WINE DRINKING WORST FOE OF CONSUMPTION

Paris.—Dr. Jacques Bertillon, the well-known chief of the finger-print department of the French police, has published an article on the question of the connection between alcohol and tuberculosis.
Dr. Bertillon says that of the causes which in France favor the development of tuberculosis, the most important is the alcohol in beer and spirits.
He declares, however, that the best enemy of tuberculosis is wine. In the 28 departments which form the northern part of France, where cider, beer, spirits—especially brandy—are much drunk, the death caused by consumption were 230 per 100,000 inhabitants in 1906, while the proportion was 146 in the other departments of France where wine is the favorite drink.

After the age of 30, he says consumption is twice or three times more frequent among men than women, undoubtedly because the drinking of alcohol is more common with the former than with the latter.
To combat consumption, Dr. Bertillon says, the surest method is to encourage the drinking of wine, and discourage the drinking of cider, beer, brandy and other spirits.

BURGO AND MULLIN FIGHT TO A DRAW

BOUT AT STANFIELD
WAS A GOOD CARD

Pendleton and La Grande Pugs Go Through 15 Rounds—Burgo Floors Mullin Once and Is Himself Sent Flying Through the Ropes—Celebration a Great Success Throughout.

Barney Mullin of this city and Walter Burgo of Boston, fought 15 fierce rounds to a draw at Stanfield yesterday. That is the referee called it a draw but Mullin and his friends declare the local fighter had all the best of the fistie encounter.

Those who witnessed yesterday's contest and the one recently pulled off in this city, say the Stanfield bout was much the better of the two. Mullin was floored once and took the count of seven, while the Boston pug was sent to the floor several times, being knocked through the ropes and off the stage twice in one round. A large crowd witnessed the go and that they were satisfied with the exhibition was evinced by the manner in which they remained silent throughout the 15 rounds of the contest.

According to the Pendletonians who spent the day in Stanfield the celebration was a success from every standpoint. The crowd was twice as large as had been expected, the music was good, the day ideal and the sports were exciting.
In the morning baseball game, Echo won over Umatilla by a good margin, while in the afternoon, the Hermiston team took the Stanfield nine into camp.

The bronco busting contest was enjoyed by several features. There was some good riding, one man was thrown and dragged about the arena, while another horse bucked himself into a cellar and was rescued with difficulty. The three horse races were also very interesting.

Hundreds enjoyed the dancing throughout the afternoon and evening and when the trains finally started homeward they were loaded with a tired but satisfied crowd of people.
