WHAT COHEN THINKS OF CROPS NEAR ECHO

JOURNAL MARKET MAN
WRITES OF WHAT HE SEES

Hyman H. Cohen, Well Known Market Authority, Visits Echo Wheat Fields—Says Greatest Crop in Years Will be Harvested.

The following story appeared in the columns of the Portland Journal yesterday:

Echo, Ore., July 9.—The greatest crop of wheat for many years will be harvested in the Echo region in 1910. Today the first of the new crop wheat was brought to this city and stored in the warehouse of Balfour, Guthrie & Co. The grain was grown on the place of George Coppinger. It is of the Cox variety and weighs 61 1-2 pounds to the bushel.

This showing is wonderful for the Cox variety and is the heaviest yield of that grade ever shown here. On the George Coppinger place it is expected that the wheat will go 25 bushels an acre average. In fact, the wheat already cut shows that production.

Taken all in all, the Echo country will produce an average of about 18 bushels an acre. Some wheat will go 25 bushels, as on the George Coppinger place, while some of the volunteer will not range above 7 or possibly 8 bushels an acre.

Speaking of volunteer wheat, it can be truthfully said that the yields this season will be the greatest ever shown. This is the lazy man's crop, but the production this season is about as good as the average of the cultivated ground.

Echo has many big wheat ranches and all show good production for the season coming to a close. George Coppinger has a section planted to Club and Cox. His place is about three miles east of this city. His brother, Jim, has 480 acres about five miles away that will run about 20 bushels per acre.

Charles E. Cameron, six miles out on Stage gulch, has 800 acres of Turkey red and club that are expected to average around 18 bushels.

T. J. Hamlin, who farms the old Prospect place, has one section sown to fall wheat that will average about 20 bushels, and another section of volunteer.

George Goodnight, a half section on the Stage Gulch road, seven miles out from Echo, sowed club and Dale, which are expected to run on the average of 20 bushels per acre.

New Variety Sown.

A new variety of wheat that resembles the bluestem has been sown on 200 acres by George Wenzler at his place eight miles out from town. The wheat was secured from the government several years ago, but this is the first time it has been planted on a somewhat extensive scale, so that a thorough test of its milling qualities can be secured. Mr. Wenzler likewise has 800 acres of Turkey red and club that will yield about 20 bushels per acre.

Mike Foster, nine miles out, has 900 acres of Dale and Turkey red that will average 18 bushels.

W. P. Benedict, 10 miles out, 400 acres, probably 15 bushels.

J. F. Reese, six miles from Echo, 800 acres of club and bluestem, 16 to 17 bushels.

W. B. and W. F. Staats have a section sown to club and Dale that will average 18 bushels.

W. B. Galletta has 1300 acres of both spring and fall sowing that will average around 14 bushels.

Lack of Cultivation.

On the south side of the river the showing is not so good because of the lack of cultivation and the fact that the land is of more recent planting, but considering everything the showing is extremely good and is better than other seasons.

In this section A. Balcom has 700 acres of wheat and barley. The wheat will yield 15 bushels and the barley 25 bushels.

J. C. Williams has 480 acres of the same mixture that will yield a similar number of bushels, from present prospects.

O. F. Roberts, with his half section of club wheat, expects to secure a yield of 15 bushels.

This year's barley crop is expected to range from 25 to 30 bushels an acre in the Echo section. Most of the barley was sown in the fall and this will yield the greatest crop, while the showing of the spring sown will be about five bushels less per acre.

More spring wheat was sown in this section than for several years, owing to adverse sowing conditions during the fall months, which made the usual almost exclusive planting of fall wheat impossible. The total acreage, however, is greater than last season, and this is expected to make Echo one of the great primary shipping points in the section.

The harvesting of fall wheat is now going on and will soon become general. As the work of the combines progresses, the yields are shown to be better than first estimates. No new wheat has been sold here because of the low prices in effect. Nothing over 65c is now being offered for new club. Because of the excellence of the wheat growers believe they should get more money.

MATCHES BURN IN POCKET.

Boy Set Ablaze by Sudden Movement—Saved by His Employer.

New York—A box of matches in Abram Abramovitz' hip pocket flared as he made an abrupt movement when working as an umbrella handle polisher at his bench in Rothman & Greenberg's shop, 13 Baxter street the other afternoon and set fire to his oil-soaked overalls. All his lower garments were burning fiercely before Abramovitz, who is sixteen years old knew they were ablaze. Harry Greenberg of the firm saw the flames and, flinging the boy to the floor, rolled him vigorously to smother them. The employer saved the youngster from immediate death but the blaze spread to a stack of umbrella sticks and smoke wreathed through the factory. Rushing Abramovitz to safety, Greenberg ran to Park row and tried to call the firemen, but the alarm there was out of order. Employees put out the fire in his absence.

Abramovitz was taken to the Hudson Street hospital. He is burned from head to foot.

SEEK BAPTISTS' SAFETY.

Italian Officials Hear Complaints of Attacks on American Missionaries.

Rome.—The American ambassador, John C. A. Leishman, has brought to the attention of the Premier and the foreign office the situation arising from recent attacks upon Baptist missionaries in the province at Ayellino.

At the time of the earthquake in that district early in June, James P. Stuart of St. Louis, the representative of the American board of Baptist missions in Italy and other missionary workers, were attacked by a mob and were escorted out of the district by a detachment of soldiers.

After a conference with Premier Luzzatti, at Rome, Mr. Stuart returned to the Vellelino district, where another attack was made upon him and his companions. He telegraphed a statement of the affair to the American ambassador, who requested him to come to Rome. This Stuart did and he had a long conference with Ambassador Leishman.

Arriving at the outskirts of Avellino, on his return, a howling crowd of natives quickly surrounded Stuart's carriage. On all sides arose the cry of "Down with the Baptists" and a shower of stones fell about the vehicle. Mr. Stuart was hit in the chest, the arm and the leg. He took refuge in the Baptist church and was eventually rescued by soldiers.

A Scottish clergyman got into conversation in a railway carriage with a workman, who informed him that he had been a coupler on a railway for several years. "Oh," said the minister, "I can beat that. I have been a coupler for over twenty years." "Ay," replied the workman, "but I can uncouple, and you canna!"
