U. OF O. AND O. A. C. WILL NOT DUPLICATE

COURSES IN TWO COLLEGES ARE TO BE DIFFERENT

Complaint Made Against Duplication of Instruction Leads to Remedial Order by Board of Higher Curricula—Each Cuts Out Some Departments.

Hereafter, there is to be very little duplication of instruction in the Oregon Agricultural college and the University of Oregon. An order issued by the board of higher curricula, created by the last Oregon legislature, gives to each a distinct field, and removes cause of complaint by those who formerly objected that the same character of instruction was given at both institutions.

Courses in mechanical and mining engineering which have been given in both institutions are ordered by the board to be confined to the agricultural college. The courses in commerce are so well divided that practical commercial instruction as now given at Corvallis is continued there, while a higher course in the branch is given at Eugene, but so segregated that there is no duplication. The only cases in which the same subjects are taught at both is in electrical and civil engineering, and on account of the wide demand for them, together with the fact that both institutions are already equipped for giving instruction, the board ordered both subjects continued at each. A further specification in the order is that no additional courses shall be established at either institution without the consent of the board of higher curricula.

Result of Investigation. The order is the result of much investigation and a succession of hearings, the last of which was held in Portland April 28. The members of the board are Dr. J. R. Wilson of Portland academy, Representative Beals of Tillamook, Senator C. J. Smith of Pendleton, Senator J. E. Hedges of Oregon City, and Senator Coshov of Roseburg. The full order of the board is as follows:

"1. The department of mechanical engineering and mining engineering shall be confined to the state agricultural college.

"2. In view of the fact that strong departments in civil engineering and electrical engineering are now established in both the state agricultural college and the university, these departments shall continue to be a part of both institutions.

"3. The school of education, as such shall be confined to the University of Oregon, but this rule shall not be construed against the maintenance by the state agricultural college of a department of industrial pedagogy and the provision by this institution for such work in connection therewith or related thereto, as may be necessary in training persons to teach industrial subjects in the common and high schools, in accordance with the provisions of the Nelson amendment of 1907 to the Morrill act of 1890, and the interpretation thereof, and the instructions given in connection therewith by the United States department of the interior.

Departments Defined. "4. The department of economics and sociology as defined and described on pp. 91-93 of the Current Issue (1909-1910) of the catalogue of the University of Oregon, and the school of commerce as described on pp. 80-81 of the same issue of the catalogue of the University of Oregon, shall continue in the University of Oregon.

"5. The course in commerce in the state agricultural college as described and defined in the current issue of the catalogue of the state agricultural college (1909-1910) on pp. 99-91 and pp. 165-169, shall be continued in the state agricultural college.

"6. No new school, department, or course may be established in either the state agricultural college or the University of Oregon until the plan of such school, department or course shall have been submitted to this board and have received its approval." —Portland Journal.

THE KAISER WOULD ROB STUDENTS OF THEIR BEER

Berlin.—The Kaiser has given another proof of his imperial freedom of spirit by condemning the beer drinking habits of German students. Among young men at the universities of this country excessive drinking of beer is not regarded merely as a pardonable indulgence, but as a positive virtue. Many of the students' clubs or "corps" as they are called, exist for no other purpose than to encourage the consumption of malt liquor. In most cases they impose on their members the obligation to attend during the term a certain number of "beer evenings" at which for hour after hour mugs are emptied in eager rivalry.

For some years past there has been a strong reaction among the more thoughtful students themselves against this custom. Which is undoubtedly to some degree responsible for the unseemly compulsion of so many young men in this country, to say nothing of more serious consequences.

During his visit to Alsace the emperor took occasion to address an earnest protest against this drinking practice, which he described as a great disadvantage for the German nation as well as for the individual student. Both, he said, fell in consequence behind foreigners and particularly the English and Americans. The emperor added that residence in the tropics, on which the Germans, with their increasing world trade, were becoming more and more dependent, was exceedingly dangerous for men who had habituated themselves to overindulgence in beer drinking.

REPORT THAT JAPANESE ARE PREPARING FOR WAR

Berlin.—Disquieting news reaches Berlin from the far east. According to the reports which are current in high circles, the situation in Japan is very similar to that which existed just previous to the outbreak of the Russian-Japanese war.

At all the Japanese dockyards the men are working the full 24 hours on the ships under construction and the same thing is true of the arsenals and establishments for the manufacture of war material.

At both army and navy headquarters the general staffs are working under full pressure. Of course this may all mean nothing but it is recalled that for months before she entered upon her great struggle with Russia she adopted the same tactics. It is believed in diplomatic circles that directly Japan considers her financial position is sufficiently strong to warrant her adopting a belligerent attitude, trouble is in store for one of the other powers. And by general consent that power is the United States.

It is believed here also that some idea of this sort is felt at Washington and that the recently announced intention of President Taft to send the American battleship fleet on another voyage around the world is due to Japanese activity.

The Kaiser has said in case there should be trouble between Japan and the United States, Germany's moral support would certainly be given to America, and if needed more than moral support would be forthcoming. The Kaiser regards Japan as a dangerous enemy to the western civilization and has more than once expressed himself strongly along this line.

NORWAY IS IN FIGHT AGAINST WHITE SLAVERY

Copenhagen, Denmark.—Norway is taking a very deep interest in the crusade against the white slave traffic. King Haakon at the suggestion of the queen has made a study of the situation, as it affects Norway, and at his suggestion the minister of religion has issued a circular to the clergy requesting "that young girls preparing for their first communion should be also instructed respecting the dangers of taking situations in foreign countries without previous inquiry."

Not only this, but at the king's request the Scandinavian-American line has decided to place upon its vessels a reliable woman whose duty it will be to look after all young girls and women traveling in the ship. This is a most excellent innovation and one which can not fail to be productive of the happiest results. The dangers of the young immigrant girls are so many while at sea.

YACHT VALIANT IS SOLD.

W. K. Vanderbilt Disposes of His Famous Craft for $150,000.

London.—The sale of W. K. Vanderbilt's yacht Valiant for $150,000 removes from the sphere of Vanderbilt influence the craft which Freddy Beach once said should be called the "Scandal Seagoer."

It is recalled that the Valiant was the scene of the negotiations between the Duke of Marlborough and Mrs. Vanderbilt when the unfortunate marriage between her daughter and the duke was arranged.

Afterward it was the scene of the first meeting of the couple. Later it was on the same yacht that W. K. Vanderbilt had a furious quarrel with his wife over O. H. P. Belmont and the resultant divorce.

MOTOR BOATS ON KILLARNEY.

Lakes of Poem and Song Will Hear Staccato "Clug."

Dublin, Ireland.—At last the Killarney lakes are to be set free from the thrudom and peril of the old rowing boat, which was the cause of so many disasters and loss of life when battling with the waves in the sudden storms for which the place is notorious.

The first steam and motor vessels will be placed on the lakes for the coming season.

Laurelhurst

The Addition With Character

There is an individuality about Laurelhurst which appeals especially to the man who is looking for a home-site where he may feel certain that his family will be subjected to an environment of refinement, culture and beauty.

Aside from the fact that the tract is being most highly improved by the city and that the property is restricted to only the very highest type of dwellings, Laurelhurst appeals to the conservative investor because of its proximity to the heart of the business and shopping district and its accessibility, being served by three different carlines.

At Original Prices Lots From $900 Up

Laurelhurst offers rare opportunity for ideal investment. It is absolutely safe because it lies in the heart of the best residence district of the East Side, a district where values are assured and have been assured for years, a district in which there has always been a demand for home-sites, a district where values will advance from 50 per cent to 100 per cent within a year. This is why Laurelhurst is selling so rapidly. It explains the enormous sales which have been made during the past few months.

Laurelhurst offers ideal investment because all lots in the south half, which is that portion lying south of East Glisan street, are still being offered at the original prices. It is in this half in which Ladd Park is located.

THIS property will soon be sold out. BETTER get some of it—never again will such an OPPORTUNITY present itself.
