moving picture rights each man should be able to retire and live in comfort the rest of his days. Now the question is will the public be satisfied. Will this be the last great fight or will the fighting game go on. Very likely it will go on for a time at least for the fans will not be satisfied until the black champion has taken the count. After that there is liable to be little said about the "fighting game."

A GREAT POSITION.

Chief Justice Fuller is dead and President Taft faces the responsibility of selecting his successor. It is one of the most important tasks the president has had to perform. This because law is not an exact science. It is something that must be interpreted. In fact almost everything hangs upon the interpretation. Consequently it is a matter of vital importance who shall be the chief justice of the United States.

BE OUT TONIGHT.

At the Commercial club meeting this evening the report of the committee on county division will be made and it will be up to those present to act upon the report submitted. It will be one of the most important sessions the club has held in many months. Accordingly it is up to every member and every business man, property owner and professional man to be represented.

BE THERE TONIGHT.

Stanfield, the stirring, was a thriving place yesterday. With ball games, concerts, broncho breaking contests and other entertainment features a big crowd was entertained. For the first attempt Stanfield did well.

Here's betting that the governor of California is glad he did not allow the big fight to be pulled off in his state.

But there is plenty of water in the river and it is our own fault if the land adjoining Pendleton suffers from drought.

The comet is gone and the big fight is over, now what will people have to read about?

This section of the state has had a very fair rainfall for the season although June was a dry month.

THE WOODS A-CALLING.

There's joy your soul enthralled when you rise to meet the dawn—
When you hear the woods a-calling, an' the picnic time is on.

"Coming!" you answer,
Where all the violets know
Red lips and bright eyes
That you're a-lovin' so!

What of all life's trouble—though Fortune's smile is gone,
When you hear the woods a-calling—when the picnic time is on.

"Coming!" you answer,
Where all the violets know
The red lips—the bright eyes
That you're a-lovin' so!

ON LETTER WRITING.

When writing letters a woman should keep in mind the following rules:
Business letters should be concise and clear, because business people are supposed to be busy.
No letter is complete without the date.
In writing to solicit employment of any kind on no account should personal perplexities or needs be mentioned.
Letters of introduction are left open when written.
Elaborately ornamented note paper and highly perfumed notes are vulgar.

RUSSIAN PHYSICIAN IS PAID POISONER

St. Petersburg.—It has been a long time since St. Petersburg society has been so shocked as by the poisoning of Vassil Buturlin, only son of General Buturlin, a member of a noble family, which has been prominent in court circles since the time of Peter the Great.

The arrest and subsequent confession of Dr. Panichenko, a man of 70 years, added to the sensation.

Young Vassil Buturlin was 26 years old, and an officer in the famous Preobrajenski regiment of guards. Two years ago he fell in love with a German music hall singer named Marie Sleske, and resigned his commission in order to marry her. He subsequently obtained a position in the ministry of the interior, and although he owned a large property in the province of Vilna, as well as a house in St. Petersburg, besides being the heir to about $500,000, he lived a very retired life.

On May 24 last Vassil Buturlin became seriously ill and died the next day, after the doctor who was attending him had administered several subcutaneous injections. General Buturlin permitted a postmortem to be held, the result of which was to establish the fact that the young man had been poisoned. Suspicion fell upon Doctor Panichenko.

Panichenko under police pressure, confessed that he willfully poisoned young Buturlin by injecting cholera anti-toxine obtained from the Constantinople laboratory. The dose was calculated to ensure death within a few days. He declared he was instigated by M. O'Brien de Lassy, the brother-in-law of the dead man, who, however, protests his innocence. General Buturlin at first resented the "mesalliance" of his son, but eventually became reconciled to the marriage and is now on very affectionate terms with his daughter-in-law. The general's only other child is a daughter married to M. O'Brien de Lassy, a Vilna land owner and a descendant of the famous French Marshal de Lassy.

The police theory is that O'Brien de Lassy procured the poisoning so that he thought his wife would secure $5,000,000.

WILL BRIAND OR BRISSON BE PRESIDENT OF FRANCE?

Paris.—The men of the hour in France are all men of simple habits. The quiet, unassuming democracy of President Fallieres is perhaps his most noteworthy characteristic; M. Briand, the premier who may succeed Fallieres is also a man of the people, and is not ashamed of it. M. Brissou, who has been elected president of the chamber of deputies, is a worthy confederate of Fallieres and Briand.

He measures up to former President Roosevelt's ideal citizen of a republic. If he has no children he and his good and accomplished late wife adopted three orphans, whom they brought up as if they were their own. They belonged to a close friend, M. Albert Joly, an advocate, who rendered noble service to the cause they had at heart under the empire and during the moral order regime.

M. Brissou takes life and his duties as a public man too seriously not to look a little solemn.

Yet he can be witty and even humorous, and is a man of the finest culture. He has never attempted to climb the beaten paths of Parnassus. None the less he might have shone on them, for he is poet of rare finish and delicacy. He never took up residence in his wife's time in the Petit Bourbon. They gave their official dinners, concerts and receptions but continued to have their home among his electors in the unfashionable neighborhood of the Chateau d'Eu.

More than ever he prefers the home where he lived with her in close community of sentiment and intellectual pursuits, and parentage of the orphans of the dear cherished friend, whom they adopted. His private fortune, without being large, is sufficient to secure independence. The great part of his salaries as deputy and president goes in works of republican and Masonic fraternity, for he is a devoted Freemason.

TWO ROYAL STANDARDS FLY ON ENGLISH SOIL.

London.—The fact that two royal standards are at present flying in London—one over Buckingham Palace and one at Marlborough House—is quite unprecedented and irregular. The royal standard, according to the etiquette in such matters, can only fly over the house of the sovereign, which at present is Marlborough House.

Queen Alexandra at Buckingham Palace is the only entitled to fly the union jack, the same as any subject of the king. However, it is said that she prefers to live under the royal standard, and accordingly it is at the mansion at Buckingham Palace.

STORY OF "DEATH DICE"

Kaiser Presents Remarkable Relic to Museum.
Berlin.—The Kaiser recently presented to the Hohenzollern museum the "death dice" which one of his ancestors decided a difficult case in the seventeenth century. The history of these dice is generally given as follows:
A young girl had been murdered. Suspicion fell upon two young soldiers, Ralph and Alfred, who were suitors for her hand. They both denied their guilt, and even torture failed to extract a confession from either.

Then Elector Frederick William decided to cut the knot by means of the dice box. The two soldiers should throw for their lives, and the loser should be executed for the murder.

The event was celebrated with great solemnity, Ralph had the first chance and threw sixes, the highest possible number. The dice box was then given to Alfred. He fell on his knees and prayed. Then he rose to his feet and threw the dice with such force that one of them was broken. The whole one showed six, the broken one also gave six on the larger portion, and the fragment split off showed one. This was a total of 13, one beyond Ralph's throw. The audience held its breath in amazement.

MOTHER'S FRIEND
A LINIMENT FOR EXTERNAL USE.

One of the most valuable qualities of Mother's Friend is that it safe-guards the future health of the mother. It is a liniment to be applied externally to the body, the use of which lubricates the muscles and tendons, softens the glands and ducts, prevents lumps forming in the breasts, and relieves the pain, nervousness, nausea, and other troubles from which so many expectant mothers suffer. When Mother's Friend is used regularly it fits and prepares the system for an easy and natural consummation of the term. Women who massage with this great liniment are always saved much suffering when baby comes, and recover more quickly, and without ill effects. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. THE BRADFIELD CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Malheur valley by the county court. The highway begins at Ontario and extends almost due westward the entire distance. When this work is completed it is the intention to build a well graded north and south road through this county beginning at a point near Weiser on the south side of the Snake river and extending down through Ontario and Nyssa and on to the Owyhee bridge, 12 miles south of Nyssa or a total distance of about 45 miles.

Malheur county will collect about $20,000 for the county road fund. A good share of this money is to be used in building the two trunk highways.

The Malheur county court is not satisfied with the way county road funds have been spent in the past in spasmodic attempts to fix the roads. The county court has wisely determined in the future to use the county road funds in a systematic manner.

Instead of doing a little patching here and a little there on the roads, the road funds will hereafter be used in fixing a certain stretch of road in a permanent manner by bringing it first to the proper grade and later, as the funds permit, gravel or macadamize it. In this way something practical and substantial will be accomplished in Malheur county in the way of road building.

W. L. Gibson, roadmaster of Malheur county, is in charge of highway construction. He is using a modern road grader, requiring 14 horses and three men to operate it. A heavy plow is fixed in the center of the machine with an elevator 18 feet long attached to the plow. With this machine 1000 yards of the hardest kind of dirt can be lifted in 10 hours. All the dirt loosened by the monster plow is automatically passed up the elevator and is dropped in the center of the road. With this machine it is found that it only costs about 5 cents

HAIR CUT WRONG, KILLS SELF.

French Naval Officer Finds New Reason for Suicide.
Toulon.—A curious suicide is reported by the police. A naval officer, 27 years of age, who as he had failed to suffocate himself with a couple of pans of charcoal, lodged a bullet in his heart.

He had been living six years with a young woman, and he left a letter in which he asked his parents, who reside at Belle, to give her some of the money which he had lying at the savings bank and the remainder to his sister.

The officer's motive for putting an end to his days seems utterly absurd. He paid a visit to a barber and his hair was so closely cropped that his appearance was completely changed. This, it is said, preyed on his mind and he felt that he could live no longer.

TURKISH PRINCE'S VAIN LOVE

Lady He Picks Out Is Already Scheduled for Another.
Constantinople.—Prince Burhan-Eddin, Abdul Hamid's favorite son, is madly in love with a lady whose rank makes it impossible for him to marry her.

He sees her every Friday as she drives from the Imperial harem to the mosque. He has slipped tiny little billets-doux into her carriage. But court etiquette is very rigid in Turkey, and this charming little princess is, I hear, shortly to be married to an unimportant member of the Imperial household.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is the best of all medicines for the cure of diseases, disorders and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is the only preparation of its kind devised by a regularly graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in the diseases of women.

It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system. THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol and no injurious habit-forming drugs and which creates no craving for such stimulants.

THE ONE REMEDY so good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on each outside bottle-wrapper and attest to the truthfulness of the same under oath.

It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who hasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute of unknown composition for this medicine of known composition. No counterfeit is as good as the genuine and the druggist who says something else is "just as good as Dr. Pierce's" is either mistaken or is trying to deceive you for his own selfish benefit. Such a man is not to be trusted. He is trading with your most priceless possession—your health—may be your life itself. See that you get what you ask for.
