

MOTHER'S FRIEND

A LINIMENT FOR EXTERNAL USE.

One of the most valuable qualities of Mother's Friend is that it safe-guards the future health of the mother. It is a liniment to be applied externally to the body, the use of which lubricates the muscles and tendons, softens the glands and ducts, prevents lumps forming in the breasts, and relieves the pain, nervousness, nausea, and other troubles from which so many expectant mothers suffer. When Mother's Friend is used regularly it fits and prepares the system for an easy and natural consummation of the term. Women who massage with this great liniment are always saved much suffering when baby comes, and recover more quickly, and without ill effects. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers.

FORMER RESIDENT RETURNS TO ATHENA

I. L. VAN WINKLE RECALLS COUNTRY IN EARLY DAYS

Returns With Wife and Four Children and Have Picture Taken in Same Room in Which He and His Bride Were Photographed 19 Years Ago—Father Was Early Settler.

(Special Correspondence.)

Athena, Or., July 18.—A very unusual thing happened here last Saturday afternoon, July 16, when I. L. Van Winkle and his wife stood with their four children and had their pictures taken in the same room of the same building in which they went through the same performance just a few minutes after they were married nineteen years ago. Mr. Van Winkle and his wife have been over all of the inland empire since they were photographed the first time together in the building known as the Umatilla Art Gallery.

I. L. Van Winkle came to this part of the country with his father in 1868. Mr. Van Winkle's father settled up several hundred acres around here, among which was what is now known as the De Graw place, the Key ranch and other lands very close to the present location of this city. In an interview today Mr. Van Winkle said:

"When I first came here with my father this whole country lay vacant and the wind blew so much of the time that the land seemed too dry and barren to raise anything. My father at one time came and looked at what is now known as the Tom Kirk ranch but he thought it too dry to raise anything. We thought that we had to be near water in order to raise our stock as we did not believe that we could strike water here. When I was a boy I used to herd sheep all over this whole townsite, when all you could see was bunchgrass. My father was the owner of quite a body of land and was considered at that time one of the biggest farmers in this country. He was broken up in business by the Indian wars of 1875 and was one of the heaviest losers. He never did get anything out of the government for his losses, although all of the papers were made out and we had the vouchers. This loss caused my father to hunt a new location and thus abandon what is now one of the richest farming countries in the world. There were no railroads at that time and the first one I ever saw was that one built from Walla Walla to Wallula by Baker & Boyer. The railroad was one of the crudest as the rails were made of hoop iron and fastened to wooden pieces along the way. We used to haul our wool and other produce to Walla Walla, as it

SOME SHORT NEWS NOTES FROM WESTON

(Special Correspondence.)

Weston, Or., July 18.—E. L. Withers returned Saturday from his trip to Welsch, Idaho, where he was in attendance to the district conference of the Dunkard church, of which he is a member.

J. M. O'Harra's outfit started up this morning for a season's work in the grainfields.

The barley now being threshed by a combine on the Price Brothers' place east of town is indicating a yield of about 65 bushels per acre.

Mrs. W. E. Driskell returned Saturday from her several weeks' visit at her daughter's home in Spokane, Wash.

Miss Stella O'Harra is at present visiting friends in the Garden City.

Miss Grace Gregg from the Briggson neighborhood, is a guest at the home of the Misses Lula and Zilla Simpson.

BOY FALLS INTO BALLOON.

Youth Breaks All Records by Dropping Clear Through Gasbag.

Los Angeles.—Within 29 seconds and 59 feet, Roy Field, an amateur, broke all balloon records of the kind Saturday. He fell in at the top of an immense captive gasbag and was taken out of the appendix nearly asphyxiated, but not otherwise injured. Incidentally he liberated 80,000 cubic feet of lifting fluid, which cost his employer, J. M. Burns, $64. He landed in such a way, too, after his long tumble, that the balloon had to be cut to extricate him.

This is supposedly the first time a man has fallen clear through a balloon. Field had climbed to the top of the rigging to straighten out a wrinkle in the silken envelope. His foot slipped and made a rent, and down he went through it. The rushing gas affected him so quickly that he could not reach to the cordage. It was like falling on a feather bed, however, for when he struck the silk had not broken. He was limp for an hour.

DOCTORS OPERATED THOUGH HE HAD NO APPENDICITIS

Sacramento Man Tells of Experience--Lost Many Friends--Now He Is Cured by Fer-Don's Medical Experts Who Are Now Located at 637 Main St. Above French Restaurant, Pendleton.

"I would not have had that operation for appendicitis for a thousand dollars," said Mr. J. T. Miller, living at 719 E. street, Sacramento. Some time ago the doctors operated on a plea that he was suffering from appendicitis. "I did not have appendicitis at all, and the operation did me no good and now I have pain all the time from the incision. That operation was utterly needless." Mr. Miller has lived in Sacramento for several years, and is well known in that city.

Sick for Two Years.

"I had been sick for two years," said Mr. Miller. "I think malaria is what began the trouble, and from that my liver got out of order, my digestion was bad, I became chronically constipated, and one thing brought on another until I was miserable most of the time. Finally the doctors decided that I had appendicitis and that I must undergo an operation. Of course, I did as they told me, and endured the pain and danger. Well, if I had appendicitis before the operation, I had it afterward, for it never made any change in my condition except to add to my pains.

Lost Many Pounds.

"I was sick at my stomach, could not eat what I wanted without great pains and was in constant torment. I was losing weight until I was really thin. Then one day I read in the Sacramento papers that some new treatment was given by Fer-Don's Medical Experts and Bloodless Surgeons, and that they were curing lots of cases even worse than mine. I decided that if they could cure others, they could cure me. So I went down to their offices here in Sacramento, and asked to be placed under treatment. Well, there isn't much more to be told. Fer-Don's Experts cured me in just a few treatments, removing some gall stones from me without an operation. No knife was used—no pain was experienced. I have no more pain—no more sickness, I eat whatever I want and as much as I want, and I feel perfectly well. My strength is coming back, too. A month ago, the slightest exertion tired me dreadfully. Now I can walk and work and go about as I please without any ill effect."

The reporter, with a nose for news, heard the story of little Minnie Drummond of Oakland, who lives at 771 Twenty-second street. This little girl was suffering from an internal gotre that was fast effecting her eyesight to the effect that glasses seemed necessary.

"My little daughter is about well again," said the happy mother, and she has had only four treatments."

Another Oakland man, D. Ranfers, of 3913 Opal street, said:

"I have suffered from stomach trouble for a long time and have tried many remedies, but received no benefit. I heard of Fer-Don and the European medical experts. I called at his office and was examined. After taking one dose of a peculiar medicine, a few hours after, the tapeworm left my system. When asked what effect the tapeworm had on his general health, Mr. Ranfers said: "It seemed to be tired and dull much of the time. I had little energy and often my work was a burden to me. I was nervous and did me little good. I would be as tired in the morning as at bed time. I usually had a bad taste in my mouth in the morning and a heavily coated tongue. "I suffered greatly from indigestion. I had heartburn, palpitation of the heart, dizzy spells and frequent and severe headaches. Often when moving quickly from one position to another, black spots would appear before my eyes and I would get very light-headed and dizzy.

"I think I owe Fer-Don and his European medical experts a great debt of gratitude and to show my appreciation I want the general public to know that I am marvelously benefited through their methods."

Miss Carrie McKay, 14 years of age, daughter of Mrs. Eliza McKay of Coleville, Mono county, has been mentally and physically afflicted ever since birth. She also has been a great sufferer from nervousness. Her sister, Mrs. Powell, residing at 202 Eleventh street, Sacramento, says:

"Carrie is here with me. She has been a constant care to mother and my sister, and I have seen the time only recently, when she was as helpless as a little baby, being unable to even dress or undress herself! Her mind was in such a condition that we could not trust her alone, as she talked irrational and acted so queer. We heard about Fer-Don's experts when they were in Reno, and wanted to go and see them, as Reno was only a short distance from my home, Coleville. But we kept neglecting our visit to them until it was too late, as Fer-Don and his medical staff had gone.

"Next we read about them in the Sacramento papers. Although we were over 250 miles away, we decided that the best thing to do would be to take Carrie to Sacramento to them. This we did, and one of the Medical Experts told us, a short time after our consultation, that Carrie's mind was undoubtedly affected, and her nervous condition was a great affliction, but he thought that with proper attention, care and treatment, a cure could be effected. We placed her under their care, and she took the first treatment that same day. That was about two weeks ago. Since then a gradual improvement has been noticed. Day after day we watched her carefully; day after day her mind appeared to grow brighter and clearer; the clouded brain seemed to awaken as if from a troubled sleep. Now, two weeks after our first visit to these wonderful physicians, her mind is almost normal. She runs and plays like other children, and appreciates and loves the sunshine, trees and flowers.

"Yesterday, Tuesday, February 15, we placed her in the St. Joseph convent, between F and G street, and I think she will soon be one of the brightest and best scholars there."

Busiest Office in Pendleton.

At the offices of Fer-Don's European medical experts and bloodless surgeons, at 637 Main street, many gather daily from all parts of the county. These physicians treat and cure all curable chronic and nervous complaints, remove tumors, cancers and gall stones without the use of a knife. Thousands of cured patients testify to the powers of the European experts to really cure when others have failed.

A number were waiting this morning when a reporter called, and while standing near the door witnessed the bringing in of the sick and afflicted. No exorbitant fees are asked, merely the nominal charge of $1 gives one a thorough examination and consultation with this wonderful man.

KING GEORGE AFTER NICE HOME MAINLY

London.—King George has, since he became king of England, only expressed one wish—that he may be given a decent London residence in which to receive royal guests from other countries, many of whom, and especially the kaiser, were always teasing King Edward about the ugliness of Buckingham Palace.

"Royal complaints of unfitness of the dirty old palace as a residence for the representative of the English nation are of very old date.

"I have come," said the late Queen Victoria once to a certain duchess, "from my house to your palace," and she was not exaggerating at all, for the sovereign of the world's greatest empire is indeed lodged worse than quite a few of his subjects.

Soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, is quickly relieved by the application of Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment is equally valuable for muscular rheumatism, and always affords quick relief. Sold by all dealers.

The world's most successful medicine for bowel complaints is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It has relieved more pain and suffering, and saved more lives than any other medicine in use. Invaluable for children and adults. Sold by all dealers.

Australia Studies Forestry.

Sydney, Australia.—Much attention has been paid to forestry recently. The Victorian department this winter will plant a million young pines, spruces, and hardwoods, and will sow 125,000 immediately. Probably 4,000,000 seedlings will be available in 1911. The New South Wales government now inserts reforestation clauses in its leases. It is taking this step to prevent undue destruction of the valuable pine and iron-bark belts when the Phillipa scrub is thrown open.

Nasal Catarrh, an inflammation of the delicate membrane lining the air-passages, is not cured by any mixtures taken into the stomach. Don't waste time on them. Take Ely's Cream Balm through the nostrils, so that the fevered, swollen tissues are reached at once. Never mind how long you have suffered nor how often you have been disappointed. We know Ely's Cream Balm is the remedy you should use. All druggists, 50c. Mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

An old adage might be revised to read: "Better be alone than marry someone whose temperaments are incompatible with yours."
