IMPATIENCE.

Our life is spent in little things; In little cares our hearts are drowned; We move, with heavy-laden wings, In the same narrow round.

WHY NOT?

Commenting on the situation in the senate at this time the Oregonian said: "President Taft and his supporters in legislation have turned from insurgents to democrats for support for the administration railroad bill.

SUCH CHICANERY.

The "Orchard" county divisionists are seeking to show that county division will lower taxes. They assert that the last year Hood River was in Wasco county the tax levy was 15 mills whereas during the first year of Hood River county the levy was 7.5 mills.

But why don't they tell the whole truth? Why don't they say that regardless of the change in the levy property owners at Hood River paid more taxes than they did when they were in Wasco county.

THEY HAVE A REMEDY.

If reports are to be relied upon some of the "Orchard" county boosters do not like the idea of "Hudson" county. They say the move is unjust. Piffle. Why did not the "Orchard" county schemers give some thought to justice when they drew their boundary lines.

Pendleton had a substantial delegation at the Caledonian picnic yesterday. Next week the people of this city should attend the pioneers reunion at Weston. Then the Strawberry festival at Milton. Providing of course that the county divisionists would not object.

It is amusing to listen to the manner in which the astronomers are accounting for the fact that the earth did not pass through the tail of the comet.

BE THERE TONIGHT.

At the court house this evening a good roads meeting will be held and two notable advocates of improved highways will make addresses. It will be a meeting of importance and it should be generally attended by farmers and by business men.

In the minds of most people the conclusions in the Ballinger investigation were reached before the investigation started.

WISE WORDS.

The truth is always the strongest argument.—Sophocles. Write me as one who loves his fellow men.—Leigh Hunt. Man thou pendulum! betwixt a smile and tear!—Byron. Why do we stay on earth unless to grow?—Robert Browning. Men must work and women must weep.—Charles Kingsley. Careworn man has, in all ages, sown vanity to reap despair.—Goethe. When spring unlocks the flowers to paint the longing soil.—Reginald Heber. One thorn of experience is worth a whole wilderness of warning.—Lowell. Most men spend too much of their lives in making others miserable.—La Bruyere. Learning is ever in the freshness of its youth, even for the old.—Aeschylus. The best way to have a good memory is to train it and trust it.—Christian Register. Whatever makes men good Christians, makes them good citizens.—Daniel Webster. Happy is the man that findeth wisdom and the man that getteth understanding.—Bible. Our own anger does us more harm than the thing which makes us angry.—Sir John Lubbock. NOTES OF FASHION.

Lingerie gowns, gullless of a collar are frequently worn with a narrow velvet band at the throat, on which may be a diamond or other jeweled ornament. A detachable frill and detachable turnover collar are additions to a smart white linen shirtwaist or medium weight, which has the front covered with quarter inch tucks. There is a late fancy among some Parisian costumers for making the belts of the more elaborate gowns of a color in contrast to the whole color scheme of the garment. Practical little striped gingham frocks for tiny folks of two to four years are in Russian style or with a long French waist and full skirted skirts in bright or dark colors. Ruffles of plaited net, batiste, plain or lace edge, and attached to a heading of insertion, may be bought by the yard and made into side frills for the shirtwaist or coat suit. The jewel framework is a feature of the newest model in bags, and the decoration ranges from a simple stone set in the center to a framework interlaced with jewels throughout its entire length. Russian effects are shown and worn in endless variety. One of the newest developments of the peasant idea is the dress fashioned on lines identical with the coat suit and hardly to be distinguished from it.

"You have a pretty tough-looking lot of customers to dispose of this morning, haven't you?" remarked the friend of the magistrate, who had dropped in at the police court. "Huh," rejoined the dispenser of justice, "you are looking at the wrong bunch. These are the lawyers."

MARY.

Don't you tell me I'll be tiring of admiring. That I ever shall grow weary of my deary. Should you ask me if I'd ever Wish a single bond to sever. I would hardly deign to answer to your query. I'm aware that men are vicious and capricious. That their notions and their inclinations vary. But I'm sure they would be steady. If they happened to be wedded To a woman half as wonderful as Mary. I have heard of fellows picking flaws and kicking. But I'd never be a scrappy sort of chappy. You would never find me snarling. At the cooking of my darling. While she loved me, I'd be satisfied and happy. Among men's most common dodges are their lodges. When their wives of evening liberties are chary. Anything that might detain me Would immeasurably pain me. I'd be anxious to be getting home to Mary. —Kenneth Harris.

NOW HE THINKS IT'S WRONG.

Two old cronies went into a drug store in the downtown part of New York City, and, addressing the proprietor by his first name, one of them said: "Dr. Charley, we have made a bet of the ice cream sodas. We will have them now, and when the bet is decided the loser will drop in and pay for them." As the two old fellows were departing after enjoying their temperance beverage, the druggist asked them what the wager was. "Well," said one of them, "our friend George bets that when the tower of the Singer building falls, it will topple over toward the North River, and I bet that it won't." Everybody's Magazine.

Romulus and Remus.

Simeon Ford, at the recent hotel men's banquet, told more than his usual quantity of timely stories. Apropos of foreign travel Mr. Ford said: "The harsh raw winds of March will soon be on us, and happy will they be who are on the Riviera, in Egypt or in Rome. "I met a man at the hotel the other day who had just returned from Rome. "Well," I said to him, "how did you like the old town?" "A very artistic city, that's what Rome is," he replied.

AN AKRON MAN.

MR. WILLIAM F. STEESE. Mr. William F. Steese, 701 Coburn St., Akron, Ohio, writes:

"I have been troubled for several years with catarrh of the stomach. Have used different patent medicines to no effect whatever, and have doctored considerable with family doctor. "Sometimes his treatment would relieve me for a few weeks, but would eventually have to go back to him, and that had kept up for several years. "I was advised to use Peruna, and have taken three bottles. Never felt so good in my life. Am going to continue using it. Wouldn't be without it in the house. I will gladly recommend it to any one afflicted with catarrh of stomach, or stomach trouble of any kind." The above is an oft-repeated story. Troubled for years with chronic catarrh. Tried different remedies and doctors to no avail. Peruna was advised by friends. Instant relief experienced. Great gratitude to Peruna expressed. This, in brief, is a story that is repeated to us a great many times every year. No one could be in touch with our vast correspondence for one month without being impressed with the sincerity and truthfulness of these kind of testimonials. Peruna promptly produces an appetite, corrects digestion and relieves stomach difficulties that have resisted other treatment. Man-a-lin an ideal Laxative.
