NORTHWEST NOTES

Says Wilson Riffed Clothing.

Walla Walla, Wash.—The police arrested Oscar Wilson, one of several occupants of a room in a lodging house at 6 o'clock Sunday morning. One of the lodgers gave the alarm which resulted in Wilson's arrest, claiming he woke to find Wilson rifling his clothes.

Candidate for Congress.

Olympia, Wash.—The announcement of the candidacy of Leigh Freeman of North Yakima for the United States senate, subject to the republican primaries, is on file with the secretary of state today. S. A. Mann of Spokane and A. E. Vaetch of Newport have filed as candidates for congress to succeed Polidexter.

Heat Hits Walla Walla Wheat.

Walla Walla, Wash.—The hot weather of the last week and a half will have its effect on the wheat crop. One prominent rancher, whose fields may be taken as a fair average, thinks a reduction of five bushels an acre in the spring grain will be the result. The winter wheat was too far advanced to be affected when the present hot spell struck.

Board Gives 34 Paroles.

Walla Walla, Wash.—The State Board of Pardons, just adjourned announced the results of their work as follows: Thirty-four paroles granted, 21 final releases and 2 conditional pardons. Following the regular custom, the names of the prisoners are not given out. These recommendations go to the governor for final action.

Build Stockade Near Selah.

North Yakima, Wash.—Washington's sub-penitentiary near North Yakima is nearing completion, carpenters having nearly finished the three buildings and stockade at the state quarry and crusher in Selah gap. Convicts will be brought from Walla Walla to finish up the crusher installations. The stockade is a few rods from the main traveled road between North Yakima and Selah.

Husum Apple Crop is Heavy.

Husum, Wash.—Statements of prospective apple crops from the older orchards in this vicinity of J. R. and P. B. McCracken, William Olson, J. E. Slade, E. Fish, Rosander Hendryx, J. D. Tilton and R. D. Cameron are flattering. Early apples are already on the market. Orchardists say the celebrated Spitzenbergs and Newtons in the White Salmon valley never looked better.

Pilotage Rates Are Cut.

Portland, Ore.—Pilotage for freight steamers entering the Columbia river has been cut in half. The new rate became effective Friday. The decision to slash rates was reached late Thursday at the regular meeting of the Port Commission. It is estimated that the deep sea freighters will save on an average of $150 for pilotage in and out of the river. The usual charge heretofore was $300.

A Wonderful Hen.

Portland, Ore.—The angler is always coming to the front with a "fish story" and the hunter with a "hunter's yarn," but here is a real, genuine, truthful story. Mrs. Lee of 521 Fifth street has one of the most industrious hens in the world. She is not a freak hen, but just a fine large, healthy half-breed

Buff Orpington, which is laying the largest eggs in the country and caring for chicks at the same time.

Mrs. Lee's prize hen has been laying eggs of the enormous size of eight and one-half inches long and six and one-half inches through.

Something over a month ago this wonderful hen came off with a brood of chicks. Since that time she has cared for the little ones and has laid 30 eggs in 30 days.

$30,000 Fire at Hoquiam.

Hoquiam, Wash.—Fire which threatened the destruction of the city hall and business section of the city was placed under control one hour later. The damage to the building in which the fire was confined will reach $30,000. On account of the small amount of water in the reservoir the department could not throw a stream 90 feet from the ground.

Child Horribly Burned.

Walla Walla, Wash.—A 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Degen of this city, was burned so severely Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock when she stepped upon a match that she will probably die.

Rushing to the kitchen where her mother was washing dishes, the child screamed for help. Mrs. Degen poured the contents of the dishpan upon the flames and rushed the girl to the bathtub and turned on the water, finally extinguishing the fire.

The mother was burned severely about the hands and arms, while her daughter, according to the physicians, is partially cooked from her knees to her head.

"Pinkeye" Delays March.

Walla Walla, Wash.—Pinkeye has invaded the stables of Port Walla Walla and so severe is the epidemic among the horses of the First Cavalry stationed there, that the departure for American Lake, scheduled for July 15, has been delayed until July 27.

Veterinarians are working hard with the animals, and it is reported that the worst of the disease has been passed, but the trouble has not yet been overcome, and it is with the customary precaution of the army that the delay is made.

While the disease is not so bad that the horses are entirely incapacitated, the long overland march to American Lake was considered too much for them, and the 12 days' delay is given in order that they may get into shape.

Farmers Hold Alfalfa.

Walla Walla, Wash.—Despite the fact that the first cutting of alfalfa has been made some time ago, there has been little shipped, less than 10 carloads, while the reports from surrounding towns indicate the activity is even less there.

Prices seem to be the trouble, and the offerings of $10 and $11 seems not to tempt growers, who are holding for $12 and 15, which, they say, they'll surely get. On the other hand, dealers question this, and state their belief that hay prices are bound to keep as low as at present.

They say that the demand now is keeping the price to the point where it is and that when the later countries begin to cut their second crops the offerings will bear the market down. Little baling has been done as yet; the price for this is set at $2 a ton.

Goldendale Has Blaze.

Goldendale, Wash.—Fire which started in W. P. McDowell's plumbing shop on East Main street at 2 o'clock Tuesday morning, destroyed that structure, the Young block, a brick structure, and Ryan's restaurant, causing $10,000 damage.

At 2:30 o'clock the fire was still burning, but as no wind was blowing the firemen expected soon to have it under control and prevent further damage.

The Young block was occupied by A. C. Chapman's furniture store. Most of the stock was saved before the flames reached the building. Mrs. Pat Ryan's restaurant, next door, was practically a total loss.

The firemen are expecting their engines to save the East End livery and adjoining buildings. The fire was discovered in the plumbing shop by a nightwatchman. The cause is unknown.

Helped a Little Boy.

O. C. Phillips, Mt. Vernon, Ill., has a little son who has been cured of weakness of kidney and bladder by the use of Foley Kidney Pills. "He was troubled with this annoying disorder ever since an infant. I heard that Foley Kidney Pills were good for that, and the first few doses showed a marked improvement, so we kept it up for several weeks until he had taken two bottles. He is now three years old. His kidneys and bladder are strong and regular and he is a healthy robust boy. I strongly recommend Foley Kidney Pills to parents whose children are so afflicted." Koeppen & Bros.

Leonold's Daughter to Wed.

Rome.—Princess Clementine, the youngest daughter of the late King Leopold of Belgium, in Turin on her arrival was welcomed at the station by Prince Victor Napoleon. The princess proceeded to a hotel, where the dowager Duchess of Aosta visited her.

It is stated that the marriage of Princess Clementine and Prince Victor Napoleon will take place shortly at Moncalieri castle, where the chapel has already been prepared. The ceremony will be of private character, as the bride is in mourning for her father.

means that man and wife have lived to a good old age and consequently have kept healthy. The best way to keep healthy is to see that your liver does its duty 365 days out of 365. The only way to do this is to keep Ballard's Herbine in the house and take it whenever your liver gets inactive. 50 cents a bottle. A. C. Koeppen & Bros.

Throws Self from Toy of Cathedral. Rome.—Con Robbiano, chaplain of an orphan boys' home, committed suicide by throwing himself from the top of Milan cathedral. The death was witnessed by the king of Italy's court chaplain, who happened to look on from the royal palace opposite.

PARIS BOULEVARDS' NEW IDOL WORSHIP

FASCINATED BY "GLORIOUS SADNESS" OF AN ACTRESS

Mlle. Lucie Lantelme Brings Impressive Parisians to Her Feet by Her Pensive Eyes—A New Method of Captivation.

Paris.—The boulevards have a new idol. It is Mlle. Lucie Lantelme, a little actress at the varieties. Paris has to have at least one new idol of idol. It is Mlle. Lucie Lantelme, a stepped into the place held by a long list of very wonderful French fascinations. But where others have won their throne, temporarily, of course, but none the less triumphantly, by dash and go and wit, the curve of a mouth, the shape of a head or the turn of an ear, Mlle. Lantelme has discovered a new charm.

It is her "glorious sadness" that has won her her place. Mlle. Lantelme's eyes are peculiar and pensive and she turns them upward so that a thin crescent of white appears under their luminous iris. It almost looks as though she would cry at a word. She has a sweet, ethereal sadness, although she weighs 135 pounds and seems well nourished. Pensive hangs over her like a mystic aura.

All this has set Parisians by the ears; it is so new and novel, and, withal, so charming.

So, when Mlle. Lantelme rides out in her demure carriage along the Bois de Boulogne the boulevardiers congregate upon each side and watch her as she passes. Sympathetic tears almost dim their eyes as they watch her sorrowful orbs staring directly in front and looking neither to the right nor to the left. For that is another charm of Mlle. Lantelme. She does not cast roguish glances at her admirers nor smile upon them sweetly. Instead, she always looks sorrowfully straight ahead.

Mlle. Lantelme is only twenty-three years old, but at twenty-five she may be a princess! Who knows. Perhaps that is what she is thinking about when she rides along the boulevard, with her sorrowful eyes cast down while Paris forgets the green hour to toss up its hats and shout its appreciation.

Mlle. Lantelme has set a sorrowful fashion. There are Lantelme mantles, Lantelme hats, Lantelme waists and Lantelme manners. A Lantelme devotee can be told by the pensive manner, the gentle signs and the modest shrinking which attends contact with the rougher humanity.

Yet Mlle. Lantelme's beauty is not that of a recluse. Indeed, it is a combination of a peculiarly luxurious and abstracting style with the sadness that brought the French to her feet. Parisian women, when they are very beautiful, often have that peculiarity which the French call "la beauté de Diabla." This does not mean that its possessor is wicked. Not at all, but that it is a very wicked sort of loveliness. Hence the fascination of the contrast.

So the Lantelme admirers haunt

SPECIAL NOTICE

Of Importance to the People of Pendleton.

the varieties, crowd the stage door and frequent the Avenue des Acacias in the Bois, where she drives in the afternoon, just to catch a fleeting glimpse of her.

It has been said that this lovely woman has set a good many fashions that American women are wearing without knowing their history. For instance, the fur-bordered shawl-like mantle of velvet edged with fur that is seen in one of the photographs of her designing, and she was the first to wear it. One sees any number of them in New York, for it was a style that immediately caught the feminine fancy.

The wearing of the hair in a deep-waved bang or fringe quite to the eye-brows was her invention and the little turban wound about the hair was also her idea.

It is predicted by the great French critics that she will be the greatest French actress of the decade; that she will stand forth as Rejane and Bernhardt have, for she has all the qualities of a great artist, and she has gone straight forward along the way to success. No modern actress, in fact, ever fell into such a bed of roses as she has or had the way swept wide open for her. Some might fancy that to have things made so easy for her would cause her to lose that sad look; but no, she is too well balanced to have her head turned by flattery or sudden success.

Ah, what an inspiration was her "glorious sadness."

A cold, a strain, a sudden wrench. A little cause may hurt the kidneys. Spells of backache often follow. Or some irregularity of the urine. A certain remedy for such attacks. A medicine that answers every call. Is Doan's Kidney Pills, a true specific.

Many Pendleton people rely on it. Here is Pendleton proof.

Mrs. E. J. Meiners, 501 Lewis street, Pendleton, Oregon, says: "About two years ago a cold settled on my kidneys and caused backache and pains through my loins. I felt lame and sore and any movement such as stooping or lifting was accompanied by sharp twinges. While I was suffering in that way, Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention and I procured a box. They gave me relief at once and I had not used them long before my trouble was entirely removed. I know that this remedy is one of great merit and consequently I do not hesitate to recommend it." (Statement given October 10, 1905.)

Time Is the Test.

Mrs. Meiners was interviewed on May 17, 1910, and she said: "I still hold Doan's Kidney Pills in high esteem and I am pleased to again say a good word for them. I have taken this preparation recently and it has done good work."
