Circuit Judge H. J. Bean left for Heppner on the morning local. District Attorney G. W. Phelps came down from Meacham and went on through on the same train. They will hold a short session of the circuit court for Morrow county, returning to Pendleton Thursday.

Engine "Goes Dead."

When within the city limits the engine drawing the Walla Walla local suddenly "went dead" this morning and the local switch engine was compelled to draw the train and its "dead" engine into the station. The blowing out of an escape valve plug was responsible for the helpless condition of the locomotive.

Dr. Coe's Son Injured.

According to telegraphic information received at Stanfield, Saturday evening, Earl Coe, the 13-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Coe was seriously injured at their home in Portland, that day. It seems that he had fallen from a cherry tree onto the concrete sidewalk, sustaining a fracture of the skull. Mayor George Coe of Stanfield had been summoned to the bedside of his younger brother.

Talked of Mission.

Rev. J. M. Cornelson was at La Grande yesterday and conducted religious services both in the morning and the evening. He gave an address upon the work being done at the Tutuilla mission. During the service his little daughter Mary rendered a vocal selection in chinook. A number of La Grande people are going to attend the meetings to be held at the mission on the Fourth of July.

"Show Your Tickets."

This order coming from a brakeman stationed at the only entrance to the Portland local train, caused consternation at the depot this morning. People who had expected to board the train without tickets were sent back to the window to make the purchase, while others with arms full of luggage were compelled to set down their bundles and produce their tickets before being allowed to enter the car. The purpose of the new order is to compel all passengers to purchase tickets before getting on the train and it will be enforced on all trains hereafter.

Holds Liveryman Responsible.

J. S. Carter, proprietor of a Cottonwood street livery barn is held responsible for the loss of the services of a stallion belonging to A. D. Rhonimus, in a complaint filed by Rhonimus, acting as his own attorney, Saturday. The complaint was written by Rhonimus himself and from a legal viewpoint it is not exactly a work of art. It will be remembered that the stallion was permanently rendered unfit for service by some inhuman miscreant while it was being stabled in the Carter barn a few weeks ago. Rhonimus evidently means to allege that the owner of the stable permitted the deed to be done if he did not actually participate in it, but he does not make his allegations specific.

CURE FOR LOSS OF MEMORY.

"Nothing disconcerts me more," said a woman who goes abroad every summer, "than to meet in Europe Americans who seem to be ashamed of their own language. I have often come across them, but a woman I met in Carlsbad last summer took the palm.

"She was introduced to me as the Countess Komoffsky, or some name that sounded like that. She married a Russian or a Pole about three years before, and so far as I can gather she had hardly been any nearer Europe than a New York table d'hote before that time. She looked American, but her English was all broken into bits. She did not even say 'the,' but pronounced it 'ze.' She had great difficulty in recollecting phrases and the result at times was a lot of French. "Next morning I was breakfasting in the Kaiserpack with a party of shawl-wrapped Americans who had drunk the requisite number of glasses from the Sprudel or the Markbrunn and had walked out according to prescription. One of those at the

Glad to Recommend Them. Mr. E. Weakley, Kokomo, Ind., is glad to recommend Foley Kidney Pills. After taking them as directed he says: "The severe backache left me, my kidneys became stronger, the secretions natural in color and my bladder no longer pained me. I am now over my trouble and glad to recommend Foley Kidney Pills." A. C. Koeppe & Bros.

What a Summer Cold May Do. A summer cold if neglected is just as apt to develop into bronchitis or pneumonia as at any other season. Do not neglect it. Take Foley's Honey and Tar promptly. It loosens the cough, soothes and heals the inflamed air passages, and expels the cold from the system. Remember the name Foley's Honey and Tar, and refuse substitutes. The genuine is in a yellow package and contains no opiates and no harmful drugs. A. C. Koeppe & Bros.

table was a New York physician who is none the less popular because he is frank in speech almost to brutality and will not stand for affectation. The countess came along and was invited to join the party. The doctor, it turned out, had known her since she was a child.

"Somebody asked her a question, and she started to reply with that accent of hers. I saw the doctor flinch. Then she made another remark in half French. The doctor said something that sounded like 'Damn!' Then he blurted out:

"For God's sake, Maria Smith, you don't mean to say that three years in Europe have made you forget your native tongue?"

"There was a hush, and then some of the women in the party smiled; but when the countess next spoke it was in purest United States!"—New York Sun.

POLITICS GROW WORSE WITH GREAT BRITAIN

London—The political compromise indulged in after King Edward's funeral has melted into thin air. Garven of the Observer, having done his utmost to induce the two parties to bury the hatchet, will now be free to carry out the second section of his program and fight the devil with a clean heart for the Tory side. Lord Morley's verdict, pronounced three weeks ago, that there would be no common ground for a compromise, has been justified by events. It was not even possible to get together an official meeting of party representatives. So it is understood after the necessary business of supplies for the budget, the new civil list and amendment of the royal declaration have been put through parliament it will be until November, when a battle royal will ensue culminating in a deadlock between the two houses, and then an election in January.

Mr. Roosevelt's city speech is being utilized by the Tories as campaign literature, providing that in the opinion of the American ex-president the liberals have made such a mess of things in Egypt that every patriot should vote for the unionists' candidate. The liberals, however, are not disheartened; neither are they disposed to abandon all attempts to secure the consent of the governed in Egypt or in Ireland and fall back on the big stick which is only a euphemism for the club of the savage.
