Orpheum.
The program for today is exceptionally good.
1. A Biography, "Muggles First Sweetheart." Muggles is in love, many difficulties surround him, all of which, however, he overcomes, 1000 feet.
2. The Wanderers. A typical pathetic Kalem drama, 1000 feet.
3. A Child of the Squadron. Urban. Is a very exciting melodramatic story of fiction, 1000 feet.
4. An Excursion Into Wales. Scenic. One of the best out of door pictures ever produced.
5. Shine on, Harvest Moon.
The Pastime.
An interesting program for Friday's change:
"The Brother, the Sister and the Cowpuncher." Essanay. Here is a feature. A western story pulsating with heart interest, beautiful in scenic setting, superbly photographed.
"At the Dawning." Dramatic, 1000 feet in length. A story woven around the appearance of a comet in the year 1000. There is a kidnapped maiden, restored to her father, who afterwards accepts the lawless baron as a son-in-law.
"A Texas Joke." Melles, 100 feet, comedy. This is a screaming comedy in the Panhandle country.

LECTURES ON FARMING IN THE TOMBS PRISON

New York—A course of lectures on agriculture delivered in the Tombs prison may seem an odd combination but it is being tried and is pronounced a decided success by the prison authorities. All the prisoners in the institution heard the first lecture of the series and were much interested in it. The lecturer was George E. Manchester, a practical farmer of Winsted, Conn. He pointed the way for those who wish to turn from their old ways and go "back to the soil" after their release.
Not long ago Rev. Charles P. Tinker of the Protestant Episcopal City mission, a regular visitor at the Tombs, decided that he could interest the prisoners in a series of technical lectures. The plan was approved by the department of correction, and may be adopted in prisons and reform institutions throughout the country.
The lecturer, in his introductory address, told the men of the coming revival of farming and laid particular stress upon the fact that the demand for farm labor is so great now that so long as a man does his work honestly the farmers do not ask him his past. At the conclusion of the lecture there was a general discussion. The prisoners asked the lecturer many questions, and one of them made a long speech on farming in the west.

strenuous and that more legislation was enacted than at any other session he recalls is declared by Judge Ellis. At times there was some excitement over the contention between the "insurgents" and the Cannon forces yet Congressman Ellis says the fighting appeared more serious over the country than it did in Washington.
In the view of Judge Ellis Speaker Cannon will not try for the speakership again. Though he has never had such a declaration from this speaker himself he says he was advised by one close to Cannon that it was improbable he would run again.

SCHOOL OF THIEVES IS HAILED BY POLICE

Paris.—Jean Staerk a man with a criminal past—he has already been sentenced six times—conceived the idea of keeping a school of thieves. He gathered some 10 pupils—all young men—around him and gave lessons at Romainville Fort every day.
The police noticed the comings and goings of these young men. Their curiosity was aroused. They kept a sharp lookout, and surprised Professor Jean Staerk when he was giving one of his lectures.
Professor and pupils were arrested. The professor was not paid in fees. He loyally told on his pupils' booty, deeming this a better way of earning a living than by thieving himself, for he dreaded another conviction, which might mean his being sent to a penal settlement.
Seven of the pupils have been remitted to their parents on account of their youth; the remaining three have accompanied their professor to the lockup.

STRANGE ANTICS OF MAD KING OTTO

Rome.—Some remarkable details relating to the mad King Otto of Bavaria are published from a diplomatic source by the "Giornale d'Italia." Though shut up for 40 years in castles (he is now in the castle Furstenried), and though 62 years of age, Otto is still a fine, handsome figure, with a magnificent beard and fowing grey locks.
The stories about his periodical fits of fury are quite untrue. His court is presided over by Marshal Baron Redwig, and consists of a few trusty squire belonging to the most ancient families of the Bavarian aristocracy.
King Otto suffers terribly from insomnia and often sits up in bed half the night staring toward the door as if expecting some one to enter. He, however rises punctually every morning at 8 o'clock, and mutely allows himself to be dressed by his valet. He has a holy horror of having his hair and nails cut, so that servants have to wait patiently a favorable day for these operations when the poor patient is in a state of complete apathy.
The demented king smokes incredible quantities of cigarettes, and is always puffing away, save when he is absorbed in his favorite pastime of studying the operatic music of his pet composer, Verdi. Often he causes the castle halls to resound all day long with melodies of "Rigoletto."

BAD SITUATION IN CRETE

Constant Friction Between Christians and Mussulmans.
Vienna.—The Austrian government will be heartily glad when the Cretan situation is finally settled. That is contains elements of the gravest danger is felt certain here. Advice from Turkey indicate that the Turkish government will avail itself of any reasonable pretext to administer another and lasting lesson to Greece. The boycotting movement of Greek goods is spreading. This boycotting movement was organized by a committee at Salonika, where the harbor is closed to all Greek vessels, the stevedores being forbidden under pain of death, to unload Greek ships or to assist their passengers.
At Smyrna the Greek tradesmen were forced by the Cretan Mussulmans to close their shops. The foreign consuls intervened with the governor to protect the Greek consul, who was threatened with serious injury. Pourparlers on the subject of Crete continue to be conducted by the four powers. It is understood that the four powers are not contemplating a final solution of the Cretan problem, but intend to address a warning to the islanders that they must readmit the Moslem deputies to the assembly and respect the right of Moslems in general. Should this warning fail energetic steps will probably be taken.
Who says now that the negro race is the inferior race?

YOUNG BOY DIVES FROM BROOKLYN BRIDGE

New York—A sharp featured, under-sized youth in ragged swimming trunks, with a skimpy coat and an old pair of trousers thrown over them dived successfully the other afternoon from the center span of Brooklyn bridge to the East River, 135 feet low, for $250 in cash, three new suits of clothes and whatever fame the world may hold in store for a bridge jumper.
The late Steve Brodie, acquired fame as a jumper, and long ran a Bowersy saloon on the strength of it, but many say it was never proved that Steve really jumped. Several would-be suicides have been fished out of the river unhurt, after jumping, but Otto Eppers is the first to jump with unquestioned witnesses as part of a pre-arranged plan.
The boys first words when he was fished out of the river by the crew of a passing tug, "Cool but I hit hard."
Eppers is 17 years old, the son of a lithographer. He weighs about 110 pounds.
He meant to dive in one long sweeping arc, "but," he told afterwards, "I started to twist and then I couldn't stop."
Passengers on the ferryboats who saw him said he turned like a pin wheel. He was found on his back half stunned and paddling feebly.
Modern Woodman Attention.
Regular meeting this evening all members urged to be present. Initiation and other business.
J. G. FINNEY, Clerk.
In pugilistic circles, at least, Jack Johnson is entitled to the utmost respect and admiration.
Lost or strayed from the Maple or Chris Traver pasture, one bay horse branded NH connected on left shoulder; weight about 1100 pounds. $10 reward for returning same. Kupers & McCook Implement House.
