RAILROAD WORK GOES MERRILY ON

REBUILDING OF LINE IS WELL UNDER WAY

Four Steam Shovels and Between 200 and 300 Men Rapidly Push Work Steel Bridge at Coe to Be Moved 300 Feet.

With four steam shovels at work and 200 or 300 men employed the task of rebuilding the line of the O. R. & N. between this city and Yorkum is now well under way. Twenty Brothers have four camps established and two or three more will be established in a few days.

The first camp is located at the Pilot Rock junction. The big shovel, at that point, has practically completed the work of making the new channel for the Umatilla river for a distance of a quarter of a mile. The embankment for the track and the one for the bank of the river and to protect the new road is also practically completed.

The second steam shovel is at work just below Barnhart, where another big cut and fill is being made.

Two other steam shovels are at work at Coe where the big horse-shoe bend is to be tunneled. One is working at each end of the proposed tunnel, while at the west end work has been started on the real tunnel proper.

The steel bridge at Coe is also to be moved 300 feet west and the concrete piers for the new location are nearly completed. The machinery is also on hand for moving the bridge.

To add to the activities at Coe the Eschbach-Bruce company has established its camp and begun operations on the big Furnish-Coe dam. The plant is being put in shape and with the arrival of the train load of dump cars now standing in the yards at Pendleton, the plant will be nearly fully equipped.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Cal Clemens at their home in Burns, on Tuesday, May 31, 1910, a daughter. All concerned are doing well and the families are delighted, as it is the first girl in either family except the happy young mother. Mrs. Clemens was formerly Miss Lotta McLeod of Pendleton.

Lame shoulder is almost invariably caused by rheumatism of the muscles and yields quickly to the free application of Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment is not only prompt and effectual, but in no way disagreeable to use. Sold by all dealers.

ORCHESTRA IN NEW UNIFORMS PLEASURES

BEST CONCERT OF SEASON LAST NIGHT

Pavilion Crowded by Great Number of People to Hear Weekly Concert—Romping Children Only Annoying Feature.

With the orchestra in full uniform and with the largest crowd in attendance that has yet listened to any of the public concerts, the one given last night at the fair pavilion by the United Orchestra, was the most successful of the series. Attired in their summer uniforms of white duck the members made a pleasing appearance.

The music last evening was also probably the best yet offered. Every number was so well rendered that the large audience demanded encores to many of them and nearly everyone remained until the close of the program. This was made possible by the favorable weather which was the most pleasant yet afforded.

The only annoying feature of the evening was the romping children. It is announced that this will not be permitted to continue longer. If parents cannot keep their offspring quiet or at home, an officer will be present to take the place of the parents.

The full instrumentation of the orchestra is as follows:

- Frank Carruth, director and leader, first violin.
 - William Goedecke, first violin.
 - E. Busby, second violin.
 - M. Kirby, second violin.
 - Lora Perry, viola.
 - Sadie Young, cello.
 - J. C. McConnell, bass viol.
 - Mrs. William Humphrey, piano.
 - E. E. Bear, flute and piccolo.
 - V. Bartlett, first clarinet.
 - Court Razor, second clarinet.
 - Ralph Folsom, first cornet.
 - L. Anderson, second cornet.
 - Joe H. Parkes, first horn.
 - Ross Carney, second horn.
 - Frank Hayes, trombone.
 - Clyde Cheshire, trombone.
 - R. W. Fletcher, traps.
- An organ is to be added to the instrumentation.

JEWELERS SHOW NEW GEM.

New York—A new gem, the pink Madagascar beryl, has just reached this city, and Maiden Lane jewelers are singing the praises of the first importation received in the United States.

The new beryl is different in color and in lustre from any of the other semi-precious stones.

The hue is a delicate pink and the transparent appearance and its hardness give it a peculiar sparkling beauty.

The Madagascar green beryl also is on view in New York city, several small consignments having been received. American beryls are lacking in quality.

Elks Attention.

Pendleton lodge No. 288, B. P. O. Elks will meet this evening in regular session, initiation. All members requested to be present.

THOS. FITZGERALD, Sec.

Somebody has been somehow inspired to convey to an anxious and waiting public the important information that Margaret Hington Bowes is still living with her husband, and professes to be quite happy. This is strange news, if true. But what the public especially hungers and thirsts to know is whether she has really darned any socks.

There is no end of growing in the Christian life, but its beginning is in the simplicity of the most natural relations to God and to men. The busiest have time enough for it. The most uncultured know enough for it and the wisest can only then be truly wise when they have returned to that simplicity.—Henry Wilder Foote.

Newsy Notes of Pendleton

Official Weather Report. Minimum temperature, 40. Maximum temperature, 88.

Goes to Meet Sister. A. O. Carden, well known makeup man of the Live Wire, left on the noon train for Portland in response to a message from a sister whom he has not seen for fifteen years.

Fire at Pasco. A. R. Steel, express messenger for the Northern Pacific Express company reports a fire at Pasco last evening. A resort known as the Thistle was completely gutted, the loss amounting to several hundred dollars.

Service for Odd Fellows. Pendleton Odd Fellows will join in a memorial service at the Methodist church Sunday evening. The sermon will be preached by the pastor, Rev. Nathan Evans and all local and visiting Odd Fellows together with their friends are invited to attend. The members of the lodge will meet at the hall and march to the church.

Arguing Island Case. The injunction suit of J. B. Switzer against F. E. Earnhart is being argued in the circuit court today. This is another round in the legal battle for Beaver Island which is claimed by Switzer and which was jumped several months ago by Earnhart. The present suit is to determine the ownership of the first crop of alfalfa.

Deserting Soldier Arrested. George Hoffman, a deserter from Troop G of the first cavalry was arrested at Adams this morning by Night Officer John Kearney of this city. The man had been arrested in Walla Walla, May 30, but had made his escape from the Walla Walla officers at 10 o'clock. This morning at 4 o'clock Officer Kearney heard the man was at Adams and securing a rig drove up and made the arrest. He is now lodged in the city jail.

Crop Outlook Good. A. C. Henderson, well known pioneer resident of the Pilot Rock country has been in the city today accompanied by Mrs. Henderson. He says that the alfalfa harvest is now proceeding very satisfactorily in the Pilot Rock district and good crops are being garnered. The outlook for the grain crop is also good, though he says a rain would be welcome. The barley is now turning, but the wheat is not yet fully headed out.

Moorhouse Returns Home. Major Lee Moorhouse who was in charge of the Pendleton Woolen mill exhibit at the rose show returned home yesterday. Much of the exhibit was made up from his personal collection and it received the favorable attention of the passing thousands.

Attorney Will M. Peterson and family have returned from a visit to the rose show in Portland.

G. W. Proebstel, former representative from this county and one of the prominent residents of Weston, is a Pendleton business visitor today.

Old Indian Case Hearing. An old Indian case, that of Pe-pe-wa-lo-som-mi against Al-on-ta-mopnet and the United States was to have come up for a hearing before United States Commissioner Johnston this afternoon.

Owing to the inability of the attorneys interested to get a interpreter that was suitable to all concerned it was necessary to postpone the case until Monday. This is the case in which property once held by Fish-Hawk the Indian made famous by the Major Lee Moorhouse picture is in the controversy. The land was allotted to Fish-Hawk's son by one of his numerous wives who is now the wife of Captain Sumpkins. The case provides another Indian heirship tangle which is almost past solving.

Green is one of the best known sporting men in the northwest having had a string of horses on the California and Oregon tracks for a number of years. It was he, also, who recently took Aviator Hamilton to Spokane. McNully was formerly champion of the Montana prize ring. They are making the trip from Spokane to San Francisco in Green's big Pierce-Arrow touring car. From Pendleton they went to Heppner and from there to The Dalles, where they will take the steamer to Portland.

Council Meeting Was Brief. In the absence of Mayor Murphy, Chairman Stroble called last night's meeting of the city council to order. The most important business transacted was the authorization of the sewer committee to employ an engineer and make a survey of the proposed sewer extension in the west end of town. A communication from the commercial association commending the council for the steps taken toward improving the roads leading into the city was read and placed on file. The street committee was directed to establish a standpipe in the east end of the city. J. M. Porter was employed to water the cemetery shade trees during the summer, some bills were ordered paid and the council adjourned.

Vocal Instructor Wanted. Lester Cronin, local secretary of the board of civil service examiners, announces that he will conduct an examination at the local postoffice, June 29, to secure eligibles from which to make certification to fill a vacancy in the position of teacher of vocal music in the Haskell institute in Kansas. The salary is $600 per annum and quarters. On the two preceding days examinations will be conducted for the position of assistant chemist in the bureau of chemistry in the department of agriculture.

Will See Big Fight. Harry Green and wife and Miles McNully passed through Pendleton this morning on their way to the Jim Jeffries training camp in California.
