INDIANS HOLDING REVIVAL SERVICES

EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS ARE NOW IN PROGRESS

Representatives of Many Different Tribes Gather at Tutuilla Mission—Indian Minister Conducts Meetings—Convention of Methods of Work Each Day.

The Indian evangelistic meetings and "Convention of Methods of Work" are now in progress at the Tutuilla mission on the Umatilla Indian reservation, six miles southeast of Pendleton. Visiting Indians are present from Yakima, Spokane, Nez Perce, Ft. Hall and Warm Springs reservations.

Beginning with this evening evangelistic meetings will be conducted each night by Rev. James Dickson, the new Indian minister recently arrived to take charge of the work at Tutuilla. He will be assisted by Rev. J. M. Cornelson, the missionary for the Umatilla reservation.

The conventions on methods of work will be held each day and experts on each line of work will address the people. "Christian Endeavor Work and Methods" was the subject of an address today by Rev. D. A. Thompson of Portland, who is also to be one of the speakers of the Christian Nurture conference which is to be convened at the Presbyterian church in this city tomorrow evening.

Tomorrow Rev. Ralph E. Storey, pastor of the Baptist church in Pendleton, will deliver an address on "Bible and Sabbath School Work," while Friday Rev. J. R. Knowdell, of Portland, and secretary of the Oregon Anti-Saloon League, will speak on "Temperance Work and Methods."

"Women's Work and Methods" will be the subject discussed Friday by Mrs. Flora D. Palmer, of New York, special field secretary of the Women's Northern Pacific Board of Missions. Mrs. C. J. Smith of this city is also to be one of the speakers on Friday's program. Her subject will be "Phases of Woman's Life in the Holy Lands of Today."

BLACK HAND COURSE THINS THUGS' RANKS

London.—A piece of Paris in the middle of London is to come into being in a year or so.

On land facing the Strand, which has been cleared of buildings in a betterment scheme, a French syndicate is about to erect a group of beautiful buildings as a center of Parisian commerce and entertainment.

The buildings will cost about $5,000,000 and will include shops, offices, a "Palace of Industries," a theater, restaurant, a French club, a banquet hall and other features.

This scheme is the solution of a long-standing problem—what to do with the "island site" in the Strand. This was cleared when the new streets Aldwych and Kingsway were cut through the Clare Market slum district.

There was no rush to build upon the newly-cleared space which has for years been hunting ground for botanists who found many rare plants growing luxuriantly there.

At present the Gaiety theater, and restaurant and an Australian government office are the only buildings on the site.

The Black Hand and the Mafia, societies which have long terrorized the Sicilians, are to be credited with at least one good work. They are held responsible for the marked diminution in the activities of those other scourges of the Island brigand bands.

Their depredations have become less frequent, and it is said that whole bands of brigands have disappeared. There are at present only a few groups of brigands or lone desperadoes who are plying their trade.

SWEETHEART'S GRAVE IS SUICIDE SPOT FOR SWAIN

Marysville.—Brokenhearted and tired of living, John S. Becker, was found the other morning in a dying condition on the grave of his former sweetheart in a little private cemetery near Colgate. He died later in the day from a gunshot wound of the head. The bullet had plowed its way through the head from the right side, the revolver having been held just back of the right ear.

About three weeks ago his sweetheart, Miss Tena Lucero, died very suddenly. A note was found near the body of Becker which explained that he did not care to live after the death of Miss Lucero.

Being of a romantic nature the blow fell very heavily upon him when his sweetheart was summoned from his life, and his grief day after day became more pronounced. He avoided his friends and sought the woods and spent much of his time in the little cemetery.

Chantecler on Parade

New York.—Within the past two weeks a comely young woman stylishly dressed, has been seen on fine days promenading Riverside drive with a rooster, who walks along in a very dignified manner. Recently, while the young woman had her rooster out for an airing, a bird dog came along and mistook him for game, whereat Chantecler was glad to be gathered into his mistress' protecting arms until all danger was past.

Little Girl Will Lose

Kansas City, Mo.—Upon one little girl falls the burden of "Billy Baehr's" shortage, since the late City Treasurer will reimburse the municipal treasury from his $50,000 estate. In this way Ruth, his 15-year-old daughter, will lose her mother's fortune, which Baehr's wife left him by will. Baehr's shortage will probably reach $65,000.

FERGUSON IS NOW CAPTAIN OF CO. L

FORMAL ELECTION AT MEETING LAST NIGHT

New Commander by Stirring Speech Arouses Great Enthusiasm—Will Inject More Life Into Company—Plans for More Fun and Less Drudgery.

Attorney Charles J. Ferguson is now captain of Company L, 3d Infantry, O. N. G., his formal election to that position by unanimous vote of the company having taken place in Armory hall last evening. Ferguson immediately accepted the command and in an enthusiastic speech outlined his policy and that of the company for the succeeding months. He was heartily cheered at the conclusion of his remarks and more enthusiasm is being displayed by the members of the company than at any time since its organization. That the company will be recruited to its full strength within the next four days, the time required, is believed by all.

More Fun; Less Drudgery.

The new captain declared that while he would insist on a strict attendance at drill he also proposed to inject more life into the social and athletic side of the company life. He said there was no reason why the members of the company could not get more enjoyment out of life by reason of their connection with the company than they could out of it. According to the new commanding officer, less attention is to be given to drudgery and more to the pleasanter side of army life.

One of the first things to be done will be the organization of a company baseball team which will be out for the championship of the city. An effort will also be made to secure the installation of shower baths in the armory and many other moves will be inaugurated looking toward the convenience and pleasure of the members.

American Lake Trip.

The members are looking forward with much pleasurable anticipation to the trip to American Lake. According to a recent order from the war department none of those men enlisted after May 8 will be permitted to draw pay for this trip and for that reason an especial effort is to be put forth to enlist the 15 or 20 men necessary before that date. For this purpose the armory will be kept open all day Sunday and there will be a recruiting officer in attendance to take enlistments.

The men have now been furnished with olive-drab overcoats and the new uniforms are ready to be shipped. The company, in order to be permitted to make the trip to American Lake, must have 40 men and three officers but it is believed that little difficulty will be encountered in making the necessary showing.

The following order has just been received by Captain Ferguson: Headquarters Oregon National Guard Adjutant General's Office, Portland, Oregon, May 1, 1910.
