

A PROMINENT WOLF CREEK LADY RELIEVED OF GALL STONES

By Bloodless Surgery; No Knife; No Blood

Pendleton is just now entertaining some of the Greatest Medical Experts that ever earned the gratitude of the sick by restoring them to perfect health. The great Fer-Don and his staff of European Medical Experts and Bloodless Surgeons are now here at 637 Main St., Pendleton, Oregon, and have already begun a record of cures that promises to equal at least those they worked in San Francisco, Los Angeles and Oakland the past three years in California. From all these cities come letters and telegrams telling just what kind of men Fer-Don's experts are; what they are doing and what they have done. To all inquiries addressed to the cities where Fer-Don is known, the reply every time is that he is a good man, a man of his word, and his experts are wonderful healers by means of their new European method of treatment, not a complaint that they have ever broken their word or failed to do everything they have promised. Not a single statement that these medical experts ever undertook a case they did not cure if curable. And who are these who vouch for their integrity, their manhood, their power and their skill in which they cure diseases? The obscure, the unknown, the irresponsible? Not one of them. Bank presidents, mayors of cities, editors, business men, housewives, who have known what it is to look death squarely in the face—the patients they have saved. These are the best vouchers any man can have, and Fer-Don's experts have them by the score. A few of these recommendations are given herewith, and the history of a few of the hundreds of cases they have cured.

Gall Stones Removed.

From a prominent Wolf Creek, Oregon, lady:
The offices of the European medical experts were crowded yesterday at 637 Main st. Many asked to see the great Fer-Don, but were told that it was impossible, as Fer-Don does not examine patients nor treat them but were informed that the European medical experts and the bloodless surgeons would attend to their ills. One woman who was in the reception room stated that her name was Mrs. Katherine Swin, of Wolf Creek, Oregon, and that she had been sick for several years. She consulted several physicians. She heard of the great Fer-Don and the European Medical Experts, and they told her they could remove the gall stones in 24 hours, with just three doses of medicine, and true to their word, Mrs. Swin was relieved of many gall stones by just three doses of medicine, and she has them in a jar. The reputation of the European Medical Experts is established in Salem and multitudes of prominent citizens have been treated by them.

An interesting case is that of a young woman living at Coalinga, Calif. Her name is Mrs. J. L. Kirtrek. Her case had been given up by physicians; physicians cried: "Operate; use the knife." No wonder this woman came to our experts," said Fer-Don. She has been scared to death by doctors who wanted to operate on her. She was troubled with cancers. She heard of our bloodless surgery, whereby our experts used no knife. She traveled miles to see us. My experts put her under treatment and my experts removed cancers from this young woman's face. No knife was used."

Crowd Marvels at Ease With Which Patient Is Relieved of Growth on His Head by the Bloodless Physician.

At least 3,000 expectant persons, anxious to see for themselves just how the bloodless operations of the European experts are performed, gathered at Virginia street last evening at Fer-Don's free show. At a little before 9 o'clock the first part of the minstrel entertainment over the stage was cleared and a committee of citizens and professional men was invited to witness the removal at close range. Quite a number of persons took advantage of the invitation and gathered up close to the stage. Mr. Miller, who is employed at Herbert Bros. meat shop was then introduced. He had a large tumor on the back of his head. The European medical expert then applied a preparation to the head of Mr. Miller, dissolved the outer covering of the tumor inside of a very few moments the entire growth was out. No knife was used, there was no pain and no blood. Hundreds saw and marveled at the way the thing was done. Many of these came into the entertainment skeptical, saying the operation could not be performed painlessly and bloodlessly, as had been promised. These left satisfied that the Great Fer-Don had known whereof he spoke when he said the European experts could conquer disease and remove tumors, cancers, and gall stones without operation. For they had come through with flying colors in the one case where others perhaps would have failed, and if they could do this there was reason to believe they could successfully perform other cures they claim.

From the Vallejo Evening News, July 27, 1909.

The above testimonials are only a few of the many hundreds received daily from grateful women and men from Sacramento, Oakland, Roseburg, Redding, Eugene, Salem and Medford and vicinity, as well as other portions of the country each of whom are loud in their praise for the experts. Wherever these learned physicians have remained for any length of time—Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, and all the large cities in the east—they have brought sunshine and happiness into the lives and homes of hundreds of suffering mothers, wives, sisters and sweethearts, by their wonderful cures.

GERMANS WATCH SMUGGLERS.

Think Many Diamonds Brought in From South Africa.

Berlin.—Smugglers with diamonds worth $400,000 from the southwest African fields, have succeeded in evading the colonial officials at Luderitz bay and escaped.

It is believed they are aboard a German liner. The government, which is entitled to 33 1-3 per cent of the value of the jewels is watching all vessels which arrive.

The revenue officers assert that diamonds worth many millions of dollars have been smuggled out in recent years. The smugglers have not been detected, but are supposed to be women, who conceal the stones in their clothing.

Lease Ended at King's Death, Dublin, Ireland.—At the Claremorris quarter sessions recently an interesting ejectment was heard at the suit of Martin Griffith against Ferrall McDonnell, Dunmore, in respect of licensed premises in the town of Claremorris in the occupation of Mr. James Henahan. The ejectment was based on a lease which the court held expired on the death of the king. There are quite a number of business houses in Claremorris the leases of which expired on the death of the king.

DAKOTANS VISIT PROJECT

All Pleased With Conditions There After Leaving Drought-Stricken Dakota—Short News Notes.

(Special Correspondence.)

Hermiston, Ore., July 13.—Last night's motor brought in another party of North Dakota homeseekers, who are today looking over the project, and are highly pleased with the conditions in the Hermiston country. When they left home crops were suffering very badly for the want of moisture and here all you need do is open the headgate and the water flows. The party is under the guidance of C. Herman of the Columbia Land company and consisted of the following: Gust Bewerdorf, C. N. Jensen, H. R. Davidson, Walter Priest, G. E. Bennett, S. B. Heron, Mrs. G. W. Valdegehan, Mr. and Mrs. Hert Harris, all of Valley City, and C. R. Butson and S. Butson, of Hillsboro, and H. D. Burroughs of Fargo.

F. M. Mamsten of Helena, Montana, is spending a few days looking over the project.

D. E. Lavender of Weston, W. J. Crockman of Pendleton, and County Surveyor John Kimbrell, were in Hermiston for the past few days laying out some county roads.

W. Walpole, manager of the Oregon Land & Water company lands at Irrigon, spent the past few days in town transacting business.

H. G. Hurlburt, one of the pioneer residents of this section, returned from Walla Walla, where he has spent the past ten days.

Mrs. Flora Foreman spent the day visiting friends in Echo.

PLUCKY LAD TO TRY HARD FOR BIG FORTUNE

Chicago.—"I'll win grandpa's fortune, but of course I can't do everything he asked," declared little Robert Dyrenforth, the 12-year-old heir of Colonel Dyrenforth, the eccentric Washingtonian whose strange will named conditions to be complied with before his fortune of $250,000 is given to his grandson.

"But I would rather have grandpa than all the money," added the boy, as he savagely bit into a stick of gum and gulped down a lump which had risen in his throat. "We were mighty good chums."

"I think grandpa's will was partly one of his jokes. I cannot finish high school when I am 14, but I will do it as soon afterward as I can, and I am just crazy to go to Harvard and Oxford."

Thinks Little of Girls.
"I always wanted to be a soldier, but as long as grandpa wanted me to practice law after finishing West Point I see no reason why I should kick."

His grandfather's severe arraignment of the fair sex made a deep impression on the boyish mind.

"I never did care for mud pie romances," said the little fellow, "and I guess the girls won't bother me much. I don't know, though, whether a boy can go to dancing school without making friends with girls."

Must Give Up Mother.

One of the provisions of the will is that the boy shall not be permitted to associate with Mrs. Dyrenforth. Another provision is that he become an Episcopalian. His foster mother is a Catholic.

The boy, to whom Colonel Dyrenforth left his fortune, is his grandson and adopted son. His father was Captain McGrath, an army surgeon. After McGrath's death Dyrenforth adopted the boy.

His mother is proprietress of a boarding house.

WILL WAGE WARFARE ON DEATH OF INFANTS

Philadelphia, Pa.—Mayor Reyburn has given his unqualified endorsement of Director Neff's effort to reduce the infant mortality in the congested districts. Counting upon a meeting of Councils Dr. Neff had an ordinance prepared providing for an appropriation for salaries for eight visiting nurses and a supervising nurse. When it was announced that Councils would not meet, Dr. Neff decided to make the appointments subject to an appropriation of Councils in order that the life-saving might begin on July 1.

When the mayor returned from a yachting trip on the Gretchen and was informed of Dr. Neff's action he said:

"I approve of that. Councils will have to provide the money. I told 'em they'd have to cut out things—automobiles and everything—if necessary to provide that money. That works' got to go on."

Mine Smokeless Steam Coal.

Copenhagen, Denmark.—Smokeless steam coal of a good quality is being mined to a considerable extent in Spitzbergen by an American company. It finds a ready market at Thorndhjem, on the west coast of Norway, and is also sold at the company's dock in Advent bay, realizing about $5 per ton.

The mine is situated 1500 feet up the mountainside on the shores of the bay, and the workings extend under the sea. It is said the supply is practically unlimited.

HUNTED FOXES IN CHURCH.

Russian Peasants Up for Trial for Sacrilege.

St. Petersburg.—The upholders of orthodoxy have been awaiting with great impatience the result of the extraordinary trial which has just been concluded at Moscow, in the government of Minsk, with closed doors.

Five landowners and farmers, Polish Roman Catholics and two orthodox peasants, who accompanied them, were charged with desecrating a Russian church by pulling up the flooring and shooting two foxes, which had made their lair on the premises. In doing this they invaded the sanctuary and covered with shot marks an ikon of Christ, which was also bespattered with blood.

The church of St. Nicholas, the miracle worker, where the desecration occurred, is situated in a wood some three miles from the village of Rostjsha. It is old and tumbledown the roof is described as rotten, and only one service is held there annually, it being shut the rest of the year.

The charge against the prisoners dates from December, 1905. They had already been tried and acquitted on technical grounds. The indictment described how the prisoners went fox shooting with a number of dogs, and forced an entrance into the church. Their footsteps and tracks were discernible on the snow which had fallen through the roof on the floor of the building. There were blood stains in many places. What had occurred was quite evident. One of the foxes, on being driven from the hole under the church, had dashed towards the ikon screen, and the hunters had fired at it as it made a leap on to the ikon of the Saviour. Twenty-two shot marks were found on the ikon itself. The second fox unearthed in the church was killed by the dogs.

The court condemned the five landowners and farmers to terms of hard labor varying between eight and four years. The two peasants received less punishment.
