

Electric Weld Fencing

For Hogs, Sheep, Poultry, Rabbits, Gardens, Etc.

VERY IMPORTANT TO YOU

In the fences we sell, the price buys heavier wires than used in other makes. This means a stronger fence longer life and better satisfaction.

Our fencing is the only "Electric Welded" Fencing made. The stay wires are the same size as the lateral wires—a fence is like a chain—no stronger than its weakest link. In our fencing there are no weak links.

No Wraps---No Clamps---No Ties---No waste wire---No point of weakness.

One Solid Piece of Steel Through out.

Spanish Stew.

Melt half a cup of beef suet in a good sized kettle, and when hot drop in six medium size onions, sliced; stir these while cooking to prevent burning and when tender drop in six medium size tomatoes, sliced, and from which the skins have been removed. This furnishes more liquid for the stew, to which no water must be added, and makes it less apt to burn, but occasional stirring is necessary. While the tomatoes are cooking add three bell peppers, sliced thin, leaving out the cores. Add salt liberally and from a quarter to half a teaspoonful of cayenne pepper, according to taste. Lastly, add a pound of well cooked beef cut into small pieces. The beef should be lean and tender, and need not be prepared especially for the stew, but can be left over from a pot roast of the day before or from an oven roast if it be boiled until tender before adding to the stew. This recipe has been tried many times and has proved most successful and makes a pleasant change from the ordinary bill of fare. The stew should be served hot on hot plates. With bread and butter it furnishes a meal in itself.

Raisin Buns.

To one pint of raised bread dough add one cupful of granulated sugar, one-half cupful of soft butter, one beaten egg, one-half cupful of milk and one-half level teaspoonful of soda. When well mixed add enough sifted bread flour to make of the consistency of bread dough and so that it can be kneaded well. Cover and let rise in a warm place until light. Then work in three-quarters of a cupful of currants and a half teaspoonful of lemon flavoring. Make small buns not larger than an egg and set closely in a buttered pan. Let rise light and bake. Brush the tops with sugar and water when taken from the oven.

Creamed Tenderloin on Toast.

If properly cooked will taste much like creamed chicken. Cut across in thin pieces one pork tenderloin, cover with boiling water, and simmer until tender. Have ready cream sauce made as follows: To one teaspoonful of flour stirred in one teaspoonful of melted butter add one cup of milk and let come to a boil. Have two tablespoons of broth left on meat when cooked. Add to sauce, pour over meat and serve hot on toast. Pork tenderloin is not such a great luxury as many suppose it to be. While costing from 28 to 30 cents a pound, one pound is not needed for four people, as it is solid meat and no waste whatever.

Stationery.

Fashionable correspondence paper is of different textures and shades. There is the kid finished paper in oak grained effect, which comes in sheets and envelopes of two sizes and is exceptionally smart; The cross barred weave with a white or colored border resembling the finishing of a hemstitched handkerchief; what is known as French dimity, white, gray, blue and buff plain linen; a thin, fine quality of lawn, which appears in maize, mauve and dawn pink, and linen and glace fabrics which have envelopes daintily embossed in embroidery patterns.

Herringbone weaves, showing corduroy and pique effects, are steadily gaining ground, as they come in all the fashionable shades and in the three customary sizes. Satin, boned finished and linen fabric stationery of note, letter and commercial size may be conveniently purchased in the form of a writing tablet which is provided with an envelope drawer.

Among stationery novelties are small sheets of cross barred weave engraved with the first name of the writer and intended only for correspondence with intimate friends; featherweight sheets, accompanied by gray lined tissue envelopes, for foreign correspondence, and "hasty note" paper, with perforated gummed edges, which provides an envelope when properly folded.

For the Home Seamstress.

A walking skirt should be cut two inches off the ground all around; but for a short woman, one inch will make her appear taller, while a tall woman may increase the escape to three inches, and for the slim, angular woman, this will be more becoming. Only substantial materials should be used for walking skirts. When waist and skirt are made of the same material, the effect will be more graceful if the skirt just clears the ground comfortably, for the short woman, but for a tall figure, two inches will be more effectual.

A round length means all the way around, resting a couple of inches on the floor; the sweep length is made short enough in front for ease of walking, gradually becoming longer on the sides, so that the back length, or sweep, is not less than three inches, though seven inches is the maximum for the sweep skirt. Of course, these are for dressy occasions. Dinner gowns are made with trains of varying length; several inches is the shortest, while twenty-four is the usual length.

FORTUNE TELLING PAYS

Paris Astrologer Reported to Have Large Clientele.

Paris.—Fortune telling is still, owing to the gullibility of mankind, an extremely lucrative calling. A curious case which has arisen in Paris suggests the query, does the fortune teller guarantee the fulfillment of all his predictions or at least of those which are favorable. An astrologer who had customers by the score until quite lately gave general satisfaction. Some of his customers were, however, disappointed. The pleasant things foretold were not realized with the result that these discontented people lodged a formal complaint with a magistrate.

A police officer was appointed to inquire into the case, and the first discovery which he made was that the fortune teller had a fast "practice." He had as many as 15,000 customers in all ranks of society. When applied to he would readily, and without exacting a fee, cast the horoscope of the applicant. If more was wanted the price was $10 for a complete "fortune," $5 for one less complete, $3.50 for a period of 15 years, $2.50 for a period of 10 years, for five years $1.25, etc.

Those who encouraged the alleged astrologer actually proposed a sort of association of his followers, to be called the "Universal Fraternal and Fortunist Union," with the object of buying him a house, to be built somewhere in the country, preferably on a high spot, and with a fine garden round it. Much of the money, it seems, had already been subscribed, when this complaint came along to interfere with the scheme. Notwithstanding the charges that the "merchandise" was not of the nature and quality represented, it is expected that the advertisement given by the police inquiry to the supposed astrologer will really increase his trade.

ROUTING THE WHITE PLAGUE.

The state of Iowa has hired a preacher for the past four years to do nothing but travel around and tell the people to stay at home, work little, eat plenty of raw eggs and not worry. It has organized the most extensive "Cheer Up" system ever perfected. It urges every citizen to wear the smile "that won't come off" and to take no heed of a possible tomorrow or suffering, misery and death.

Now and then this preacher takes a flying trip to other parts of the country. Colorado, New Mexico, Texas and similarly famous health resorts. Every time he returns more firmly convinced of the merit of the work he is carrying on and more eloquent in his exhortations to do little, breathe plenty of fresh air and eat plenty of wholesome food. Last summer he visited Colorado Springs and El Paso and came face to face with the hectic-checked exiles from home, who wearily asked him for the last word of loved ones and dolorously coughed their way down the street, shunned by all the native-born.

"Don't, don't let them continue to come out here for treatment and to die of homesickness," urged town after town. "It's the separation from home and loved ones that is killing them, rather than the consumption. It's the breaking up of established habits, the tearing of life out by the very roots that is making the cheek redder and the cough more racking. Three-fifths of those who come here as 'lungers' go back home as corpses. While they keep soul and body together their life is miserable. We can't take them into our homes, they are 'unclean.' They are strangers in a strange land, exiles if there ever were any. They live apart until finally the homesickness and the change do the work and the fight is over. If you have any of the milk of human kindness left in your body keep your white plague victims at home where they can either be cured or can die in comfort. We don't want them and can do nothing for them."—From "To Get Well at Home," in June Technical World Magazine.

Commander Julius A. Pratt, Post No. 143 Dept. Ill., G. A. R.

Mr. Isaac Cook, commander of above Post, Kewanee, Ill., writes: "For a long time I was bothered with backache and pains across my kidneys. About two months ago I started taking Foley Kidney Pills and soon saw they were doing just as claimed. I kept on taking them and now I am free from backache, and the painful bladder misery is all gone. I like Foley Kidney Pills so well that I have told many of my friends and comrades about them and shall recommend them at every opportunity. Koeppe Bros."

BAKER CLAN RULES IN COLFAX REBEKAH LODGE

Spokane, Wash.—Verona Lodge No. 13, Daughters of Rebekah, at Colfax, Wash., south of Spokane, will be governed by members of three families of the name of Baker. The officers-elect are: Noble grand, Mrs. Manley Baker; vice grand, Miss Rea Baker; secretary, Miss Hazel Baker; treasurer, Miss Julia Baker. The Misses Rea and Hazel Baker are sisters, but the others are not related. Following the installation, at which the ceremonies will be performed by officials bearing the name of Baker, the members of the lodge, which has 180 names on its list, will be entertained at a baked bean banquet by the Bakers. Members of the order in Spokane and other points in eastern Washington and northern Idaho will attend the installation services, and it is expected there will also be several representatives of the grand lodge of the state of Washington. Officials of the order in this city say there is not another subordinate lodge in the country where all the officers bear the same name.

The High Cost of Living.

Increases the price of many necessities without improving the quality. Foley's Honey and Tar maintains its high standard of excellence and its great curative qualities without any increase in cost. $3,000,000 TO DEVELOP RICH APPLE LAND

Spokane, Wash.—Arrangements have been completed by a syndicate of London, eastern and western capitalists to expend $3,000,000 in the purchase and development of 8000 acres of orchard lands on the Council mesa in Payette valley, Idaho. Eighty thousand apple trees are now growing on 1000 acres and 400,000 saplings will be set out next fall and during the spring of 1911. The chief varieties are Rome Beauty, Jonathan, Winesap and Newtown Pippin. Interested in the project are E. M. Hunter, representing Chicago and Des Moines bankers and railroad officials; S. F. Champien, representing London, Chicago and San Francisco interests; Colonel E. M. Heighe, president of the Pacific & Idaho railway company and engineers and horticulturists of Idaho. It is announced that the orchard, which will be the largest single holding in the northwest, is to be operated as a commercial proposition, the owners dealing directly with merchants in eastern and western ports, also developing a market in London and the continent.

What Everybody Wants.

Everybody desires good health which is impossible unless the kidneys are sound and healthy. Foley's Kidney Remedy should be taken at the first indication of any irregularity, and a serious illness may be averted. Foley's Kidney Remedy will restore your kidneys and bladder to their normal state and activity. Koeppe Bros.
