

YOUR BACKACHE WILL YIELD

To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Bloomdale, Ohio.—"I suffered from terrible headaches, pains in my back and right side, and was tired all the time and nervous. I could not sleep, and every month I could hardly stand the pain. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to health again and made me feel like a new woman. I hope this letter will induce other women to avail themselves of this valuable medicine."—Mrs. E. M. FREDERICK, Bloomdale, Ohio.

Backache is a symptom of female weakness or derangement. If you have backache don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Nothing we know of will do this so safely and surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Cure the cause of these distressing aches and pains and you will become well and strong.

The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has restored health to thousands of women.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

PENDLETON ATHLETES WIN COUNTY MEET

FIRST ANNUAL CONTEST PROVES A BIG SUCCESS

Local Boys Capture Handsome Cup by Taking More Than Half of Total Points—Athena Takes Second Honors—Hartwell Wins Oratorical Contest.

Score by Teams.

Pendleton	118 3/4
Athena	79 1/2
Milton	17
Columbia College	7
Vincent	3
Weston	1

Before hundreds of people from all over the county, the track athletes of the Pendleton high and grade schools captured the first annual interscholastic track meet of Umatilla county held Saturday at the newly made park in Athena. Over half of the total number of points were gathered in by the spike wearers from the county seat and when the last event was ended the score columns showed that Pendleton had a total of 118 3/4 while Athena was second with 79 1/2. The other points were divided between the contestants of Milton, Columbia college, Weston and Vincent.

Despite the disagreeableness of a combined dust and wind story, the day was a gala one for Athena, and the holiday spirit ran riot. From the time when the delegations from the other towns, several hundred strong, poured into the town until the farewell toot of the homegoing engines, the festal god was on the throne. Save the hotels and the refreshment parlors the business places of the town were deserted, for everyone had abandoned themselves to the pleasures of the day, and there was no welcome for aught else. The people of Athena, as hosts to one of the largest throngs ever in their town, had prepared everything to sustain their reputation for hospitality, and the keys were virtually turned over to the visitors.

The day's carnival of athletics began at 10 o'clock with a ball game between the teams of Columbia college junior and the Pendleton academy mixed team, which resulted in victory for the Milton lads by the score of 3 to 1. In this contest, one of the most spectacular features was the batting of Columbia's one-handed captain who clouted the ball once for a three bagger and always connected in a vicious manner.

The Track Meet. Promptly at 1 o'clock the first call was given for the mile run and shortly afterward the crack of the starter's gun announced to the great crowd that the first event of the big contest was on. It was a pretty race, despite the fact that Boylen and Haw, Pendleton's longwinded duo, were not hard pushed to annex the first two places. Boylen also breasted the tape foremost in the 880 and 440 which succession of performances marked him as the brightest star of the day.

One after another the events were pulled off in rapid order and the patience of the spectators was not tried by tiresome waits between the finishes and starts. Because of the heavy wind and the soft track no records were endangered at any time, but the majority of the contests were exciting and able to keep up the enthusiasm of the watchers. Among the contestants whose achievements made them notable as stars of the meet were Captain Boylen, Kimball, Fee, Gordon, Devine and Minnis for Pendleton, McEwen, Worthington, Grant, Smith and Githens of Athena and Yates of Columbia. Several surprises were sprung during the course of events, among them being Kimball's victory over Gordon in the 220-yard dash, the first time he has accomplished the feat since the two have been running mates; the phenomenal vaulting of Fennell, Pendleton's freshman athlete, and the broad jumping of McEwen of Athena. Undoubtedly one of the most thrilling races of the day was the Division B relay in which Athena nosed out a victory after a neck and neck race with Pendleton, during all of the four stages.

At the conclusion of the meet President A. C. Hampton of the association presented the point winners with their ribbons, and the athletic program of the day was ended. The meet had proved a great success and general satisfaction was left in its wake. The only disagreeable feature of the day was the ridiculous attempt of the Milton contingent to bar Pendleton's best men from the meet because they had the misfortune to be sure point winners. However, as the executive committee voted 6 to 1 to allow them to compete, it would seem that there was no widespread sentiment against the county seat stars.

Much credit is due to Principal H. G. Case of Athena high school, who conceived the idea of the meet and who was largely instrumental in bringing the plans to a successful culmination. To the members of the Athena Commercial club also is much praise due for their able assistance in promoting the affair and to the officers of the association for their active assistance in managing and conducting the meet. Athena has done much to cement the common interests of the county schools and it is safe to predict that the annual county track meet will be looked upon in the future as one of the big athletic events of the season.

Oratorical Contest.
Promptly at 7:30 in the evening President A. C. Hampton of the association, made the opening remarks at the rhetorical and oratorical contest between the different schools. Pendleton, Athena, Milton, Columbia college and Weston each had contestants who appeared on the program. At the close of the contest the judges' decision gave to Genevieve Levy of Milton the first prize in Division C, and to Vernita Watts of Athena the second prize. Miss Thomas of Columbia college was awarded first honors in Division B and Ruth Kilder of Athena second. Hazel Wyrick of the Pendleton representative in this division was so unfortunate as to lose her voice when almost through her selection, which misfortune prevented her from winning a place, according to the announcement of the judges. In Division A, James Hartwell of Pendleton high easily captured the best ribbon, while Miss Lottie Brandt of Weston took second honors. The judges of the contest were Rev. A. McKenzie Meldrum of Athena, S. A. Stone of Athena, and Merle R. Chessman of Pendleton.

At the close of the oratorical contest the handsome silver cup put up by the Athena Commercial club, was presented to Manager Tom Boylen as the representative of the winning team in the track meet.
At 10:30 the program of the day's events was ended and the first annual Umatilla athletic and oratorical meet had passed into history. At 11 o'clock the special Pendleton train pulled out of the station bearing the victors home in triumph.

NOTES OF FASHIONS BY CATHERINE PAYZANT.

New York.—The June bride looms prominently into the world of dress, just now and smart couturieres are putting other frocks aside for the nonce to prepare for the bride-to-be. This does not mean that they are making nothing but wedding gowns, but their efforts are necessarily along nuptial lines for there are afternoon and morning frocks, tailored costumes, negligees and all the other beautiful things that go to make up the truly smart bridal trousseau.

Much has been said hitherto regarding materials in this correspondence and emphasis added to the statement already made that satin of soft, shimmering quality leads the list is sufficient to dismiss the subject of fabrics. Volumes, however, may be written upon trimmings and modes, notwithstanding the fact that the ultra-smart wedding robe is as simple as possible.

Advance models for June brides offer several novelties. Society girls quite as smart as those who have preceded them at the marriage altar have been demanding something newer than the effects exploited in spring bridal robes and it has taxed the genius of the world's great dressmaking artists to supply the demand. A most delightful novelty, however, is to be found in the frock of satin or crepe veiled with tulle, of a clinging long line kind that imparts a mystic softness to the underfabric without making any pretensions to prominence itself.

Be it said to the credit of the designers that in very few instances are there complicated draperies to interfere with the ideal and traditional bride silhouette, which should be of slender, unbroken lines, relieved by the floating folds of the veil. The fussy wedding gown is never really truly chic.

That the materials should be as handsome as the bride can afford goes without saying, and a perfect cut is another absolute desideratum, but overelaboration and breaking of the simple, graceful lines at once rob the frock of distinction.
Princess lines or a simulation of them may be emphasized among the important details of general outlines. Girdles and belts, though are slowly but surely invading the province of the wedding gown. This is to be expected in a season when so much emphasis is placed upon the belt, girdle and separate waist and skirt. The idea of the skirt which runs up in bib fashion upon a bodice of sheer material whose sleeves and body are cut in one has been developed in some successful wedding frocks.

More fashionable, though is the surplice drapey of satin and lace combined, with a smart vest of tucked tulle or embroidery. Elegant lace is used as a border for satin in folds and used as a drapey, the lace being applied with as little fullness as possible. Surplice effects of many kinds are used, and one of the most successful of June wedding gowns has a surplice of satin cut in one with a tunic drapey which swathe the figure and continues over the skirt in soft, graceful folds, the tunic parting at the front to show petticoat of sheer silk muslin and lace, and having its edges finished with narrow lace.

The vest and long close-fitting sleeves are of lace and the surplice of folded satin is edged with lace wider than that used to finish the fronts of the tunic.
Another pretty design for a June wedding is in satin draped with white tulle, with a wide tulle in front and back and running from bust to hem, while each side of the front near the bottom the tulle is draped up just enough to produce a flowing movement with suggestive bouffancy. Little clusters of orange blossoms held the drapey, and the veil of tulle has an applied border of Alencon.

Some of the best Paris dressmakers are using rich embroidery about the hems of summer wedding gowns this year, or, again the embroidery forms a panel down the front. Pearls are often introduced into this embroidery and silver is not out of place on the bride's gown, though all white is generally preferred.

Several ultra-smart English brides have marched to the altar in wedding gowns of delicate pink this season, but the status of the vogue is yet to be decided. All sorts of arguments are being advanced in favor of the pink wedding gown, it being declared that it is more indicative of youth and beauty than is white which is

HIDDEN DANGERS.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Pendleton Citizen Can Afford to Disregard.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here is proof in the statement of a nearby resident.

Mrs. E. W. Clark, Egin, Ore., says: "I feel it my duty to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to mothers having children troubled with kidney weakness. My son, now seven years old, had weak kidneys from infancy. Last summer he had an unusually severe spell when he became devoid of ambition and energy and laid on the bed for a couple of weeks, suffering intensely. At last Doan's Kidney Pills were highly recommended to me and I procured a box for him. They seemed to be just the remedy his system required, correcting the too frequent passages of the kidney secretions and banishing the pains. He is now better in every way and we praise Doan's Kidney Pills at every opportunity."
