NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

Albany to Build City Hall.

Albany, Ore.—At a special election Monday the people of Albany voted in favor of having bonds not to exceed $10,000 for the erection of a new city hall. Only 21 negative votes were cast.

Fife Injures Young Hunter.

Cottage Grove, Ore.—While Cary Weddle, a lad of 12, was out after squirrels with a .22 caliber rifle late Tuesday afternoon, the gun was accidentally discharged, the bullet entering his left leg, inflicting a serious flesh wound.

Labor Needed in Hood Valley.

Hood River, Ore.—The Hood River Apple Growers' union has opened a labor bureau in this city which will be operated free. It will require about 6000 pickers and packers to handle the berry crop and do the apple thinning this year.

Olympia Women Tour Europe.

Olympia.—A party of 19 Olympia women, chaperoned by Mrs. Lou Diven of this city, started Tuesday for New York, and from there will sail for Europe on a 92 days' trip. The itinerary will include a visit to the village of Oberammergau to witness the Passion Play. There is not a man in the party.

Dallas Rainfall Breaks Records.

The Dallas, Or.—The precipitation the past month has been heavier than in any April in 35 years, the total rainfall for the month having been .52 of an inch. The first three days of May beat all former records, the precipitation for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday having been .74 of an inch. The rainfall has been much above the average during the last seven months, the precipitation since September 1, being 12.19 inches. The average for the entire year is seldom over 15 inches.

To Get $200,000 Gas Plant.

Medford, Ore.—It is the intention of J. R. Anderson of Los Angeles, who has recently granted a franchise in this city for the construction of a gas plant and system, if he secures a similar right in Ashland to erect a $200,000 plant half way between the two cities and furnish gas under high pressure to both cities.

Mr. Anderson's application for a franchise is now before the city council of Ashland. Work will start within a week in this city on the construction of the distributing system. By the terms of Anderson's franchise he must be furnishing gas to the residents of Medford within eight months.

Ban on Dogs and Fireworks.

Eugene, Ore.—The Eugene city council at its last meeting unanimously passed an ordinance prohibiting dogs from running at large on the streets of the city, excepting those owned by farmers and transients, and these owners are allowed to let their dogs run at large only two days after their arrival here. They will have had time to acquaint themselves with the ordinance by that time, it is thought. The penalty is a fine, or from $2.50 to $10.

The council also passed an ordinance prohibiting the explosion of fireworks within the city limits. This means a sane Fourth of July celebration this year and for years to come.

St. Petersburg.—Statistics published regarding suicides in St. Petersburg in 1909 show that 1432 persons took their own lives, and of these 932 were males and 500 females. They include 58 boys and 77 girls of ages varying from 11 to 17.

held Thursday and Friday of next week. The names of 142 pupils have already been reported to County Superintendent Welles and a number of districts are yet to be heard from. The number is unusually large.

The examination questions which are prepared by the state superintendent of public instruction, have been received by Superintendent Welles and in turn are being sent out by him to the different districts where the examinations are to be held. The manuscripts will be sent in to the county examining board for grading.

MYRTLE CREEK HUNTER SHOOT HIMSELF; DIES

Myrtle Creek, Ore.—About 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon Manson Nodruft of Myrtle Creek, an engineer for the Myrtle Creek Lumber company, who was hunting in company with Rudolphus Melby of Glendale, was fatally shot through the body with a 32-46 Winchester. The bullet entered the body near the backbone, above the right hip, passing through the body and lodging against the skin in front of the left hip. Nodruft called Melby, who was about 100 yards away, and told him he slipped and fell, throwing his gun, which exploded. The gun was some six feet from Nodruft when Melby reached him. Melby rushed to the mill for assistance and Nodruft was carried to the Myrtle Lumber company bankhouse. Dr. Leonard, Dr. Smok and Dr. Sether were called. Nodruft did not lose consciousness until late Wednesday night. He says the shooting was an accident and blames no one. He died at 2:30 a. m. He was 34 years of age and unmarried.

COLFAX WOULD PREVENT FLOODS FOR ALL TIME

Colfax, Wash.—A meeting was held Tuesday afternoon at the city council room at Colfax for the purpose of getting plans for the changing or remodeling of the channel of the Palouse river through Colfax. O. R. & N. officials, Spokane Inland Electric line officials, Colfax Commercial club committee and city officials met together, and many plans were discussed, though no special conclusion was reached.

The city council was asked to hire a disinterested engineer to obtain plans for the changing of the channel for best interests of the city to solve the flood problem for all time. Later the officials will be called to Colfax and definite plans formed. Waldo G. Payne, traffic manager of the Inland, stated it was the intention of the Inland to build through Colfax to Pullman, or to Snake river.

FAMOUS JERSEYS SOLD AT AUCTION

DR. MCCLURE SAYS IT WAS GREATEST SALE IN COUNTRY

Eighty Thoroughbred Jersey Cattle Sold at Average of $227—$1000 Paid for Bull—$805 for Single Cow—Most of Animals Will Remain in Oregon.

Dr. S. W. McClure, chief of the bureau of animal industry in the northwest, has just returned from Seapooze, Oregon, where he attended the big auction sale of the famous Harry West herd of Jerseys. Dr. McClure says it was the greatest sale of the kind ever held in the country and he believes it will result in the development of the dairy industry of the northwest in that several men secured the nucleus of good herds whereas the animals were all owned by one man before.

Eighty head of cattle, ranging in age from one day up, were sold and the prices ranged from $60 to $1000. The average price was $227. The best bull sold for $1000; the best cow for $805 and eleven head for more than $200 each. All those over one year of age brought an average price of $357, while a one-day-old calf brought the remarkable price of $60.

According to Dr. McClure, one of the best features of the sale was the fact that most of the animals will remain in Oregon. Of the entire number, only 18 go to California or Washington, the rest all remaining in this state.

The day before, the doctor attended a similar sale at Newberg, Oregon. Fifty head of Jerseys, belonging to Gordon, were sold at that sale for the average price of $164 per head.
