascend and descend with the girl.

One whole season on Broadway, New York, should be sufficient guarantee to assuage any challenge. Thousands of New Yorkers have gone time and again to see Con Kidder and Kid

Connor, in their various characters and to listen to the melodies of Victor Herbert's catchiest themes, while the different types of girls which form the chorus, and the cute little Dutch Kiddies, six in number, to say nothing of the exquisite costumes and stage settings, should prove enough of allurements to fill any theatre. The production here will be a replica of the New York organization and will include an exceptionally clever cast, with Bert O. Swor as Con Kidder, Frank Woods as Kid Connor, Otto Koerner, Alvin Laughlin, Carl Hartberg, S. W. Stott, Harry R. McClain, Cecil Summers and the Misses Agnes Major, Vernice Martyn, Adeline Stern, Georgia Harvey and a chorus of fifty, including the six little Dutch Kiddies, also an augmented orchestra.

An Object Lesson from Com. Perry's Trip to the Pole.

ADVERTISING TALK NO. 2.

Strange how we are inclined sometimes to wait until the last day of the week or the last month of the season to do the thing that is most important.

That phrase "Do It Now," is the personification of brevity but it carries a world of logic.

There was one critical time during Peary's dash to the pole when, if he had hesitated for a minute, his good ship "The Roosevelt," would have been ground to pieces by the ice floes that were hurrying fast upon her from all sides. Destruction of the vessel seemed inevitable.

He saw a possible escape just ahead of him in a narrow channel, filled with broken ice. He knew it was a case of "Do It Now" or never, and he gave the orders for full speed ahead.

Peary had proved his worth. The powerful engines of the sturdy ice-fighting craft responded in a manner that was truly wonderful and soon she passed forward to the open water beyond, to a position of temporary safety. Then the monstrous ice floes came together with a mighty crash at the spot where the ship had been apparently trapped but a moment before.

But this was only an incident. There was trouble ahead every hour of that perilous journey and the men in command rested neither night nor day.

Their eternal vigilance was rewarded a few weeks later when the Roosevelt pushed her nose to the farthest point north ever attained by any ship.

It is that same indomitable spirit that won glory for the American explorer that makes money kings of small merchants. Eternal vigilance is the price of success.

This rule is more applicable to advertising than to any other branch of your business.

It's through eternal vigilance in the use of printer's ink that you keep yourself and your goods fresh in the minds of the public.

Keep everlastingly at it through the newspaper columns—the newspaper which goes regularly into the homes of the city where you are transacting business.

Every day, everywhere there's a man or a woman who wants to buy some particular thing. Let him or her know that you have that article. Let the people know all the time what goods you carry and what their merits are—send one of your advertising talks direct to their homes every time the newspaper is issued. If you do this, how can you help but draw trade? How can you help, but win victory?

Now some fellows wait until the busy season comes along, when they have so much to do they can't get their hats off, and then rush to the printer with advertising.

Advertising is the best tonic for a dull season you ever saw. If you haven't tried it, order a case and keep it on hand.

Once in a while, some enterprising merchant finds this out, and scoops in all the business, while his neighbor signs his name to a note in order to pay the rent.

Don't quit advertising and cut off your nose to spite your face.

A gentleman from Arizona, we are told, once hanged himself to the bed post by his suspenders. The verdict of the coroner's jury was:

"Deceased came to his death by coming home full and mistaking himself for his pants."

Don't mistake yourself for your pants.

FRIDAY IS BIG DAY FOR LOCAL ATHLETES

HIGH SCHOOL INTERCLASS TRACK MEET SCHEDULED

Contests to Be Held on Matlock Ball Grounds and Will Serve As Tryout for Regular Team—Grammar Schools Will Also Compete.

(High School Correspondence.)

The annual interclass meet of the high school will be held on Friday, April 29, at 2:30 p. m. at the Matlock ball grounds. Also the four grammar schools of the city will contest for supremacy. This will serve as a tryout to pick the athletes to represent Pendleton at the county meet to be held in Athena on the 14th of May. Pendleton is anxious to win first honors at this meet in order to gain possession of the valuable cup which has been presented by the Athena Commercial club.

There is much class rivalry among the four classes of the high school since the cross-country run and twelve fast events are promised. As the different grades of the grammar schools have been divided into two divisions there is much more interest being taken, as the younger boys are in a division by themselves. Division B consists of the 7th and 8th grades and there will be eight events. Division C consists of the 7th and 8th grades and there will be eight events. Division C consists of the lower grades and they will have six events. Each school is allowed two entries in each event.

The ball grounds are being put into shape for the meet. There will be a 220 yard straight away and this race promises to be a pretty one.

The proceeds of the meet will be used to take the Pendleton team to

Pendleton's representatives are working hard and will show up well in the contest.

BIG SPORTS EXPOSITION IS PLANNED IN VIENNA

Vienna.—The International Sports Exhibition will be opened at Vienna on May 2 by the Emperor Francis Joseph in his capacity of patron. The rotunda in the Prater, which has already seen so many exhibitors, is again devoted to this purpose, with the surrounding park enclosing 350,000 square metres. Hunting, horse breeding and sport will be amply represented in this original exposition.

To the great mass of visitors acquainted but superficially with the pleasures of the chase, a new and interesting perspective will be unfolded and novel ideas presented for their consideration.

As the emperor and all members of the aristocracy are ardent lovers of hunting, and many of them finished sportsmen, they have been able to assist in furnishing remarkable exhibits, and it is expected that the sporting circles of Europe and America, who have promised their assistance, will be also largely represented.

The immense outlay for buildings, including many picturesque pavilions, has already reached about 12,000,000 kronen. The mild winter here allowed the work to be continued with very little interruption, so that nearly all the buildings are already completed, and the opening day will see an unusually finished picture.

During the last few months a great town has sprung up around the rotunda, whose grey cupola rears its head above the mushroom buildings beneath.

Near the graceful art pavilion is a picturesque hunting box built in antique style, with fine examples of art fabrics and painted tapestry. To it is attached a miniature church, with exquisitely painted windows and a tiny organ, which will probably find many admirers.

A few steps farther, amid ancient trees, stands the Hall of Trophies, where an international competition in hunting trophies will be displayed. Here are exhibited the rare spoils obtained by sportsmen in all lands, recalling many a brave feat of the chase.

NICK LONGWORTH WILL SPOUT FOR REGULARS

Washington, D. C.—Nicholas Longworth, son-in-law of Theodore Roosevelt, is to be the first spell-binder to mount chautauqua platforms in defense of the republican regulars.

The republican congressional committee called for volunteers for that service, and Longworth was the first to show that he had heard his party's call. Also he was the first accepted by the chautauqua organizations.

Invitations for Mr. Longworth to address meetings in the coming summer are pouring in and he admits that he is going to accept, and that he will give his voice and his views to the cause of party regularity.
